DEPOSITION FROM AUTHOR READ IN TRIAL

Recover for Alleged Libel-Let in on "Ground Floor" for $25,000.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.-When the trial of a suit brought by Ralph W. Ashcroft, manager of the Plasmion Company, against John Hays Hammond, to recover $25,000 for alleged libel, was begun to-day before Judge Scudder in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, Samuel L. Clemens ("Mark Twain"), who received a telegram which is stated contained the libelous statements, did not appear as a witness. Instead, his deposition was read, in which he alleged that he was mugged out of $25,000 which he paid for stock in the Plasmion Company.

IN THE DEPOSITION Mr. Clemens was asked if he knew John Hays Hammond.

"I know him, not well, but I know him," replied the author.

"Where did you meet him and on what business?"

"He is a mining engineer, but I have a delicacy about saying where I met him, because I met him in jail. If I remember rightly, there were sixty-two of the boys in jail because of the Jameson raid in Pretoria."

Mr. Clemens declared that he had lost about $25,000 through the purchase of stock in the Plasmion company.

"I was told that I would be let in on the ground floor," the author said.

"They told me they did not need the money, but just wanted to use the name. Later they called on me for $5,000, and shortly after that I put up $20,000 more. But I received no stock. I was informed that the stock was worth about 100 per cent, but I found that it was not worth half that."

"Instead of getting in on the ground floor, I found there was no ground floor. Even later Mr. Wright did me the goodness to borrow $7,000 from me on some stock which he either did not own or which was worthless. He still owes me for the stock, for which I paid $25,000, and which I find was worth only $12,500."

Mr. Clemens' deposition was 200 pages in length.

"THE NEGRO PROBLEM."

CARNEGIE AND ROSEBERY DIFFER ON THE SUBJECT.

Eulogy of the Black Man by Carnegie - His Lordship Says Negro is a Man and Brother, But Perhaps Not a Fellow-Citizen.

London, Oct. 17.-After Andrew Carnegie had delivered a eulogy on the negro in an address on "The Negro Problem," in inaugurating the winter lecture season of the Philosophical Institution of Edinburgh last night, Lord Rosebery, who presided, moved a vote of thanks and then proceeded to pulverize the iron-master's arguments.

Mr. Carnegie said, in part: "The question is no longer, what can be done with the negroes? It is now, how many more of them and other workers can be obtained? The negro has become of immense economic value and is indispensable. The negro is not lazy. On the contrary, he is engaged in every field of human effort, and is even a credit to journalism. The race's capacity for producing, at intervals, exceptional men who are the glory of the nation is another evidence of an advancing people."

"I am sanguine that the result will be a respectful, educated, intelligent race of citizens."

Lord Rosebery said that Mr. Carnegie is a man who scatters benefactions as the locomotive scatters sparks, and continued: "Mr. Carnegie's arguments do not solve the matter, but they prove to be only the commencement of the solution of the problem. Might not the period of intolerance, regarded as necessary in India, have been extended advantageously to the negro race? When admitted to citizenship in the United States 90 per cent of the negroes were illiterate, and on your own showing, Mr. Carnegie, which may be optimistic, there are still 47 per cent of them illiterate. Does not this show you that these men were not competent to ask the question, 'Am I not a man and a brother?' A wise answer would have been: 'A man, yes; a brother, yes; but till you have proved fitness for suffrage, not a fellow-citizen.'"

By Order, FRED. GELINAS, Secretary, Department of Public Works, Ottawa, October 3, 1907.

"MARK TWAIN." MISSION WORK.

Victim of Friend He Met in Prison. Encouraging Reports at the Meeting This Morning.

At this morning's session of the Board of Managers of the Woman's Missionary Auxiliary, held in Christ's Church school house, Mrs. Tiley, of London, presented the report of the committee on Indian work. It was very encouraging, showing that good work was being done among the redmen of the Northwest. It stated that the Indians in the far north, who were isolated from the whites, were sober and well conducted. Much interest in Christian work was being taken by many of the Indians, some of whom are preparing themselves for missionary work. The report stated that of the 109,324 Indians in western Canada, 88,680 are treaty Indians.

Mrs. Cartwright, convener of the committee of the united thank offering fund, reported that the committee had consulted with the heads of seven theological colleges, all of which had made the recommendation that the fund should be very carefully administered for the benefit of students, men and women training for the mission fields. This fund will be an open, permanent one. The committee will recommend that it be placed prominently before the congregations in the diocese at least once a year.

A letter of greeting was read from Rev. Dr. Tucker, of Japan.

It is likely that the business of the meeting will all be transacted by this evening. This is the first time the board has met outside of Montreal, where several of the chief officers reside. Mrs. Tiley, of Ottawa, presided, and Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Denne, of Montreal, acted as secretaries.

MUST HAVE SLATER.

How Plate Glass Window Came to Be Broken.

"Did you notice that one of the large plate glass windows in front of the Slater Shoe Company's store on King street west was broken?"

"I do not think a runaway horse or stray airship broke the window," said Mr. Bridgett. "I think that if the window was broken accidentally, it was by a runaway horse or in any other manner, the owner of the horse or person responsible would have called and settled the damages."

"Then your window-dresser did not fall through in over-exerting himself to please the public eye?"

"No," was the reply.

Mr. Bridgett then gave what he thought was the cause of the broken window. He said he thought it was due to spontaneous combustion, caused by the uniting of two forces-the stringency of the money market and the desire of someone to possess a pair of Slater shoes. Mr. Bridgett further explained: "The higher quality of the Slater shoe demands that its price be placed a little in advance of shoes of lower quality, and the only reason I can give for the broken window is that some person accustomed to wearing only Slater shoes and financially embarrassed took this chance as his only means of getting a pair of Slaters."

Decline in Tractions.

Upwards of $300,000,000 worth of foreign tractions and power company bonds and stocks have been put on the Canadian market within the last ten years. When money was plentiful, these issues were taken as collateral by the leading institutions with comparative freedom, but with the present stringency it is difficult to carry them on margin. It was announced yesterday that the New York banks have refused to loan on Detroit United Railway.

The Detroit Free Press yesterday printed the following table, showing the shrinkage in Detroit United stock since 1901:

1901. $12,500,000 stock, par $100, at $100, $12,500,000. 1902. $12,500,000 stock, par $100, at $87 1/2, $10,937,500. 1903. $12,500,000 stock, par $100, at $87 1/2, $10,937,500. 1904. $12,500,000 stock, par $100, at $87 1/2, $10,937,500. 1905. $12,500,000 stock, par $100, at $87 1/2, $10,937,500. 1906. $12,500,000 stock, par $100, at $87 1/2, $10,937,500. 1907. $12,500,000 stock, par $100, at $87 1/2, $10,937,500.

On Wall street at 33, loss from high point $8,562,500. At Montreal, loss from high point $2,000,000. Or a shrinkage from high point of $980,000 share on Wall Street and of $14 a share at Montreal.

Everett's Explanation.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 16.-Henry A. Everett, chairman of the board of the Detroit United Railway Company, to-day made a detailed statement of the reasons leading to the action of the directors in passing the dividend on the stock.

"The directors faced the alternative of taking the dividend off, or adding to the dividend. They chose the latter course, and the company has been forced to spend $800,000 in new equipment, cars and new track construction required by the city. We had to meet these expenses and pay the dividend on the dividend from earnings that we had to the indebtedness or to fund it now by selling bonds at a price which would result in a ruinous rate of interest upon the proceeds.

While some of our franchisees expire in two years, there are others which run for 11 years. Moreover, a large proportion of the
