Besides Mr. Martin, the committee have engaged Mr. Owen Smiley, elocutionist, and Arthur Ostler, violinist. Both of these artists are too well known to Hamilton audiences to need any comment.

The choir, which has been augmented to sixty voices, has been practising faithfully, under the leadership of H. J. Allen, for some time, and they will render several fine numbers, which will be very enjoyable.

With such an array of fine talent as this, Knox Church should be packed to the doors on the evening of March 30th.

"CASTE" NEXT MONTH.
Colonel Denison, of Toronto, is bringing his dramatic company to the Grand on Tuesday evening. April 20th, in that sparkling comedy, "Caste." This promises to be the society event of the season. It is to be given in aid of the Victorian Order of Nurses of Hamilton, whose good work is widely known and appreciated; and as it is to be presented under the auspices of the officers of the Hamilton garrison, the military will attend in full uniform. The officers of a number of outside regiments will also be present. Much interest is already being taken in the presentation of this play. The Toronto garrison company is a good one, and the leading roles are sure of a fine interpretation. The play itself is a great favorite with every lover of high class comedy, and abounds with human interest and real life. The er of high class comedy, and abounds with human interest and real life. The young ladies who have undertaken the initial sale of tickets report already there is quite a demand.

COMEDY, "GIRLS."

Sam S. and Lee Shubert are to favor Toronto with their new Clyde Fitch comedy, "Girls," which ran the entire summer at Daly's Broadway Theatre, New York City, and met with the just popularity due the Shubert productions. "Girls" is a comedy of such freshness and charm that it will never wear out. Put three attractive young women together in circumscribed studio quarters, let them be struggling for independence and outspoken in defiance of man, and nd outspoken in defiance of man, and here is at once aroused an interest and there is at once around a sharpening of the dramatic appetite. This is the first thing which Mr. Fitch has done in "Girls," and he has then followed the only course possible by followed the only course possible by making them all fall in love with three desirable men—for how could it end otherwise? In the sketching of characters, creating incident and developing his story, the author is at his best. All the airy lightness of touch. lightness of touch, so essential us comedy is there, and the de play contains in addition, so much to the heart that success is as-"Girls" will be seen at the Royal Alexandra Theatre T week. On Friday evening the members of the Canadian Press Association will attend the performance.

SALVATION NELL.

Quite a number of Hamilton people went down to Toronto this week to see the comedy, "Salvation Nell," running in the Royal Alexandra Theatre, and they all speak highly of it. The play is a great advertisement for the Salvation Army, showing in a most realistic way what it is doing to purify the slums of the large cities and snatch brands from the burning. The piece is capitally the burning. The piece is capitally staged, is a sermon in itself, and enthralling in interest. The Manhattan The Manhattan Company is a most capable one. Mary Madison, as "Hallelujah Maggie," and Holbrook Blinn as "Jim Platt" divide the honors with each other.
