

British coals not to be re-exported from British Possessions without duty.

XCI. And be it further enacted, That it shall not be lawful for any person to re-export from any of His Majesty's possessions abroad to any foreign place any coals the produce of the United Kingdom, except upon payment of the duty to which such coals would be liable upon exportation from the United Kingdom to such foreign place; and that no such coals shall be shipped at any of such possessions, to be exported to any British place, until the Exporter, or the Master of the exporting vessel, shall have given bond, with one sufficient surety, in double the value of the coals, that such coals shall not be landed at any foreign place.

Penalty for using documents counterfeited or falsified.

XCII. And be it further enacted, That if any person shall, in any of His Majesty's possessions abroad, counterfeit or falsify, or wilfully use when counterfeited or falsified, any entry, warrant, cocket, transit or other document, for the unloading, lading, entering, reporting or clearing, any ship or vessel, or for the landing, shipping or removing, of any goods, stores, baggage or articles whatever, or shall by any false statement procure any writing or document to be made for any such purposes, or shall falsely make any oath or affirmation required by any Act for regulating the trade of the British possessions abroad, or shall forge or counterfeit a certificate of the said oath or affirmation, or shall publish such certificate knowing the same to be so forged or counterfeited, every person so offending shall, for every such offence, forfeit the sum of two hundred pounds; and such penalty shall and may be prosecuted, sued for and recovered, in like manner, and by such ways and means, as any penalty may be prosecuted, sued for and recovered, under the provisions and directions of the said last mentioned Act.

Act may be altered this Session.

XCIII. And be it further enacted, That this Act may be altered, varied or repealed, by any Act to be passed in the present Session of Parliament.
