LETTERS TO THE EUITOR.

A Good Word for the Deaf and Dumb. To the Editor of The Telegraph:

Sir .- It must be a source of great pai to the many intelligent and sensitive deaf persons in the country to read the coments made by ignorant but in some cases well-measuring people with regard to what is called the deaf and dumb inquiry in Fredericton. The vile slander indulged in by some of the defendants who were ac tuated by personal motives is unworthy of notice. Every intelligent man and wo man knows or ought to know that a deaf ohikd differs in no respect from another child, and with the exception that it cannot hear is thy scally and mentally their equal, and given the same advantages will develop as bright an intellect, as keen sense of right and wrong, as truthful an beautiful a character as its hearing broth ers and ssters. Of course heredity environment and edu-cation influence them as it influences us They are not all intelligent or truthful o good, just as people who hear are not all intelligent or truthful or good. But the majority are, and to make an assertion to the contrary in the one case is just as envecping a falsehood as in the other.

Talmage said that some of the most rare and beautiful souls that the world has ever seen have had their ears closed to earth'y discord and the first music they yould ever hear would be the melody of heaven.

Who has not felt the inspiration of He'en Keller's beautiful hile and, althoug ther cars are closed to earthly sounds an her eyes veiled to earthly sights, the bri liant mind has won the admiration of th world.
