

Here and There

League Football, St. George's Field, 7 o'clock this evening, B. I. S. vs. Casuals.—June 19, 11

BRUCE PASSENGERS.—The S. S. Bruce arrived at Port aux Basques at 6:25 a.m. to-day bringing J. W. Keating, J. A. Messervy, John M. Kennedy and a few second class.

KYLE SAILS.—The S. S. Kyle left St. John's at 1 p.m. to-day for Labrador taking a large freight and passengers H. H. Smythe, F. C. Grant, and a few second class.

SMASHED HER PROPELLER.—When the S. S. Sagana was going into St. Pierre this trip she met with an accident, going up on the breakwater and smashed three of her propeller blades. She will be docked here to get three new blades.

SALMON FISHING.—Mr. G. R. Moulton, of Burgeo, who was salmon fishing at Grandy's Brook, last week, caught a salmon that weighed twenty pounds. It took Mr. Moulton over two hours to land it. Salmon are plentiful at this spot.

MORE SMALLPOX.—Two new cases of smallpox were reported to the Health Authorities last evening. The patients are John Hillyar, aged 19, of Warberry Street, and Mary Farrell, aged 20, of Allandale Road. Both have gone to Hospital.

YESTERDAY'S EXCURSIONS.—By the excursion train at 2:30 p.m. yesterday about 125 persons left here for different places as far as Kelligrewa. Quite a number went by bus and carriage to Bowring Park and other rural retreats and a large number left the city.

Here and There.

PATIENT FOR HOSPITAL.—Leah Hutchings arrived here by the shore train to-day from Spaniard's Bay and was taken to Hospital by Mr. White-way. She is 12 years old and one leg is crippled. The little one took a sudden pain in the limb some time ago and can barely walk with the aid of a stick.

Yesterday in Walsh's Lane, just east of the recent disastrous Allan fire, the chimney of Fitzgerald's house ignited and blazed up. Mr. Peter Power mounted to the roof and gave it what he calls the "toothache cure" a mixture of salt and water. Whether it cures the toothache or not it effectually quenched the blaze.

NEW FRUITS AND VEGETABLES BY THE FLORIZEL.—Wine Sap Apples, California Oranges, Bananas, Table Cherries, Lemons, Celery, Cucumbers, Tomatoes, New Carrots, New Parsnips, New York Butchers' Corned Beef at W. E. BEARNS. Telephone 379.—11

At 4:45 p.m. yesterday an alarm of fire from box 32 brought the Western and Central firemen to the residence of Mrs. Capt. Daniel Scanlan, New Gower Street. Mrs. Scanlan was absent from her home, and neighbors saw smoke issuing from crevices in the clapboards. This was in a little pantry on the second floor off the hallway where coal is kept. Some papers and old rags were on fire and the discoverer of the blaze kicking open the door quenched the incipient blast with a pail of water. How the paper, etc., became ignited is a mystery.

N. & M. Smith.

As regards the telegraphic despatch published elsewhere, with reference to N. & M. Smith, of Halifax, it is hard to get any definite statement at this end as to the actual intention of the principals of the firm. The statement contained in the despatch was taken from a Halifax paper and the rumor had been about that city for some time. It is quite likely, however, we learn, that the Smith people of Halifax will be curtailing their business in Halifax and it is not unlikely that as a result the Smith Co. of this city may enlarge its operations and sphere of influence. The principal of the Halifax firm, we hear, has not been paying much attention of late to the fish business. He is a director of several large corporations doing business in Canada, including the Halifax Tramway, which were recently purchased by Montreal and Halifax people. Whatever changes are made in Halifax, will not affect the Smith Co. here, as they are a limited liability company incorporated under the laws of Newfoundland. The Telegram called on Mr. Hickman, at the Smith Co's offices here this morning, but he was not prepared to make any statement as to the intentions of his friends and co-workers in the Nova Scotia capital.

Wedding Bells.

JARDINE-BALFOUR.—Yesterday afternoon, at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. Duder, Mr. W. M. Balfour was united in matrimony to Miss Grace Jardine, daughter of James Jardine, Esq., Customs Examiner. Rev. J. Sutherland was the officiating clergyman, and only the immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties were present. The bride, who was handsomely costumed, was given away by her father, Misses Duder and Joyce acted as bridesmaids, whilst Mr. Chas. Henderson supported the groom. After the ceremony a reception was held. The bridal party then motored to Donovans and joined the outgoing express for Montreal, where they will spend their honeymoon, later proceeding to Edmonton, Alberta, their future home. The present of the groom to the bride was a gold bracelet, to the bridesmaids gold brooches, and to the groomsmen a gold pin and gold sleeve links. Numerous and valuable wedding gifts, including several cheques, were received, testifying to the esteem in which the young couple are held. The Telegram wishes Mr. and Mrs. Balfour prolonged happiness in their wedding career.

Florizel in Port.

The s.s. Florizel, Capt. Smith, arrived from New York and Halifax to-day, bringing a general cargo and passengers in saloon: From New York—Dr. J. A. Anby, T. Brophy, Misses Brophy (3), C. D. Coverdale, R. S. Constant, Mrs. Constant, T. Courtis, Mrs. Courtis, W. J. and Mrs. Gerhale, W. H. Hume, J. Gilmore, O. F. and Mrs. Girard, S. G. Guinac, wife and infant, Mrs. E. A. Foland, W. Hal-dane and wife, Miss Kavanagh, D. Lees, L. P. Lees, M. Lennon, M. McGilgison and wife, Misses Mulligan (2), W. J. and Mrs. Pratt, E. B. Remington and wife, E. R. Scott and wife, R. Sinclair, H. and Mrs. Smith, E. L. Stephens, Mrs. T. Sullivan and two children, W. and Mrs. Suffer, J. and Mrs. Tryon, Miss Holden, R. Strang, S. Acheson and 34 steerage. From Halifax—N. A. and Mrs. Outerbridge, F. K. Hawkins, A. N. Sonenthal, S. M. Piper, A. H. Webb, R. E. Bass, Rev. Dr. Kitchin, W. J. Shortreed, Miss Roper, J. Ritchie, T. H. Dean, Miss McLean, M. Templeman, Master Templeman, J. M. O'Neil and one second class.

A Strange Find.

This morning a man named William Hickey, while passing near Waterford River, near the trestle bridge, took out of the water a man's pants, vest, coat and singlet. Hickey immediately reported the matter to the police station. Const. O'Neill, who was dispatched to make enquiries, as it was thought at first they were part of the clothes that were stolen from Allan's store, found no answer for them. Hickey did not hear of any missing any. The garments are in good condition, fairly new, but appears to have been in the water a long while. The police think that the clothes were thrown out by some party who had sickness at home.

Tourist Traffic.

There are thirty-one round trippers on board the Red Cross liner Florizel this trip. The next trip from New York every room in the ship will be occupied by tourists, who have already booked their passage. The Stepano, which is due here next week, will also be filled with American people. It is expected that the tourist traffic by the Red Cross boats this year will be nearly double the number of previous years.

FURNACE LINE.—The s.s. Digby is due here to-morrow night from Liverpool. The s.s. Kanawha sailed last night for Halifax.

STUDENTS ARRIVE.—Nineteen boys and girls, who had been attending the school for the blind, deaf and dumb at Halifax, arrived by the Florizel to-day to spend their summer holidays with their friends. The school will reopen the first of September, when the students will return.

The barq. Minnie, Capt. Wakeham, arrived here at 3 p.m. yesterday from Barbadoes, after a run of 17 days. The vessel is molasses laden to A. Goodridge & Sons, and would have made the run up in the record time of 12 days but that after the 6th day out she was becalmed and this lasted for 5 days. She brought up 3 colored men from Barbadoes to go to Sydney for work.

BOWING SHIPS.—The s.s. Fortif left Channel at 11:15 a.m. to-day, coming this way. The s.s. Prospero sails on Saturday for the northward.

Antiquity of the Gaelic Language.

Before Apollo had a lute,
Mair than a hundred year,
Macgregor played his ain bagpipes,
His Heelant clams to cheer,
He had a boat, too, of his ain,
Made out o' Heelant wud,
Which saved a' the Macgregor's freen's
Frae droonin' at the flood.

For you must know the Gaelic tongue
Was spoken in Glen Eden,
And Adam wrote his Heelant songs
The time his sheeps are feedin'
And Mrs. Adam's name was Grant—
She came from Abergeidie:
She was a poetess, and wrote
"The Birks o' Aberfeldy."

Moreover, too, old Tubal Cain—
His name was Tubal Dhu,
But was misprinted in the Book
When the printen had got fou'—
He was a blacksmith till his trade,
And made the first claymore:
Folke, he made the coat o' mail
That Noah's father wore.

Young Donald Vulcan served his time
With this same Tubal Dhu,
Five years he shoe'd Macgregor's horse
And Tugal's fellows plew.
And furthermore, 'tis gospel truth,
He did invent the bell,
Because, you see, he sold a dram,
And needed it himself.

Now, "Noah" 's the Grecian word,
In Gaelic it is "Macpherson"
He instituted Heelant games
Just for blown diversion.
MacCall Mohr, his son in law,
Was Lord Duke of Argyll;
His mother's name was Janet Gunn,
A sister of King Cole.

And Samson, too—'that shomre of Greek—
His name was Gilderoy,
He felled a bullock with his neive
When he was just a boy.
They sent him off to Stirling jail
'I little means his might;
He walked off with the gates and all
At the dead o' night.

And that's not all—our Heelant chiefs
Have all got pagen names,
Such as Achilles—pless my soul!—
The more's the bunning shame!
Fingal was Aja, or the like,
Oswan they made a Tartan;
Macgregor was— who can tell what—
'Twas something about Spartan.

There's no use talking about Greek,
It's just a word of gabble—
A portion of the Gaelic tongue
Spoiled at the Toor o' Babel.
The Greeks, you see, were no' a clan;
Although of the same bone,
But just a sort o' laborin' men,
That carried bricks and stone.

For instance there's the "Hlad" now
It's ruined altogether.
'Twas first writ in Gaelic tongue,
By Homer in Bautilier.
The Greeks they got it at the last
And spoilt it as you see
Then swore that Homer was a Greek—
An most tremendous lee!

And no doubt you would like to know
Where fair Glen Eden stood
Och hone! it was the bonnie place
Before the awful flood.
A weel, 'twas just in Inverness,
Some say 'twas in Argyll;
There's no use fashin' back a word—
'Twas the Heelants all the while
Montreal Star.

The Practice of Politeness.

There is one thing which every really nice boy and girl will be careful about and this is the practice of universal politeness. This is one of the cardinal virtues, you know, and marks the true gentleman or lady. Rudeness is akin to boorishness and the boy or girl who is guilty of it can never be really kind-hearted or refined; neither will he or she win the love or the liking of desirable people, and if it is allowed to govern the manners, will inevitably stamp the offender as under-bred.

No boy can be a true gentleman no girl a lady, who is disrespectful to older persons, and most of all to those whose white hairs should lend them dignity and honour. It is true duty of every boy and girl to be especially careful and considerate of the aged, and whenever "I see" a small man or woman doing or saying something pleasant for or to an older person, I immediately decide that he or she is a young person with whom I wish to become acquainted.

History tells of many great men who were obedient sons and great respecters of the aged, Washington was very fond of his mother and so was Napoleon. Both paid the utmost respect to the grand women who did so much to bring about the greatness of their sons and it was thus with many other great men.

Husband (impatiently)—"Is it possible, my dear, that you can not keep those children quiet for a moment?"
Wife (soothingly)—"Now, John, don't be harsh with the poor little innocent things; it is natural for them to be full of spirits, and they're doing the best they can." Husband—"Well, if I could have a moment's peace I would sit down and write that cheque for fifty dollars that you've been bothering me for." Wife (eternally)—"Children upstairs at once and, if I hear another word from you to-night I will punish you severely."
