EDITORIAL NOTES, &c.

The weather for a few weeks has been unusually severe. In every direction travelling has been impeded. The Editor of the Provinhas been delayed from home to an extent that must have taxed his patience to no ordinary.

HORACE WATER9, 481 Broadway, N. Y. MESLEYAN, in common with many others, must have taxed his patience to no ordinary degree. Correspondents and subscribers will and ORGANS of three first class makers, including know how to sympathize with him, and any delays in replying to communications, or defects the material of the present number of the Paer, will doubtless be willingly overlooked. A w days at farthest will find him at his post.

THE ENGLISH LETTER has fortugately come o hand in time to occupy the column usually assigned to the Corresponding Editor. Where ais article may be at this strange juncture, it would be difficult to guess. We hear of engines, snow-ploughs, mails, &c., being "off the track," and can only surmise that our 99 triend's Editorial is in the same predicament.
