LONDON, Nov. 17-The Oficial Press Bureau has issued the following acount, dated November 10, of the movements of the British force and the French armies in immediate thouch with

"In describing the operations for the six days from November 4 to 9, it can be said thatt during that period the Germans have nowhere along our front made an aaaack in great force such as was launched against Ypres at the end of October. What they may be contemplating remains to be seen. Their policy has ap-peared to be to wear us out by a continual bombardment, inter-spersed with local assaults at dif-

ARTILLERY INEFFECTIVE "As regards their artillery at-tacks, which have now continued without cessation for days, wonder is aroused as to when this prodigal expenditure of ammunition will cease, for it has not produced its obviously calculat-ed effect of breaking the defence in preparation for an advance of their infantry.

"So far the latter have been the chief sufferers from the tactics employed. On Wednesday, November 1, they repewed the atvember 4, they renewed the attack east of Ypres, but their effort bore no resemblance to those which preceded it, being more in the nature of a demonstration in force than a serious attempt to drive in our line, and was beaten off with ease.

"By then our men had been reinforced, had enjoyed some rest and had had time to improve their and had had time to improve trenches in different ways. More-over the consciousness that they had repelled one great effort of the enemy was a moral factor of no small value.

"Farther to the south, on our left centre, the French advanced under cover of our guns and made some progress, in spite of the heavy fire brought to bear on them from the enemy's massed them from the enemy's massed batteries. On our centre, all was

INDIANS SCORE TRIUMPH. "On the right our Indian troops scored a sucess by cap-turing and filling in some tren-ches in which the enemy had established himself, only fifty yards from our lines, under cover of some heavy artillery brought up after dark.

"On our extreme left one of our howitzer batteries, whose fire was being most effectively directed, selected as its first target a farm from which a machine gun was harassing our infantry. It scored a hit at the first round and knocked out the machine gun. Snipers Are Punished.

though the villages under fire were partially obscured from view by the smoke of bursting shells, and resembled the craters of volcanoes belching fire and fumes. At one place the paint wreck of all old shurch tower and the Blackened remains of a few flowers fround it would emerge for a moment, only to the again blotted out in a pall of smoke.

"The long and straggling villages, when they became temporarily visible, seemed to melt away and assume odd and fantastic shapes, and blocks of masonry were blown hither and thither by the blasting effect of the lyddie and melificie.

French Field Guns Aturate.

"The result of this artillery work

"The result of this artillery work was most satisfactory. When the Germans were seen to be running from shelter, which had ceased to act as shelter, which had ceased to act as such, they were caught and mowed down by the rapid fire of the French field artillery. Against a suitable target the action of the French 7.5-centimetre field guns is literally terrific and must be seen to be realised.

"On the whole, the ground which the Germans have gained in this direction has so far proved a somewhat barren acquisition. It is so exposed that it proves a death trap for their troops and they can derive no advanroops, and they can derive no advanage from its possession Blow Up Lille Forts. "Along the rest of our line nothing of special interest occurred. Farther south our aeroplanes and those of the French scored a success by partially destroying two of the old forts of Lille. Fort Englos was blown up on the 4th and Fort Carnot on the 5th. They were most probably used as magazines and may have been of some practical importance as points d'appui in the line of entrenchments.

"On friday the 6th, the attack was the fight that the statistic was a special interest occurred. Farther south our aeroplanes and captured 51. "On Friday, the 6th, the attack was renewed south of the Menin-Ypres high road, but was repulsed without difficulty. Against the southeast of Ypres, which town had been subjected to a bombardment during the night and was also shelled during the day, a fairly strong advance was made in the afternoon, and the enemy gained some ground.

"In front of our right centre the enemy fell back slightly, while farther south, to the north of the Lys, he continued to occupy the trenches and houses he had secured, but was unable to reinforce this point and so consolidate his position, for the ground was swept by the fire of our guns and enfilladed from our trenches.

the attack was not driven home. Enemy's Reckless Bravery "Slightly further to the south fight ing continued with unabated fury, and resulted in gains to our allies. About 400 of the enemy advanced from the cover of a wood against the French. Half of them with the most reckless bravery came on to close quarters, and were all shot or bayoneted. A tremendous cannonade was maintained by both sides in this direction, the allies pouring a hail of shells all along the ridge facing them held by the Germans, and the latter bombarding some high ground and the valley to the east of it in our possession.

"Three machine guns were captured with any other object. Sometimes, of course, the advance has been of a more serious nature, and has been carried out by large bodies.

"In such cases the Germans have, so far, invariably lost heavily, and even if they have succeeded in gaining our first line of trenches they

During the previous night some six battalions of Saxons had succeeded in capturing some of our trenches only to be driven. some of our trenches, only to be driv en out by a counter attack, which resulted in one officer and seventy me being taken prisoners.

"The Germans, however, refused to charge, again occupied some of of trenches and penetrated into the wood They were again counter attacked an cleared out of the wood, but continued in possession of parts of our line and also some houses which

"The second target was a house occupied by snipers. This was set alight by a shell, and when the occupants bolted they came under the rapid fire of the infantry. The third target was another building, from which the Germans were driven and then were caught in the open by shrapnel. One considerable support, and present our beauty batteries also obtained several direct hits on the enemy's guns.

Thursday, November 5, was another comparatively quiet day, there being to attempt at an infantry attack against any point of our position. Southeast of Ypres the Germans main tained a heavy bombardment of one last completely. The add received only a few weeks training.

"The French, however, made a counter stroke, supported by us, and by nightfall had recovered all, the lost ground. A French attack on two villages which had ben shelled on Monday made considerable progress, one point being captured, but the enemy aontrived to render the position untenable, and our allies had retired from the hill by dusk.

"On our centre nothing of particular interest occurred. On our right, south of the Lys, the enemy made two unsuccessful night attacks.

"On Saturday, the 8th, on our left, the enemy in the afternoon again attacked on the east and southeast of Ypres along the Menin road. Our line was at one point forced back, only to be regained after a few minutes. About 4 p.m. the Germans appeared to be massing opposite our line southeast of Ypres, and the pressure was for a time severe, although the attack was not driven home.
