If the Best of the New Novels

interest you, it will be worth your while to call at our store at least twice a week, for by every English or American book, we get the very best of the very latest fiction, and only the best. If you see it at DICKS', it is worth your while, for we positively do not handle anything that is not well reviewed.

A constantly increasing circle of readers has found this to be true, and that is why we do not often get a chance to advertise many of the good things that come our way, they sell at sight. We have recently had and sold—
75 copies of Birmingham's New Novel, "The Law Bringers."
75 copies of Rex Beach's New Novel, "The Coyne Family."
A shipment of Florence Barclay's new book, and a shipment of "The Outlaw," by Hennessy, all bought by the above mentioned circle of readers almost before it was known outside that they were to be had. Now we have: Mrs. Humphrey Ward's new book, "The Richard Furze."
Ellen Thornycroft, Fowler's new book, "Her Ladyship's Conscience."
E. Temple Thurston's new book, "Richard Furze."
Nat Gould's new book, "A Fortune at Stake."
B. A. Clarke's new book, "Both Sides of the Road," and a few more copies of Booth Tarkington's "The Flirt."

We also have Gerald Stanley's book, "Crowds," price of which is $1.30. This is a book for the business man, which we will tell you more about in a later advertisement.
We also have "Kipling's Songs Out of Books," at $1.50, and John G. Wight's "Literary Brevities," for $1.75. This is a book for the public speaker and the debater, that is almost indispensable for any man that wishes to become a popular speaker.

We also have a few copies "Ballads of Chechako," by Robert W. Service—he who wrote "Songs of a Sourdough." Price is $1.00.
By the time you have read this ad, our Book Tables will contain many new things that will be sold before we get the chance to advertise them. So get the habit of running into DICKS'.

P. S.—We have one or two copies of "How I Became a Governor," by Sir Ralph Williams.
