

THE SEMI-WEEKLY TELEGRAPH, ST. JOHN, N. B., NOVEMBER 2, 1901.

LOCAL AND PROVINCIAL.

Agley has purchased W. H. Allen's handsome driving mare.

It is announced that George W. McGurney, ex-M. P. for Kent, will remove to the city early in November.

Fathers Hamill and Bader are conducting a brief mission for the people of St. Bridget's church, Chapel Grove. On Monday his Lordship Bishop Casey accompanied by Fathers Feeney and Woods, visited the mission.

Rev. C. T. Phillips, of Waterloo street Free Baptist church, supplied the pulpit at the Free Baptist church at Norton on Sunday and Rev. B. G. Francis, pastor of St. John, supplied at Waterloo street. Mr. Phillips also gave some readings in the Norton church on Sunday evening.

The work of stripping the salmon at the West End pond commenced Tuesday. Messrs. McTuskey, Alex. Mowatt and L. Sheaverson are the experts in charge. A large number of the fish were relieved of their spaw yesterday. There were in the pond this season over 1,200 fish. The first seine was hauled on Monday. The trips averaged 110 bundles of fish per day for the four days.

The Star line has done its record business in the first four days of this week. The line has brought down river in the last 24 hours 200 barrels of apples and potatoes and 200 barrels of hay. Thursday 578 barrels of apples and potatoes were brought down. The trips averaged 110 bundles of hay a day for the four days.

The last return filed at the Mines office, Halifax from E. & C. Thompson's mine, at Renfrew, shows the yield from April to August 30, to have been 280 oz. 1 dwt., from 180 tons quartz crushed. There was no crushing done during May, June, and July. The value of the gold mentioned is $5,492.

It is stated in C. P. R. circles, says the Winnipeg Telegram, that the fine steamer Yarmouth, running between Halifax and Boston, will be purchased by the company to replace the lost steamer Islander. Should the purchase of the Yarmouth be concluded she will be at once taken around the Horn to the Pacific coast during the winter.

A special meeting of the Agricultural Society directors was held Wednesday afternoon, when a report was received regarding the recent fair held at Moose Head, showing it to have resulted in a most satisfactory manner. It was decided to pay the prize winners on or after November 12. The meeting adjourned until the last Thursday of November, when the annual meeting will be held.

A. B. Pickett, brother of H. H. Pickett, and formerly an architect here, is now eastern manager of the James Atchison Publishing Co., Toronto, trade journal publishers. He recently was instrumental in organizing the Rubber, Boot and Shoe Jobbers Association of Canada and is the association's secretary. The association presented him with a watch, solid gold chain and chain in appreciation of his work.

Mrs. McDonald, wife of Rev. G. W. McDonald, of Brown's Plains, is confined to her residence with an attack of rheumatic fever brought about in a painful manner. Last week Mrs. McDonald was taken a walk through the grove at the Plains when she had an attack of heart trouble which prostrated her and left her so weak that she was unable to reach her home. She lay in the grove from 2 o'clock until 8:30 in the evening, when she was found by some one from the summer hotel. The exposure brought on a rheumatic attack.

Capt. Gale, of the schooner Myra B., which sailed from here for Boston, was taken ill at Machiasport with pneumonia and on Monday afternoon telegraphed the owners of the vessel, Messrs. Cottle & Colwell, to send a doctor to take her to Boston. Tuesday afternoon Capt. Munro left for Machiasport for that purpose and in the evening a second telegraph came from Capt. Gale to the effect that if a captain had not already been secured none need be sent. Consequently his condition is not regarded as serious. A letter received by Capt. Gale's family stated he was not seriously ill.

The average individual standing beside the arch on King street was not less than the height of the arch, and the height of it, but using it as a basis for calculation one can readily realize the height of land upon which the city stands. From the highest point, west of King street, one can see east to be upon a level a little higher than the globe surrounding the arch, and it is readily noticeable that the height of the arch is less than the height of its base above tide water. Consequently if the land were cut away to the height of land east of Sydney street, there would be a cliff more than twice the height of the arch from the ground.

Hon. A. C. C. LaRiviere, M. P. for Provence, Manitoba, was in the city yesterday, and during his short visit inspected many different portions of the city. He stated to The Telegraph that he was well pleased with St. John and was very much surprised at the size of the city, its buildings and industries. Being from the west, he was naturally much interested in the harbor and shipping facilities and he stated that these were far beyond his anticipations, although he only viewed a small part of them. He said: "I have seen enough to satisfy me and that I will require to visit the maritime provinces next year and become familiar with the capabilities of the different towns." Mr. LaRiviere left by the Quebec express Tuesday evening.

About 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon an individual considerably under the influence of liquor, visited the establishment of the King's Daughters on Chipman's Hill and made himself very obnoxious to the ladies who were there. After several attempts to get clear of the fellow without success, two of the ladies went out to call the police, but did not go far when they met a gentleman who went with them and succeeded in inducing the disturbing element to withdraw, going with a considerable distance from the intersection. Later the gentleman who had rescued the ladies went back and told the ladies that if they would they might ring up (M. E. Agar's office), and in that way that the ladies know that it was to Mr. Agar's thanks were due.

DEAD NUMBER THREE

Two More Deaths from Smallpox Occur.

ONE UP THE RIVER.

Lemuel Sprague, of Hatfield's Point, died Monday night—Miss DeBow, of City Road, Passed Away Wednesday—Condition of Patients in the City.

Two more deaths have resulted from smallpox. Lemuel Sprague, of Hatfield's Point, died at midnight Monday, and Miss DeBow passed away Wednesday morning, at her home, corner of Delhi street and City road.

Miss DeBow was 26 years of age. She had, as stated, been an invalid and her weakened condition made her less able to withstand the attack of smallpox. The interment of the remains of Miss DeBow was made in the Church of England cemetery Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock. Under the supervision of Dr. Morris the arrangements for the burial were carried out. The body was bound in a sheet saturated with a strong solution of carbolic and encased in a metallic coffin. To the cemetery the remains were conveyed in the epidemic hospital ambulance. None accompanied except two colored men and Rev. J. de Soyres, who performed the funeral services. After the burial of Miss DeBow, Rev. Mr. de Soyres returned to the DeBow residence on City Road.

During Tuesday, Mrs. DeBow, mother of the girl, asked that a clergyman be sent to the house. Rev. W. O. Raymond, of St. Mary's church, where the DeBow family attend, was notified, as was Rev. J. de Soyres. At a meeting of the board of health was decided that but one clergyman from a denomination would be allowed to visit the patients and that this clergyman selected should attend to the cases of the epidemic hospital. A meeting of the Church of England clergyman was held and while Rev. W. O. Raymond was anxious to attend to the wants of Miss DeBow, he was unable to do so, as he was attending to the wants of the other patients in the epidemic hospital.

Wednesday night, Dr. Morris visited Rev. Mr. de Soyres and after having him under precautionary measures, released him. After his release the reverend gentleman went to his study in the school house and he would find a reporter called and asked him for an explanation relative to the published statement that he did not observe a quarantine regulation after entering the DeBow home. He said:

"I desire to contradict the statement in tonight's Globe with regard to an alleged breach of the quarantine rules. I was throughout with the full cognizance of Dr. Morris and the sentry at City Road. The first intimation I received was when I received it from Dr. Ellis at that institution."

Rev. Mr. de Soyres added that he was released by the board of health, which did not feel in a position to accept his return to the epidemic hospital. He will remain at St. John's school house for the present.

Smallpox has appeared with fatal effect in the country, and the death at Hatfield's Point, Monday night, of Lemuel Sprague, aged 60 years, a farmer and a lifelong resident of the place.

Indications are that Mr. Sprague contracted the disease in this city, where he remained a day and night, about three weeks ago, putting up for the night at the house of E. V. Wetmore, a stair builder, at 142 City road, a short distance from the epidemic hospital. Mr. Sprague returned to his home the next day, and he was released by the board of health, and necessarily brief. He made both journeys by steamer, and as far as can be learned was healthy when he returned to his home. The local physician, it is stated, treated him for back measles.

On Monday Dr. Bishop, of Norton, was called, and upon examining the patient pronounced it to be a fully developed case of smallpox. Dr. Wetmore, chairman of the board of health, was immediately notified by Dr. Bishop, but their efforts were vain. Mr. Sprague died about midnight. Both physicians remained with him from their arrival in the afternoon until the burial was made early Tuesday morning. Prompt action was taken by the authorities to stay contagion, all households which had had any intercourse with the Sprague family being quarantined and the occupants vaccinated, a precaution which was not taken any too early, for many of Mr. Sprague's friends had been visiting him in their ignorance of his disease. Mr. Sprague was a deacon in the Free Baptist church. He leaves a wife and seven children, five sons and two daughters.

on about the highest part of Wright street. Inspector Howard, on Tuesday, was instructed to investigate the Gilbert's Lane lockup where George Ryder was placed Monday night, having escaped from one of the houses under quarantine.

At the epidemic hospital there are now eight victims of the disease under the care of Dr. W. L. Ellis, who is at present in the epidemic hospital. The school volunteered to go to the epidemic and assist the two already there. Those who volunteered are Miss Marion Smith and Miss Ida Smith, who belong to the city. There is private telephone communication between the general and epidemic hospitals and word yesterday from Dr. Ellis stated that all his patients were suffering from a mild type of the disease.

Dr. Morris, who is attending Miss Fawcett, the only case now outside the epidemic hospital, is also suffering from a mild form of the disease. So far there is only one Roman Catholic patient, Mrs. McCarthy, who is at present in the epidemic hospital. She was attended by Rev. Father Walsh at her home on Wall street, this being done under both of health regulations and under precautions. Permission has been given to the school trustees to allow one of the priests to attend and should the epidemic continue it will make the necessary arrangements. A permit of the chairman of the health board would have to be had.

The board of health is willing that each denomination should appoint one clergyman, who, on promising to provide proper clothing and to observe prescribed precautions, will be permitted to see those in quarantine who desire their services. No clergyman will be permitted to live in the epidemic hospital.

The school trustees have excluded from the High School a sister of Fred Grant, who has the disease in Cambridge, Mass., after leaving here.

The American consul now gives foul bills of health to vessels leaving the port. Orders have been given by the police magistrate to admit no one to the court room excepting those having business there. Another order was given that no protectionists be sheltered in the police cells.

At a meeting of the board of health Thursday last vaccination was decided on, but the details remain to be arranged. As many physicians as are required have offered their services for the work and the city will be divided into districts, and the physicians assigned. For each person vaccinated the board of health will pay 25 cents and supply the vaccine. Under the present conditions the estimated cost of the epidemic is costing the municipality something like $800 a week. The board of health is anxious to keep the epidemic hospital under normal conditions the maximum assessment for the Board of Health is $3,000, but there is provision to assess for more in an emergency like the present one, which demands an extra expenditure by the board of directors. On this point, Dr. Morris vaccination is established, the expenditure will double; while it is carried on.

From figures obtained from wholesale druggists 1,500 cases of vaccine have been sold since the outbreak. This quantity is equivalent to 15,000 vaccinations, but an estimate of the number of people who have been vaccinated is at 10,000. Thursday the local demand for vaccine slackened in the country districts. There have been rumors about that the schooner Myra B., upon which the sailor Brown had smallpox, and that the disease had been spread from clothing on board and not disinfected after being released from quarantine. On this point, Dr. Morris relates to The Telegraph:

"The schooner was thoroughly disinfected three times while in quarantine. More than this, the crew were taken to the island and bathed and with them their clothing thoroughly fumigated every second day during the 22 days they were in quarantine. Some persons in St. John have been inspired with the idea that vaccination certificates are necessary to their freedom of the King's Daughters. This notion is entirely erroneous, as none of the transportation authorities consider the few cases here as at all threatening any restriction of travel."

In Ottawa 13 cases of smallpox have broken out since Sunday. Altogether there are about 30 cases in the capital. Ten cases were discovered in Boston, this week, making a total of 104 for the year.

SALMON STRIPPING.

A. Ogden, of Bedford, N.S., Hatchery, Here to Take Away Eggs Obtained from Fish in Carleton Pond.

Alfred Ogden, of the fishery hatchery at Bedford, N.S., arrived in the city Thursday. He will take to the Carleton pond, where experts are stripping the pond, where experts are stripping the pond, where experts are stripping the pond.

There are, in the Carleton pond, over 1,200 salmon.

Firewards of Sussex Ask Citizens for $5,000 for Water Purposes.

Sussex, Oct. 29.—(Special)—A meeting was called by the fire wards tonight to discuss the question of raising money in which they asked the citizens to vote in securing a water supply. A motion was carried, adjourning the meeting for three weeks and the wards were asked to secure a report as to the cost from a competent engineer other than the one now employed by the board.

Golden Wedding.

At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. David Roberts, Albert street, about 70 friends and relatives assembled Tuesday night to celebrate the 50th anniversary of their wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts were the recipients of many tokens of esteem from the United States and a purse of gold and several beautiful remembrances from friends in St. John and vicinity. After the presentation and addresses, a sumptuous repast was served and games indulged in until the early hours of this morning. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Roberts join in wishing the genial couple many more years of happiness.

Say, Jack!

That's a swell looking Overcoat you have on—mind telling me where you got it?

I got it at Henderson, Hunt & McLaughlin's.

I'd like to have one about like it—mind telling me what it cost? "Of course not, $9.00." "Great Scott, I would have guessed $15.00, for it is a beauty."

"Are there any left?" "Yes, but you had better get one quick for they will all be closed out very soon—everybody likes them."

We have a nice range of Overcoats, prices $4.90 to 15.00.

Your Money Back if Not Satisfied.

ASSOCIATED CHARITIES.

The Second Annual Meeting—Favorable Outlook for the Winter—Election of Officers and Other Business.

The second annual meeting of the Associated Charities met Tuesday night in the Y. M. C. A. parlors, with President Fisher in the chair, and quite a large attendance of representative citizens present to lend encouragement to those interested in the work. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Hall, and adopted by the meeting. President Fisher explained the motives of the association and told of its development under the fostering care of the members.

A comprehensive annual report was read by the secretary, Mrs. Hall, and showed that the year had been done by the society during the year in the way of dispensing charity. The board meetings were held, one special meeting and weekly conferences, which proved very helpful to the workers. Applications for help numbered 467, and were divided as follows: Seeking aid, 250; asking employment, 237, making a total of 497. Of the 250 seeking relief, 45 were female, 24 doubtful or indolent, 32 were of the King's Daughters. The remaining 145 were cared for by the Associated Charities.

Of the 237 asking employment, 145 were provided with work; 23 recommended to employers, leaving 62 unprovided for. Relief was obtained from the following churches: Trinity, St. John's, St. Paul's, Baptist, Unitarian, Stone church, Main street Baptist, Queen square Methodist, W. C. T. U., Turnhill fund, Doonick's Circle of the King's Daughters, Glad Tidings soup kitchen, St. Vincent de Paul, Alms House commissioners, St. Andrew's, St. Stephen's, Catechists and others. Daily interest in the work is growing, the citizens being quick to recognize the benefits of the mutual organization.

The treasurer's annual report was then read and proved a source of congratulation to the members. There is a small balance on hand, after paying the secretary's salary of $200 and other incidental expenses.

Mrs. J. N. Golding, of the visitors' committee, read a most interesting report and emphasized the question of indiscriminate giving. The report was comprehensive and broad in its views and was listened to with much interest.

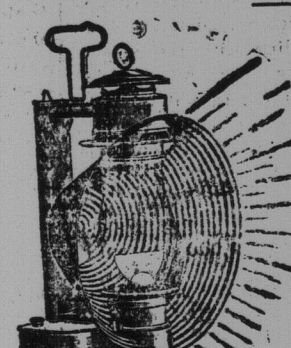

The greater part of the evening was devoted to brief speeches by clergymen and others, everyone endorsing the work and many offering suggestions to make its operation more extensive and efficient in the future. Among the speakers were Rev. W. C. Gaynor, who offered the hearty co-operation of St. John's Baptist church, and who came as a representative of the King's Daughters. Glad Tidings soup kitchen, St. Vincent de Paul, Alms House commissioners, St. Andrew's, St. Stephen's, Catechists and others. Daily interest in the work is growing, the citizens being quick to recognize the benefits of the mutual organization.

The election of officers resulted as follows: W. S. Fisher, president; Mrs. Ellis, Mrs. Stetson, Mrs. Jas. Reynolds and Rev. Mr. Steel, vice-presidents; Mrs. Thos. Walker, Mrs. E. A. Smith, Mrs. J. W. Bennett, Judge Ritchie, Judge Forbes and Thomas Ballock were appointed a board of directors.

The Associated Charities will likely extend its membership this winter. The meeting was most interesting and augurs well for a winter's work of more than ordinary activity.

St. Joseph's College Notes.

St. Joseph's Memorial hall last evening for the first venture of the students into the minstrel world. No one left disappointed. While all the singers merit mention, Messrs. Bradley, Togue, Nolan and McQuaskey, as end men, brought down the house. Mr. Togue, a student from Lowell, responded to three encores for his xylophone. A delightful French farce brought to a close a pleasant evening, and the boys are open for congratulations today.

St. Joseph's football team will have here next Wednesday to try conclusions with the U. N. B. Thursday. Our team is not weak; and while we hardly expect to win, we venture to hope that the game will not be altogether one-sided.
