HER MILLIONS ONLY A NUISANCE

Mrs. Russell Sage Will Give Them Away to Prevent Annoyance

NO ENDOWMENTS

Doubts Advisability of Giving to Churches, as It Makes Congregations Indifferent—Will Commence Distribution Soon to Worthy Persons.

New York, Nov. 13—Reports that the widow of Russell Sage meant to use her many millions of dollars to endow a home for aged teachers and in a fund to educate young men for the church have drawn from Mrs. Sage the first definite statement of her wishes and purposes.

She announced that the thousands who have besieged her in important questions—thousands who stretch from college presidents to ordinary street beggars—have wasted their time. She will have none of them. Further, she is loath to endow church or institution, feeling that the absence of need brings lack of activity for good.

Mrs. Sage means to distribute and within a short time, evidently, the bulk of her fortune will be given to worthy persons, as far as possible, to individuals, avoiding institutions, and to those who she believes to be the most good.

"I do not as a rule believe in endowments," said Mrs. Sage. "I look on churches and other endowed institutions as absolutely dead. They are endowments put them beyond the necessity for work, thus making them indifferent and negligent along the lines where Christian interest should do the most good."

"I mean to give to those whom I believe worthy and deserving of aid the bulk of the fortune left me by my husband, and I mean to give it to live on comfortably. Then perhaps I may no longer be annoyed as I now am."

SOUNDS WARNING TO HOUSE OF LORDS

Augustine Birrell Intimates They Better Reconsider Their Action Over Education Bill.

Bristol, Eng., Nov. 13—In a speech delivered here tonight, Augustine Birrell, president of the board of education, said the education bill, as reconstructed in the house of lords, was a sheer impossibility.

As the measure came before the house of commons it was unobjectionable, but the lords had fostered and bolstered up denunciations.

Birrell said he hoped the lords would recognize, during the committee stage of the bill, that they had gone too far and that a Liberal government could not be carried on by the government's uncertainty if measures prepared in accordance with its pledges were mutilated and destroyed by an unrepresentative assembly.

London, Nov. 14—The Liberal papers this morning comment upon the speech of Augustine Birrell, president of the Board of Education, at Bristol last night as an intimation on behalf of the government to the House of Lords. The Tribune declares the education bill is the last effort that will be made to reconcile popular control with religious education, and avers that if the present bill is destroyed, it will be to substitute not a denominational but a secular system of religious education.

CLARENCE SPEARS HELD FOR MURDER OF EDGAR WAY

Liverpool, N. S., Nov. 13—Clarence Spears was remanded for trial at the Supreme Court next June for the murder of Edgar Way. A number of people were with religious education, and avers that if the present bill is destroyed, it will be to substitute not a denominational but a secular system of religious education.

Dr. Kedd's gave evidence as to the wounds—cut behind the ear, bruise under the chin and a bullet wound in the temple, coming out the jaw bone.

Mr. Macdonald, K. C., counsel for the defendant, put Police Constable Power through a searching cross-examination, as he did all the witnesses.

Justice Chamberlain didn't remember a Pistol saying to Power that he never fired a Pistol.

Nathaniel Dunlap said he was at Lewis Harlow's store when the train went by and went right home. On enquiry his daughter had told him it was a quarter to nine, and that Spears came in right after him.

Miss Eva Dunlap said that it was a quarter to nine when Spears came in, that he had a lunch and went to bed at about 10.30. She said Spears didn't appear near.

Spears had said he had heard a noise while walking and that it had made him skitter. The evidence of the Dunlaps was much in Spears' favor, and Crown Prosecutor Mack was unable to weaken it.

If Harburn's evidence of seeing a man at the shack lighting his pipe at 9 o'clock is true, Spears could be held murdered.

Way and be at Dunlap's at 8.45. This was thought to be a very strong point favoring Spears. By consent of counsel Spears wrote a statement that he had borrowed a revolver, but had returned it last March to its owner.

After the evidence was in Mr. McLean reviewed the case and said there was nothing against the prisoner. Mr. Mack replied by stating the points against the prisoner.

As the court will not sit until June, Mr. McLean will likely apply for a special session.

SURE THROAT

and hoarseness with their attendant dangers may be speedily averted and remedied by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. It is ten times better than mustard plaster and more convenient for the outside, and readily allows inflammation to subside. It is ten times better than any other remedy that penetrates the tissues instantly, soothes the pain and cures simply because it's what it's made for. Druggists sell it at 25c per bottle.

CALIFORNIA SNORTS AT FEDERAL INTERFERENCE

Will Not Permit Japanese Pupils to Attend Public Schools—None of the Little Brownies Now Being Educated Are Less Than Twenty Years, and Many of Them Thirty Years of Age.

San Francisco, Nov. 13—Secretary of Commerce and Labor Victor H. Metcalf, who was sent to San Francisco by President Roosevelt to investigate the exclusion of Japanese children from the schools attended by whites, has concluded his work and will depart for Washington to make his report. Secretary Metcalf has heard complaints of boycotting of Japanese restaurants and other places of business; investigated cases of assault on Japanese; and the numerous street brawls between Japanese and white boys. Secretary Metcalf declined to say what conclusions he had reached, or to make any statement until he has made his report to the president.

There is no more doubt that the school board of San Francisco intends to stand by its guns in the matter of compelling Japanese residents to attend separate schools than there is in this case. The board will be backed up overwhelmingly by the public sentiment of this city and the State of California. Behind San Francisco in this matter, but the entire Pacific seaboard is behind California as well. There is no question whatever that the feeling against the Japanese is a rising fact. It is already very nearly as strong as the sentiment that forced the passage of the Chinese exclusion act. The Chinese population is actually decreasing in California, while the Japanese population is increasing by leaps.

As to any suggestion of practical Federal interference San Francisco is more than spunky. She is positively impatient. "Secretary Metcalf," says one of the most conservative of the local papers, "is not a United States official, entitled to any information whatever in regard to our schools. What is given is given as a matter of courtesy. In short, the general tone of public opinion here is that the treatment meted out to the Japanese regarding school accommodations is none of the federal government's business. California does not intend that President Roosevelt really intends to take up seriously. She believes that the sending of Secretary Metcalf here, ostensibly to investigate and report, is merely a harmless and empty way of soothing the Japanese ire."

California snorts at the notion that the government would for an instant interfere in the present management of her schools. But if California's confidence should prove to be misplaced, should the president really decide that separate schools for the Japanese of San Francisco constitute a violation of Japan's treaty rights, and should take steps to put that decision into practical effect, there is no question whatever that there would be an outbreak of wrath more than sufficient to turn California from a Republican to a Democratic state. The school board's action is not only the deed of a narrow minded, politically subservient body. It represents the feeling of a vast majority of the population, regardless of party affiliation. California has the school board has the city's school board shown itself so truly a representative body. California and the coast are solidly behind it. Let the East make up the dead weight. Also, let the East consider the arguments put forward to justify the school board's action.

It will be news to most easterners that almost none of the Japanese schoolboys are boys. Practically without exception they are full-grown men between the ages of twenty and thirty. Yet Japan expects them to be allowed to sit side by side, day after day, with American boys, and more extraordinary yet, girls of tender years. How? Inquire San Francisco, "would you in the East like it if you were asked to send your boys and especially your girls to school with full-grown men, even were they of the same race?"

Moreover, Californians do not see what Japan is going to do about it, anyhow. They fear at the notion that the mikado would seriously consider going to war for such a cause, and they would be 'chilled,' if he would. They point to the fact that the Russian war exhausted Japan's financial resources, both at home and abroad, almost to the vanishing point. That the island kingdom could get either more sympathy from any other nation for a fight with us because a few Japs were sent to school in separate schools, San Francisco schools is to them a thing incredible. As to any loss of trade which Japan might inflict on this country, they would not care. Japan's commercial weakness far more deadly than any Japan could use, inasmuch as we buy four times as much from Japan as Japan buys from us.

Mr. Morita, who is a graduate of the University of Tokyo and was once a correspondent that he asked Mr. Morita, "would you in the East like it if you were asked to send your boys and especially your girls to school with full-grown men, even were they of the same race?"
