King's Birthday.

Forty-six years ago His Majesty the King first saw the light of day, and to-day is his second birthday since his accession. The birthday celebrations of last year were clouded by the poignant grief for the father and king who had passed to his rest. This birthday ushers in the happy celebrations and rejoicing of the Coronation which is to take place within three weeks. Although His Majesty has been on the throne but a little over a year, he has won the opinions by the tact and thought he has displayed during the past twelve months. It has become evident that His Majesty means to live up to the declaration he made to his people when he came to the Throne. He is alive to the religious, social, political, and labour movements of the day, and he has done much to give royal recognition to all phases of rational life which tend to the betterment of man. He has visited all parts of the Empire. Newfoundland has twice been favoured with his presence; once in his younger days when he was a midshipman and later after he had become heir-apparent to the Throne. And no citizens of the Empire would rejoice should it be our good fortune to be favoured with a visit from His Majesty as King. To-day, however, we rejoice with him on the anniversary of his birth and may it add lustre to the glory of his Coronation and tend to strengthen the loyalty of a people who can love and esteem their king, and to add wisdom and humanity to a king whose wife's work is duty to his people.

SALMON PLENTIFUL.—Mat. Churchill had 15 salmon in his net at Portage Cove this morning. There were 50 taken from all the nets there.

Hints to Householders.

PROFESSOR HENRY ADAMS in his Presidential Address to the Institute of Sanitary Engineers early in 1908, said:—"Gas fires for heating are already widely adopted for offices, consulting rooms where a fire may be required at short notice. I have had nothing else in my office for the last thirty years and do not find, any of the ill effects that have been ascribed to them."
Gas fires are universally used by Medical men in London, and they recommend them for use in the homes of their patients.
The Coal Smoke Abatement Society, among whose members are many men of high scientific and artistic attainment, are strong advocates of the use of gas for heating. The Society carried out a most elaborate series of tests with gas fires, etc., in May and June, 1906.

Uncle Walt

THE POET PHILOSOPHER.

All things will come to him who waits, the wise man said, and went to bed, but history, methinks, relates that they don't get there till you're dead. It is a creed for lazy men, for idlers in the market place; THE MAN who tries and tries again—that chap the good WHO WAITS things always chase. I used to throw my hours away, I loafed through many sunny June, while other men were making hay, and nothing came to me but prunes. "Good things will come some joyous morn'g," I said, "if I stay on the job." And other men were eating corn while I was chewing on the cob. And after many years I said: "That logic's surely out of plumb; I've waited till my nose is red, and still the good things do not come." Then I rolled up my gingham sleeves and cracked my heels and gave a yell, and started bringing in my sheaves, since which I've done surpassing well. I own a cow, a pair of pigs, a phonograph without a crank, and divers other things; y'ks, and have five dollars in the bank.

Accident to Fireman.

While firing a salute from one of the three guns mounted at Fort Townshend to-day, fireman Jno. Hemans suffered a very painful accident. He was ramming home the charge in one gun when in some way the powder ignited and exploded. The man received the full force of the charge in the hands as he was at the muzzle. He was driven a considerable distance by the force of the explosion and the flesh was torn from the backs of his hands. The firemen and two naval men present rendered first aid and he was then rushed to the hospital in the ambulance. The ramrod he was using was driven down near the Kirk. Hemans is an ex-naval man and has been a fireman for years. On the Queen's Birthday several years ago fireman Hibbs was similarly injured while firing a salute from these same guns.

At Salmonier one man has already 100 quintals ashore, caught at Cape St. Mary's.

The Fogota's officers bring the news that there is a good sign of fish at the Warhams, Tilling and Joe Batt's Arm with hook and line and on jiggers. The Wesleyville fleet, Twillingate and Change Island schooners are all gone to the Straits and French Shore. A little has been done with traps about Fogota.

Season's Most Popular Books

GERTRUDE PAGE'S GREAT NOVEL.

WINDING PATHS.—In it the author has made special studies of three women characters, with the same vivid and entertaining skill which has so graphically described the wild, fresh life of the Rhodessa Veldt.

THE KING OVER THE WATER.—J. H. McARTHUR. A story that is full of stirring episodes; it is also essentially a love story, the hero, a gallant Irish soldier, and heroine a wandering Princess.

MRS THOMPSON.—W. B. MAXWELL. This is a purely realistic novel, in which the author traces step by step the life of a woman of strong character, temperament and emotions.

SOME HAPPENINGS OF GLEN-DALYNE.—D. CONYERS. The novel contains the fascinating mystery of a lost heir, who is found by the heroine, and her love story gives the book an additional interest.

HOLL OF THE TOLL HARD.—T. WILSON WILSON. A stirring tale of romance and adventure in Cumberland during the rough starvation days of the Napoleonic Wars, when law and order in country districts was as the people made it.

ALL THE WORLD WANDERED.—L. MERRICK. For those whose interest in theatrical life goes deeper than its "make up" the value of this new book is not limited to the fact that it tells a bright and highly unconventional tale.

BURNING DAYLIGHT.—J. LONDON. Mr. London's work is always excellent, the characters one and all have the breath of life. No reader who loves a good story will be disappointed.

JANE OGLANDER.—MRS B. LOUNGES. This is a story of exceptional power and exceptional charm. It deals in rich emotional material with a fine, artistic restraint.

THE VOW.—PAUL TRENT. Is the thrilling story of a man who made a vow as "Jeppiah" and kept it, although it meant his exposure as a financier.

Man and Two Wives

Pittsburg, Pa., May 26.—Peter G. Sharp, and his two wives, Annie Katherine and Louisa, settled in the Sharp cottage and told of their plans to live together as a happy family. Annie Katherine, the first Mrs. Sharp, returned to her husband yesterday after 40 years separation, during which time each had searched the country over for the other.

Mr. Sharp lost his wife in the confusion of the Chicago fire in 1871. Through the pension rolls of the War Department she found him recently and came here from her home in Oakland, California. Nine years ago Sharp gave up Annie as dead and married again.

"If I thought I would die," said Louisa, I would go back to nursing the sick in Oakland, said Annie as the three sat together in the garden today. She has been a good wife and married my husband in good faith. This is her home and I shall bring her no sorrow." Louisa is 50 years old, he is 82, and Annie 72.

BORN.
