Next Sunday is Father's Day. Today is Nomination Day for the Provincial elections.

From present indications this year's strawberry crop will be a record one in this vicinity.

When in need of printing you will do well to try THE ACADIAN printers, and be sure of satisfaction.

Mr. L. W. Sleep has purchased the house at the head of Locust avenue, now occupied by Mr. W. C. Bleakney and family.

A number of delegates attending the convention of the Navy League of Canada at Halifax this week motored through this portion of the Valley on Monday.

The weather during the present week has been ideal for growing crops. With bright, warm days and generous showers at night grass is growing rapidly and the promise of a good hay-crop is assured.

THE ACADIAN regrets that it is unable to publish the letter signed "Contented" because of the fact that the writer's name does not accompany it. It is an unfeeling rule in all well conducted newspaper offices that the name of the writer of all contributions must be submitted to the editor, not necessarily for publication but as an assurance of good faith.

Messrs. Charles Davidson and N. Meisner, of this town, have recently purchased from Parker Bros., of Hall's Harbor, a handsome motor boat which is now lying at the wharf here. She is being re-fitted with power and should be in readiness for use within a few days. Such a boat will be a decided advantage to the port, and would be most useful in taking out sailing parties should the owners be inclined to use her for that purpose.

Owing to unforeseen conditions that have arisen it has been found necessary to make a change in the program of speakers for the political meeting on Friday evening. The committee has been exceedingly fortunate in being able to secure the services of Mrs. H. P. Newcombe, to take the place of Mr. O'Connor, who will be unable to be present. Mrs. Newcombe is a most attractive and interesting speaker and we are sure she will be heard with a great deal of pleasure. Her appearance should assure the attendance of a large number of ladies at the meeting, which will open at 8 o'clock instead of 7.30 as announced in the poster.

It was an interested and most attentive audience which filled the Orpheum Theatre last Friday evening to hear discussed the political issues of the day. The seating capacity of the theatre was fully taxed and many persons were standing during the greater part of the time. Mayor Chambers presided, and briefly and fittingly introduced the speakers. Messrs. F. P. Bligh, of Halifax, and A. L. Davidson, of Middleton, both natives of this county. Both speakers were given a splendid hearing and the best of order prevailed throughout. The disagreeable features which too often mar such gatherings were entirely lacking, and the addresses were listened to attentively by all present.

AVONPORT

Mrs. L. M. Jodrey and little son John, accompanied by Miss Ella Lockhart, spent the week end in Hantsport, guest of Mrs. B. Liman.

Miss Lois Diahunt, of Wolfville, spent the week the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. Selby.

Mrs. John Selby and little son Robert spent the week end in Hantsport, visiting her sister, Mrs. Austin Schofield. Mrs. G. Bryden and son Gordon are spending a week with the former's brother, Lloyd Jodrey.

POPULATION AND USE OF POWER

Canada possesses minimum water-power resources of over 18,000,000 twenty-four hour horse-power distributed from coast to coast at advantageous sites near the centres of industry, and in the East and West enormous reserves of coal and other fuel.

That she is making use of her great power resources is shown by the facts that during the past ten years the developed water-power has increased from 1,936,000 horse-power to 3,570,000 horse-power or nearly 85 per cent., and the water-power developed per 1,000 of the population from 252 horse-power to 387 horse-power.

During these past ten years, while the population increased 20 per cent. the use of power per head of the population increased nearly 54 per cent.

CUTTING BUT TRUE!

A merchant tells us he has a great idea for reducing the cost of doing business by cutting out the advertisements. Also he can cut out his windpipe and reduce the cost of living. One is sure death to his business, the other to himself.—Anna (Ill.) Talk.

ABOUT BOOKS

By THE ACADIAN Bookman Frederick Palmer's new novel, "Invisible Wounds" (Toronto: McClelland & Stewart, $2.00), is, as the title suggests, a story of the wounds of the spirit. In spite of the fact that the author has not yet a complete mastery of prose or of some of the aspects of narrative technique, his keen sense for dramatic situations resulting from the interaction of characters has enabled him to produce a piece of fiction with its great moments. He holds the reader in suspense until the very last page. There is an element of freshness about the novel in that the deus ex machina is no other than our new and only partially understood friend, the psychiatrist.

Ridgwell Callum's "The Riddle of Three-Way Creek" (Toronto: McClelland & Stewart, $2.00) is a story with a Canadian setting, perhaps more the Western Canada of romance and film-drama than of reality. The author makes large use of coincidence in building up his plot, with very readable results. With the exception of Andrew McFarrell, the consistency of whose character is sacrificed in order to make him the villain of the piece, the characters are well drawn, and Lightning is worthy of immortality in fiction. This is a good book to read while lying in the hammock on a warm summer's day.

"The Rector of Maliseet" (Toronto: J. M. Dent and Sons, $1.75), by Leslie Reid, "an unusually brilliant First Novel by a young English author now resident in Canada," takes us into the realm of fine art in fiction. The artist has mastered his medium of expression. His felicity of phrase in describing the setting of his novel, and the poetic skill with which he harmonizes the plot and characters with the setting, justify comparison with Hardy in such novels as "The Return of the Native". With equal art he has made the action the natural flow of events from the influence of the characters on each other in the given environment. The result is that sense of organic unity and poetic realism which we recognize as the insignia of art in prose fiction. Mr. Reid has a gift which we hope soon to see exemplified in other novels.
