

VISITORS HAVE GOOD TIME IN CONSTANTINOPLE

Betting on Cockroach Races is the Latest Form of Gambling.

ALL KINDS OF SPORTS FLOURISH

Bathing a la Natural Favored by Russian Refugees from the Black Sea.

Constantinople, June 8.—Betting on cockroach races is one of the newest sports here. It was introduced by a Russian who has just opened a hall where a man who wants some real excitement for his money can get results.

The hall is darkened at the moment the race is to begin. Then a single electric light at the end of a runway is turned on, and the cockroaches, each in a separate track, are let loose from their cages to race for the light.

Much Amateur Sport.

More real, old-fashioned, non-professional sport may be had here than in any other city of Europe. This is due in part to the Allied troops of occupation, to the American officers and sailors on station here, and the large number of American and British civilians who have come out for business since the armistice.

What the Russian refugees have done in the way of enlivening the city with concerts, dancing places and queer restaurants, the other Allies have done in sporting lines.

In winter there is wild boar, duck and fox hunting. There is also, in and out of season, plenty of horseback riding over the dirt roads and unfenced stretches of upland country on both sides of the Bosphorus. Horse races are often held.

Both the British and the Americans have laid out golf courses. There are also a few tennis courts.

The troops and sailors within the city have taken charge of a large field near Taxim, in the center of Pera and there play football and baseball matches. Yachting and swimming are commonplace sports open to all.

Chicken Fights Flourish.

The Russians from the Black Sea, who are accustomed to bathe naked, have increased the popularity of the beaches, especially a fine strip of sand on the Marmara north shore known as Florida. There, without let or hindrance, men, women and children, undress on the open beach and bathe in costumes that seem quite conventional here.

The Turks have contributed chicken fights to the international sports.

Germany Hands Over More Money

Payment of Sum Said to be $14,300,000 Made Yesterday on Account.

New York, June 8.—The German government made another payment yesterday of several million dollars towards the Allied reparations account. The exact figures were not revealed by officials of the federal reserve bank, to whom the money was turned over to the credit of the Bank of England and the Bank of France. It was reported in Wall street that the sum was approximately $14,300,000.

An official of the bank who declined to state the amount said, however, he thought this was an over estimate.

With yesterday's operations bringing the total payments to approximately $50,000,000, it was said that an additional $30,000,000 remained to be paid on this side by Germany in accordance with the schedule announced in Berlin.

Going Higher.

An American and an Englishman were discussing the merits of their respective parents.

"Ah," said the Yankee, "I guess my father was a clever man. He was a chimney shaft builder and made himself famous with the last shaft he erected."

"Oh, indeed!" remarked the Englishman, wondering.

"Sure thing," continued the American. "It was so high that when the weathercock became stuck the man who went up to put it right had to take a week's rations for the journey."

"Oh, ho!" laughed the Englishman. "That's nothing. My father was also a shaft builder, and the last one he built was so high he had to go up every night and take the top off to let the moon go by."

"Tiz" Puts Joy In Sore, Aching Feet

"My, how 'Tiz' gladdens tired, swollen, burning feet—
It's glorious!"

Ah! what relief. No more tired feet; no more burning feet; no more swollen, aching, tender, sweaty feet. No more soreness in corns, callouses, bunions.

No matter what ails your feet or what under the sun you've tried without getting relief, just use "Tiz."

"Tiz" is the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet. "Tiz" cures your foot trouble so you'll never limp or draw up your face in pain. Your shoes won't seem tight and your feet will never, never hurt or get sore and swollen. Think of it, no more foot misery, no more agony from corns, callouses or bunions.

Get a box at any drug store or department store and get instant relief. Wear smaller shoes. Just once try "Tiz." Get a whole year's foot comfort for only a few cents. Think of it.

Invoke Image To End Drought

Traditional Practice to be Followed by Mexicans in the Present Emergency.

Mexico City, June 8.—The image of the Virgin de los Remedios was removed last night from the small village of Los Remedios, near the city, to the cathedral here, where it will be exposed for several days while devotions are held to end the drought, which has reached serious proportions.

Thousands of persons followed the image to the cathedral, where a solemn ceremony was held, presided over by the Archbishop of Mexico. This is the first time that the image has been removed in many years.

Mexico City is threatened with the closing down of the lighting system as a result of the drought. The impending danger at Mexico City, reported to contain water sufficient for only a few more weeks. The city has been on a water ration for some time. There is much illness.

In years past when drought or epidemic has threatened Mexico City the statue of the Virgin de los Remedios has been taken at the head of an impressive procession to Mexico City, there to be received by the archbishop and the clergy and members of the city council.

The statue usually stands in the small but celebrated Church of Our Lady of Remedios, in the village of Villa Juarez, a short distance from Mexico City. It is of wood and believed to have been carved with a dull pen knife many years ago by an Indian craftsman.

In the arms of the Virgin is the infant Jesus.

DISSENTION IS RIFE AMONG THE FRENCH UNIONS

Communists and Moderates in Conflict for Possession of the Funds.

Paris, June 8.—The split in the railwaymen's union following the victory of the Communists in the convention last Thursday, when a motion for syndical direction of the organization was adopted, has resulted in an animated conflict over possession of the union's funds and headquarters. Although the Communists outvoted the moderates in the convention, the latter still hold the regular organization. The Communists have succeeded in gaining possession of the union's building, but Secretary Bidgway has succeeded in putting the union's treasury out of reach of the extremists.

Disruption Feared.

Disruption not only of the railwaymen's union, but of the General Federation of Labor, is predicted in labor circles here as a result of the extremists' success. The federation still has become effective in the Socialist party and the railwaymen's union exists in a latent state in the organization, one of the strongest elements of which, the union labor organization of the Seine, is in the hands of extremists.

Membership Decreasing.

One result of the growth of Communist influence is the decreased membership of the labor unions. The railwaymen, who numbered 300,000 votes at the convention, preceding last year's strike, registered only 100,000 at the convention which ended Thursday in the Communist victory.

Leon Jouhaux's resignation as secretary of the General Federation of Labor, which frequently has been announced, now is said to be imminent. Such action is regarded in labor circles as likely to mark the final capitulation of the moderates and a wide split in all the labor organizations of France.

His New Suit Stolen, Bather Turns Sprinter

New York, June 8.—Joseph Ryan, 37, found the limpid water of the Bronx River an irresistible attraction yesterday afternoon, so he hung his brand new suit on the nearest hook or limb and plunged in. When Joseph emerged a few minutes later the suit was missing.

He put on his underwear and his shoes while a friend went in search of a policeman. Policeman Keller, man of Simpson street station suggested that Joseph don a barrel. Joseph objected, and besides there was no barrel. Then the resourceful Keller man marked a large figure "2" on the back and front of the upper part of Joseph's lingerie, rolled down his socks and told him to take the middle of the road.

Joseph had marathoned half the way to his home at 887 Hunts Point avenue, and was getting away with it, when he met his friend returning with another coat and trousers. The next time Joseph takes a dip in the river he is going to chain his wardrobe to a tree.

One-Sided.

Mike had saved up a little money, and when Pat came over a few years later the two brothers went into the coal business. One day Mike bought a roll-top desk, and when it arrived he said to Pat: "The one desk will do for the two of us. And here are two keys, one for you, Pat, and one for me."

Pat accepted the key, but seemed to be studying the desk.

"That's all right, Mike," he said, "but where is my keyhole?"

Buckshot In Heart Trifle To This Boy

Wounded in Play May 1,
Twelve Year Old N. J. Lad
Leaves Hospital.

New York, June 8.—Alive with seven pellets of buckshot in the muscles of his heart and apparently suffering slight, if any, ill effects, is the remarkable case of 12-year-old Lawrence Setterfield, of Bloomingdale, N. J., according to doctors of the Paterson General Hospital.

The boy was accidentally shot on May 1. He left the hospital yesterday, having prevailed on his parents and the staff doctors to let him do so, declaring he was all right and did not want to stay indoors any longer.

His pleading won the consent of the attending surgeons, but not before a further X-ray examination was made.

The result showed the pellets all remaining in the muscles of the heart. They could be seen moving around when the boy was taking long breaths, according to the statement made yesterday by Dr. Samuel Thompson, of the hospital staff.

On Sunday, May 1, the boy, with his two cousins, Thompson Totman, 6 years old, and William Yattman, 14 years old, were playing "bandit" with an old shotgun. It was the old story, "we did not know it was loaded." The gun in the hands of Thompson, youngest of the three, was discharged. Part of the load of shot struck Wm. Yattman in the left leg and a scattering of the shot penetrated Lawrence Setterfield's left side, lodging in the heart muscles.

London, June 8.—Lawyers for Sir John Ellerman have written to the Morning Post to contradict the story that he had joined with John Walter to acquire the control of the London Times.

Irish Terrier Saves Horse Trainer's Life

Attacks Savage That Sank Teeth in Master's Back in the Stable.

New York, June 8.—Chief is an Irish terrier with an Irish terrier's heart.

Sergeant Mortimer James Murphy is a trainer of race horses, and though a very small man he carried a gun in France with the boldness of a giant. He owns Chief.

At Belmont Park yesterday morning Chief saved his master's life.

Jock Scott, a fair sprinter, but a savage at heart, was in ugly humor and viciously attacked his trainer when he went into the stall. He threw Murphy down, planted one foot on his body, and, tearing the clothes on

CALL TO CALIFORNIA

Chatham, June 8.—Rev. Dr. E. B. Wythe, of St. Andrew's Church, has received a call to the pastorate of First Presbyterian church, San Diego (Cal.). The call comes from a large congregation with a membership of about twelve hundred communicants. The minister of the congregation is provided with a staff of assistants in the several departments of the work. The call is accompanied with a guarantee of $4,500 annual stipend.

Three or four stable hands rushed for clubs or pitchforks to beat off the horse, but the Irish terrier waited for nothing. He flew at Jock Scott, grabbed him by the nose and shook it as he would shake a rat.

The infuriated horse turned his attention to the dog long enough for Murphy to crawl painfully to safety. He was not seriously injured.

REWARD NOT YET PAID.

Toronto, June 8.—There has been nothing decided so far, but the matter is being carefully considered," stated Attorney-General Ramsey today, when asked if the reward for Garfield's apprehension had been paid.

There are five applicants, and it is more than likely that the $1,000 will be divided among them.

As far as can be ascertained, the applicants are Mrs. Applebe, of Stouffville, the three men who made the arrest, and one other woman. All the affidavits have been filed and are being gone over by the Deputy Attorney-General.
