

Evening Telegram

W. J. HERDER, --- Proprietor.
C. T. JAMES, --- Editor.

Circulation Statement.
Total Sales for 1921... 2,591,989
Daily Average... 8,757
Increase Over 1920... 212,739

Thursday, July 27, 1922.

COLD STORAGE.

In the current issue of an English fishing journal, "Ice and Cold Storage," published monthly in London, England, a very readable article by Lord Morris discusses the value of Cold Storage as applied to Newfoundland's fisheries, and predicts a rosy future for this colony once the proper methods are adopted and carried out on a scientific basis. So far Newfoundland has but touched the outer circle in the shipping of refrigerated fish. Beyond a firm or two on the South West Coast, few of our merchants have taken kindly to the idea of exporting fresh frozen fish. Perhaps that is because it is too great a wrench to depart from the old system of drying, or it may be that the extra expense of erecting costly plants for the holding of fish in cold storage, whilst awaiting shipment would not be commensurate with the returns from such consignments. Cold storage and what a boon it would be to this country, has been talked of for years. Several experiments have been made, but few turned over enough on the transaction to encourage a continuance. Apart from the Newfoundland Atlantic Fisheries Plant here in St. John's, no other concern has yet taken up the matter of trade in fresh frozen fish with the United Kingdom. The West Coast people before mentioned do a fair business in exporting fresh salmon, halibut and a few other qualities, during a part of the year, but these are sent over comparatively short routes, and are not taken from cold storage, but are packed in ice almost as soon as they are caught and shipped immediately. It is not often that such shipments are destined further West than St. John's, New Brunswick, and in all cases are carried by Canadian express trains. During the winter months small lots of frozen cod are sent from Port aux Basques to Nova Scotia points. But as a rule codfish are not profitable for export in a fresh state in the summer time, hence there is little done in that direction. Salmon, Halibut and Turbot, all containing less water than codfish, and therefore capable of resisting a high temperature for longer periods, thus lending greatly to more remunerative ventures, are the fish that are more eagerly sought after in the warm season than cod. Beside American and Canadian shore fishermen, in motor boat, motor schooner and sailing craft are daily prosecuting the fisheries, bringing their fares home fresh and delivering them to dealers in like condition, so that there is no scarcity of fresh fish food for the consumers in the ports served by these craft. To develop Cold Storage and bring it to that degree wherein all our harvest of the sea could be refrigerated and exported fresh, would mean a radical departure from recognized methods. It could not be accomplished without the outlay of millions of capital. It is not only the shore plant that is necessary. There must be, to make it a success, refrigerating stations along the coast, cold storage steam or gasoline collectors, cold storage railway cars, and last but by no means least transportation steamers fitted with cold chambers of sufficient capacity to take collections at least fortnightly. When all these can be obtained, Newfoundland will be in a position to compete in the fresh fish markets of Britain and America. Not before.

Success Rewards Efforts

BODIES OF VICTIMS OF SATURDAY'S DROWNING TRAGEDY RECOVERED.

The strain of suspense was relieved yesterday afternoon, when intelligence was received in the city that the bodies of Charles R. Duder and Chesley Crocker had been found, and were being conveyed to town. That was three days search by hundreds of men rewarded, for since the first news of the tragedy reached town no efforts were spared and nothing was left undone in the attempt to bring to the surface the bodies of the unfortunate victims of one of the most deplorable tragedies of the times. The body of Mr. Duder was first found and soon afterwards that of Mr. Crocker was brought to the surface. The story of the recovery of both the victims is told by our morning contemporary as follows:

The search yesterday was conducted with more precision than previously, and this was due to the finding on Tuesday evening of Mr. Duder's hat and trouting pole. The latter had evidently been dragged by the canvas boat until it was held by the reel catching between two rocks, and the position in which it was found indicated the direction from which the boat drifted, and gave the searchers a guide for their work.

At 10 o'clock William Hynes and his boat mate Edward Power, of the Battery, both of whom had been on the pond the previous day, caught their hooks in a heavy object which moved as they slowly pulled their lines. After they had lifted the object about five or six fathoms from the bottom the weight lightened very considerably as if something had given way. They continued to pull in their lines, however, and found that they had been successful in recovering the body of Mr. Duder. The hooks had caught in his rubber boots. They immediately made known their find to the other boats, and then took the recovered body to the shore. Before they had time to return the body of Mr. Crocker had been recovered in the same spot by men in the boat of Mr. Morgan of Torbay.

When Mr. Duder's body was brought to the surface it was found that the arms were outstretched as if they had been grasping something, and there is every reason to believe that they had held Crocker's body. The fact that when raised some distance from the bottom Mr. Duder's body suddenly lightened very considerably, as if some weighty object had broken away, and the further fact that the two bodies were taken from the same spot, very strongly indicate that they went down clasped in each other's arms; and the probability is that Mr. Duder, who was a strong swimmer in earlier days, endeavored to help his companion, who it is now known was unable to swim, but being heavily clothed, wearing an oil coat, oil leggings and rubber boots, was unequal to the task, and they both died together. Just such an act would have been expected in a man of the type of the late C. R. Duder.

Names of Finders of Bodies.

The following comprised the crews of the two trawl boats used in the finding of the body of the late Mr. Duder: Sergt. Churchill, Messrs. Curnew, Edward, Meist, Wm. Hynes, James Power. In the boat which recovered the body of Chesley Crocker were Messrs. Martin Murphy, James Croke and John Morgan. The trawl boats were using two sixty fathom trawl lines.

New Rhodes' Scholar.

MR. CECIL PARSONS ELECTED.

At a meeting of the special commission at Government House this morning, Mr. Cecil J. Parsons was elected Rhodes' Scholar for 1922. Mr. Parsons is a son of the former M.H.A. for Harbour Grace and will graduate in medicine at McGill next year. He will then go to Oxford for a post graduate course. Mr. Parsons was awarded the scholarship last year but was unable to take it. The two other candidates for the award this year were Mr. Martin Cashin and Mr. Raymond Gushue. The Rhodes Commission is as follows: H.B. the Governor (Chairman); Sir William Horwood (Chief Justice); Judge Kent, Rev. Dr. Curtis, Dr. W. W. Blackall, Dr. V. P. Burke (Hon. Secretary), Hon. G. Shea, C.P. Ayre, H. A. Winter, E.A. Mews, C.M.G.

Local Wheat.

TOPSAIL RECTORY'S EXPERIMENT.

Rev. Mr. Pittman, rector of Topsail parish, has lately been experimenting with wheat, and his attempt to grow it in his rectory grounds has so far been successful. The seeds were sown in May and the wheat is now more than knee high. Mr. Pittman is also growing beardless barley and sweet corn with considerable success. This is believed to be the first beardless barley grown near St. John's.

Silvia Arrives.

S.S. Silvia, Capt. Mitchell, arrived in port this morning bringing a number of tourists and the following who came on a visit to friends: Sister Bernhardt, Sister M. Joseph, Mr. L. Field, E. B. Stephens, Miss A. Richards, Miss A. Russell, W. Coady, Master Coady, Miss F. Leebman, Miss M. Werner, Mrs. L. Brown, Mrs. A. S. Williams, W. J. Ryall, Miss L. C. Mills, G. J. Pittman, Master Pittman, Dr. Moorhead, Mrs. Moorhead, P. Maloney, Mrs. L. Leebman, Sister Bernhardt, Capt. Hatfield. The following are returned residents: Mr. Joseph Dewling, Miss L. Hartigan, Miss C. Carroll, Miss M. Carroll, Miss H. Gallinshaw, Miss May Walsh, J. W. McGrath, S. French, Fred Berg, W. G. Cummings, Mrs. E. Cooper, Miss I. Galpin.

Manoa Arrives.

S.S. Manoa arrived in port this morning at 11 o'clock, bringing a number of tourists from Montreal and Charlottetown, amongst whom were the following who are natives of this country: J. C. B. Horwood, J. J. O'Rourke, Miss Grace Penny, Miss James Pike and three children. Miss L. Sara, Mrs. J. R. Smith. The Manoa sails again at noon on Saturday.

Of Interest to Tourists.

CASH'S TOBACCO STORE IS NOW READY FOR THE TOURIST TRADE.

The man from England or the United States or any other country, when visiting our city, will find his favorite brand of Cigars, Cigarettes Tobacco and other Smokers' Requisites at our store.

We also carry a full line of Picture Postcards and Books of Views of Newfoundland.

Our Soda Water Fountain is now in full swing. Our Ice Cold Coca Cola and other Syrups are pronounced by all to be the very best in the city.

A good smoke, a cool drink and a visit to our beautiful Bowring Park will linger in your memory for many years.

CASH'S TOBACCO STORE, 717-27, eod, 11 Water Street

Shipping Notes.

S.S. Belvernon with a general cargo from Boston and Halifax arrived in port this morning.

S.S. Henri Klund has entered at Nipper's Hr. to load pit props for England.

Schr. Florence E. has arrived from the banks to Grand Bank with 800 quintals codfish.

Schr. Emily H. Patten has cleared for Oporto from Grand Bank with 399 quintals codfish.

Schr. Warren M. Calp has arrived at Stones' Cove from the banks reporting for 1550 qtls. codfish.

Schrs. Vera B. and Kasia have arrived from the Straits to Wesleyville with 400 and 300 qtls. codfish respectively.

S.S. Dagblid is loading at Limeville for Sydney.

S.S. Bethlehem sailed this morning from Botwood for Sydney in ballast.

Schr. Allan Frost sailed yesterday from Hr. Breton for Oporto for orders, with 1688 quintals codfish shipped by A. E. Hickman, Ltd.

Schr. Cyril T. has sailed from Channel for Oporto with 3044 qtls. codfish.

Schr. Thorndyke has arrived from the banks to Grand Bank with 1400 quintals codfish.

Masonic Funeral.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES ATTENDED BURIAL OF LATE C. R. DUDER.

Impressive ceremonies attended the funeral to-day of the late Charles R. Duder, former District Grandmaster of the Provincial Grand Lodge of Scotch Freemasons in Newfoundland and who met an untimely end on Saturday last. The funeral cortege was one of the most imposing which St. John's has ever witnessed. Thousands of citizens turned out to pay their last tribute to a man whose personality had endeared him to all who knew him, and whose end was met while he was attempting to save a companion from a watery grave. The funeral was at 3:15 p.m., this hour having been selected by the Police and members of the Standard Manufacturing Company could first attend the obsequies of the late Chesley Crocker, which took place at 2:30 p.m. The funeral of the late Mr. Duder was a full Masonic one, and at 2:30 p.m. the Masons met at their Temple and formed up, afterwards proceeding to the house of the deceased Grand Master. The Masonic Body led the procession in this order: District Grand Tyler, Inner Guards of the two City Lodges, under the Scottish Jurisdiction, Tasker and St. Andrew, the Stewards of the Lodges, and the members of Whiteway, Avalon St. John's, Heart's Content, St. Andrew's, McKay, Northcliffe, Carbonear, Harbor Grace and Tasker Lodges. Then came the ruling Master of the lodge, the District Grand Lodge of England and the District Grand Lodge of Scotland. All the fraternity were in full regalia and presented a most imposing and impressive appearance. Following the Masonic Body came a hearse containing the floral tributes, whose beauty is almost indescribable. Each lodge had contributed a special wreath and the flowers had been skillfully arranged to make Masonic Emblems of extraordinary beauty of appearance and design. The following were the lodges' tributes.

District Grand Lodge.—Large Square and Compass.

St. Andrew's Lodge.—Square and Compass.

Bay Robert's Lodge.—Square and Compass.

Tasker Lodge.—Masonic Apron.

Heart's Content Lodge.—Past Master's Jewel.

Carbonear Lodge.—Broken Column.

Grand Falls Lodge.—J.W. Jewel.

Harbor Grace Lodge.—D.G.M.'s Collar and Jewel, and wreaths from the English lodges.

The wreaths sent by the many friends of the deceased were also of a rare beauty. Following the hearse with the flowers came that drawing the casket. This was a beautiful one and was covered with flowers. Following came the family, relatives and intimate friends of the deceased. Then came the Directors and employees of the Standard Manufacturing Company. The Council and members of the Board of Trade, the members of the St. John's Rotary Club, representatives of the French Navy, and citizens. The cortege proceeded to the General Protestant Cemetery by way of Duckworth, to Water Street by the King's Beach and Waterford Bridge Road. At the graveside the service was conducted by Rev. C. H. Johnson and Rev. R. J. Power. After the committal, the Masonic portion of the ceremony was conducted by Rev. C. A. Moulton, District Grand Chaplain, S.C. The Grand Honours were given for the last time, after the chanting of the hymn, "Come brothers 'ere to-night we part'" was sung by the fraternity and taken up by hundreds of outside voices. The last Masonic tribute was the throwing by every individual member of the fraternity of a sprig of ever-green into the open grave, and the obsequies of the late Charles R. Duder were at an end.

FUNERAL OF CHESLEY CROCKER.

The funeral of the late Chesley Crocker the other victim of the drowning accident took place from his home, Nunery Hill, at 2:30 p.m. today. The remains were enclosed in a beautiful casket which was laden with flowers. Amongst the wreaths was one from the Masonic fraternity. The funeral was largely attended, the employees of the Standard Manufacturing Company co-workers of the deceased walking in a body. The service was conducted by Rev. C. H. Johnson and Rev. R. J. Power. After the committal, the Masonic portion of the ceremony was conducted by Rev. C. A. Moulton, District Grand Chaplain, S.C. The Grand Honours were given for the last time, after the chanting of the hymn, "Come brothers 'ere to-night we part'" was sung by the fraternity and taken up by hundreds of outside voices. The last Masonic tribute was the throwing by every individual member of the fraternity of a sprig of ever-green into the open grave, and the obsequies of the late Charles R. Duder were at an end.

FUNERAL OF CHESLEY CROCKER.

The funeral of the late Chesley Crocker the other victim of the drowning accident took place from his home, Nunery Hill, at 2:30 p.m. today. The remains were enclosed in a beautiful casket which was laden with flowers. Amongst the wreaths was one from the Masonic fraternity. The funeral was largely attended, the employees of the Standard Manufacturing Company co-workers of the deceased walking in a body. The service was conducted by Rev. C. H. Johnson and Rev. R. J. Power. After the committal, the Masonic portion of the ceremony was conducted by Rev. C. A. Moulton, District Grand Chaplain, S.C. The Grand Honours were given for the last time, after the chanting of the hymn, "Come brothers 'ere to-night we part'" was sung by the fraternity and taken up by hundreds of outside voices. The last Masonic tribute was the throwing by every individual member of the fraternity of a sprig of ever-green into the open grave, and the obsequies of the late Charles R. Duder were at an end.

FUNERAL OF CHESLEY CROCKER.

The funeral of the late Chesley Crocker the other victim of the drowning accident took place from his home, Nunery Hill, at 2:30 p.m. today. The remains were enclosed in a beautiful casket which was laden with flowers. Amongst the wreaths was one from the Masonic fraternity. The funeral was largely attended, the employees of the Standard Manufacturing Company co-workers of the deceased walking in a body. The service was conducted by Rev. C. H. Johnson and Rev. R. J. Power. After the committal, the Masonic portion of the ceremony was conducted by Rev. C. A. Moulton, District Grand Chaplain, S.C. The Grand Honours were given for the last time, after the chanting of the hymn, "Come brothers 'ere to-night we part'" was sung by the fraternity and taken up by hundreds of outside voices. The last Masonic tribute was the throwing by every individual member of the fraternity of a sprig of ever-green into the open grave, and the obsequies of the late Charles R. Duder were at an end.

FUNERAL OF CHESLEY CROCKER.

The funeral of the late Chesley Crocker the other victim of the drowning accident took place from his home, Nunery Hill, at 2:30 p.m. today. The remains were enclosed in a beautiful casket which was laden with flowers. Amongst the wreaths was one from the Masonic fraternity. The funeral was largely attended, the employees of the Standard Manufacturing Company co-workers of the deceased walking in a body. The service was conducted by Rev. C. H. Johnson and Rev. R. J. Power. After the committal, the Masonic portion of the ceremony was conducted by Rev. C. A. Moulton, District Grand Chaplain, S.C. The Grand Honours were given for the last time, after the chanting of the hymn, "Come brothers 'ere to-night we part'" was sung by the fraternity and taken up by hundreds of outside voices. The last Masonic tribute was the throwing by every individual member of the fraternity of a sprig of ever-green into the open grave, and the obsequies of the late Charles R. Duder were at an end.

FUNERAL OF CHESLEY CROCKER.

The funeral of the late Chesley Crocker the other victim of the drowning accident took place from his home, Nunery Hill, at 2:30 p.m. today. The remains were enclosed in a beautiful casket which was laden with flowers. Amongst the wreaths was one from the Masonic fraternity. The funeral was largely attended, the employees of the Standard Manufacturing Company co-workers of the deceased walking in a body. The service was conducted by Rev. C. H. Johnson and Rev. R. J. Power. After the committal, the Masonic portion of the ceremony was conducted by Rev. C. A. Moulton, District Grand Chaplain, S.C. The Grand Honours were given for the last time, after the chanting of the hymn, "Come brothers 'ere to-night we part'" was sung by the fraternity and taken up by hundreds of outside voices. The last Masonic tribute was the throwing by every individual member of the fraternity of a sprig of ever-green into the open grave, and the obsequies of the late Charles R. Duder were at an end.

FUNERAL OF CHESLEY CROCKER.

The funeral of the late Chesley Crocker the other victim of the drowning accident took place from his home, Nunery Hill, at 2:30 p.m. today. The remains were enclosed in a beautiful casket which was laden with flowers. Amongst the wreaths was one from the Masonic fraternity. The funeral was largely attended, the employees of the Standard Manufacturing Company co-workers of the deceased walking in a body. The service was conducted by Rev. C. H. Johnson and Rev. R. J. Power. After the committal, the Masonic portion of the ceremony was conducted by Rev. C. A. Moulton, District Grand Chaplain, S.C. The Grand Honours were given for the last time, after the chanting of the hymn, "Come brothers 'ere to-night we part'" was sung by the fraternity and taken up by hundreds of outside voices. The last Masonic tribute was the throwing by every individual member of the fraternity of a sprig of ever-green into the open grave, and the obsequies of the late Charles R. Duder were at an end.

FUNERAL OF CHESLEY CROCKER.

The funeral of the late Chesley Crocker the other victim of the drowning accident took place from his home, Nunery Hill, at 2:30 p.m. today. The remains were enclosed in a beautiful casket which was laden with flowers. Amongst the wreaths was one from the Masonic fraternity. The funeral was largely attended, the employees of the Standard Manufacturing Company co-workers of the deceased walking in a body. The service was conducted by Rev. C. H. Johnson and Rev. R. J. Power. After the committal, the Masonic portion of the ceremony was conducted by Rev. C. A. Moulton, District Grand Chaplain, S.C. The Grand Honours were given for the last time, after the chanting of the hymn, "Come brothers 'ere to-night we part'" was sung by the fraternity and taken up by hundreds of outside voices. The last Masonic tribute was the throwing by every individual member of the fraternity of a sprig of ever-green into the open grave, and the obsequies of the late Charles R. Duder were at an end.

FUNERAL OF CHESLEY CROCKER.

The funeral of the late Chesley Crocker the other victim of the drowning accident took place from his home, Nunery Hill, at 2:30 p.m. today. The remains were enclosed in a beautiful casket which was laden with flowers. Amongst the wreaths was one from the Masonic fraternity. The funeral was largely attended, the employees of the Standard Manufacturing Company co-workers of the deceased walking in a body. The service was conducted by Rev. C. H. Johnson and Rev. R. J. Power. After the committal, the Masonic portion of the ceremony was conducted by Rev. C. A. Moulton, District Grand Chaplain, S.C. The Grand Honours were given for the last time, after the chanting of the hymn, "Come brothers 'ere to-night we part'" was sung by the fraternity and taken up by hundreds of outside voices. The last Masonic tribute was the throwing by every individual member of the fraternity of a sprig of ever-green into the open grave, and the obsequies of the late Charles R. Duder were at an end.

FUNERAL OF CHESLEY CROCKER.

The funeral of the late Chesley Crocker the other victim of the drowning accident took place from his home, Nunery Hill, at 2:30 p.m. today. The remains were enclosed in a beautiful casket which was laden with flowers. Amongst the wreaths was one from the Masonic fraternity. The funeral was largely attended, the employees of the Standard Manufacturing Company co-workers of the deceased walking in a body. The service was conducted by Rev. C. H. Johnson and Rev. R. J. Power. After the committal, the Masonic portion of the ceremony was conducted by Rev. C. A. Moulton, District Grand Chaplain, S.C. The Grand Honours were given for the last time, after the chanting of the hymn, "Come brothers 'ere to-night we part'" was sung by the fraternity and taken up by hundreds of outside voices. The last Masonic tribute was the throwing by every individual member of the fraternity of a sprig of ever-green into the open grave, and the obsequies of the late Charles R. Duder were at an end.

FUNERAL OF CHESLEY CROCKER.

The funeral of the late Chesley Crocker the other victim of the drowning accident took place from his home, Nunery Hill, at 2:30 p.m. today. The remains were enclosed in a beautiful casket which was laden with flowers. Amongst the wreaths was one from the Masonic fraternity. The funeral was largely attended, the employees of the Standard Manufacturing Company co-workers of the deceased walking in a body. The service was conducted by Rev. C. H. Johnson and Rev. R. J. Power. After the committal, the Masonic portion of the ceremony was conducted by Rev. C. A. Moulton, District Grand Chaplain, S.C. The Grand Honours were given for the last time, after the chanting of the hymn, "Come brothers 'ere to-night we part'" was sung by the fraternity and taken up by hundreds of outside voices. The last Masonic tribute was the throwing by every individual member of the fraternity of a sprig of ever-green into the open grave, and the obsequies of the late Charles R. Duder were at an end.

FUNERAL OF CHESLEY CROCKER.

The funeral of the late Chesley Crocker the other victim of the drowning accident took place from his home, Nunery Hill, at 2:30 p.m. today. The remains were enclosed in a beautiful casket which was laden with flowers. Amongst the wreaths was one from the Masonic fraternity. The funeral was largely attended, the employees of the Standard Manufacturing Company co-workers of the deceased walking in a body. The service was conducted by Rev. C. H. Johnson and Rev. R. J. Power. After the committal, the Masonic portion of the ceremony was conducted by Rev. C. A. Moulton, District Grand Chaplain, S.C. The Grand Honours were given for the last time, after the chanting of the hymn, "Come brothers 'ere to-night we part'" was sung by the fraternity and taken up by hundreds of outside voices. The last Masonic tribute was the throwing by every individual member of the fraternity of a sprig of ever-green into the open grave, and the obsequies of the late Charles R. Duder were at an end.

FUNERAL OF CHESLEY CROCKER.

The funeral of the late Chesley Crocker the other victim of the drowning accident took place from his home, Nunery Hill, at 2:30 p.m. today. The remains were enclosed in a beautiful casket which was laden with flowers. Amongst the wreaths was one from the Masonic fraternity. The funeral was largely attended, the employees of the Standard Manufacturing Company co-workers of the deceased walking in a body. The service was conducted by Rev. C. H. Johnson and Rev. R. J. Power. After the committal, the Masonic portion of the ceremony was conducted by Rev. C. A. Moulton, District Grand Chaplain, S.C. The Grand Honours were given for the last time, after the chanting of the hymn, "Come brothers 'ere to-night we part'" was sung by the fraternity and taken up by hundreds of outside voices. The last Masonic tribute was the throwing by every individual member of the fraternity of a sprig of ever-green into the open grave, and the obsequies of the late Charles R. Duder were at an end.

FUNERAL OF CHESLEY CROCKER.

The funeral of the late Chesley Crocker the other victim of the drowning accident took place from his home, Nunery Hill, at 2:30 p.m. today. The remains were enclosed in a beautiful casket which was laden with flowers. Amongst the wreaths was one from the Masonic fraternity. The funeral was largely attended, the employees of the Standard Manufacturing Company co-workers of the deceased walking in a body. The service was conducted by Rev. C. H. Johnson and Rev. R. J. Power. After the committal, the Masonic portion of the ceremony was conducted by Rev. C. A. Moulton, District Grand Chaplain, S.C. The Grand Honours were given for the last time, after the chanting of the hymn, "Come brothers 'ere to-night we part'" was sung by the fraternity and taken up by hundreds of outside voices. The last Masonic tribute was the throwing by every individual member of the fraternity of a sprig of ever-green into the open grave, and the obsequies of the late Charles R. Duder were at an end.

FUNERAL OF CHESLEY CROCKER.

The funeral of the late Chesley Crocker the other victim of the drowning accident took place from his home, Nunery Hill, at 2:30 p.m. today. The remains were enclosed in a beautiful casket which was laden with flowers. Amongst the wreaths was one from the Masonic fraternity. The funeral was largely attended, the employees of the Standard Manufacturing Company co-workers of the deceased walking in a body. The service was conducted by Rev. C. H. Johnson and Rev. R. J. Power. After the committal, the Masonic portion of the ceremony was conducted by Rev. C. A. Moulton, District Grand Chaplain, S.C. The Grand Honours were given for the last time, after the chanting of the hymn, "Come brothers 'ere to-night we part'" was sung by the fraternity and taken up by hundreds of outside voices. The last Masonic tribute was the throwing by every individual member of the fraternity of a sprig of ever-green into the open grave, and the obsequies of the late Charles R. Duder were at an end.

FUNERAL OF CHESLEY CROCKER.

The funeral of the late Chesley Crocker the other victim of the drowning accident took place from his home, Nunery Hill, at 2:30 p.m. today. The remains were enclosed in a beautiful casket which was laden with flowers. Amongst the wreaths was one from the Masonic fraternity. The funeral was largely attended, the employees of the Standard Manufacturing Company co-workers of the deceased walking in a body. The service was conducted by Rev. C. H. Johnson and Rev. R. J. Power. After the committal, the Masonic portion of the ceremony was conducted by Rev. C. A. Moulton, District Grand Chaplain, S.C. The Grand Honours were given for the last time, after the chanting of the hymn, "Come brothers 'ere to-night we part'" was sung by the fraternity and taken up by hundreds of outside voices. The last Masonic tribute was the throwing by every individual member of the fraternity of a sprig of ever-green into the open grave, and the obsequies of the late Charles R. Duder were at an end.

Cameras for the Regatta

AT

Actual Cost Price.

An actual Cost Price Sale of Cameras is now on at the Kodak Store. From to-day until Regatta Day, Aug. 2nd, every Camera in our store will be sold at COST PRICE. There is no "fake" in this wonderful sale, the genuine listed cost price of every camera will be its selling price.

Such an offer has never been made in the city before, and as Sales like this don't happen every day it's up to YOU to get your Camera NOW, in good time to snap "all the fun of the Races."

The Slaughter of the Brownies.

100 Brownie Cameras—the ideal Camera for children and beginners—are offered at the ridiculously low figure of $3.00 each. Who'd be without one at that price? Think of the fun you can have anytime with a Camera and a roll-o'-film, and have a little Brownie in your home right away.

100

$3.00 Brownies $3.00

Tooton's, The Kodak Store

309 Water St., : : 'Phone No. 131

Rev. Fr. Stephen Awad

SYRIAN PRIEST DELIVERS AN ELOQUENT ADDRESS.

The Reverend Father Awad, Syrian Priest, who arrived here recently from Toronto to visit the Syrian Community of Newfoundland, delivered a powerful address Tuesday night to a large gathering of Syrians at the residence of Mr. Kallam Noah.

The Reverend Father began with a vivid description of the history of the Maronite Church, impressing upon the minds of his audience the fact that Syria and Syrians were no exception and that they fought and shed their blood for Christianity. Syrians could boast of their ancestors; Lebanon had its martyrs and freedom was handed down to you. Guard, honour and preserve your great legacy, economic and social chaos. The foundation of religion is Love: Love God and love your neighbour. Love is a bond of union and in union there is strength.

In closing his address the Reverend Father by special request gave a brief outline of the present form of Government in Syria and the wonderful developments that have been taken place since the French Mandate. As a commercial center, he said Syria is the near east to-day is well on its way to regain the glory of the Ancient Phoenicians, who in the dim past lived on their soil and who were the first civilized traders.

New Arrivals To-Day

(Ex. S.S. SILVIA & SACHEM):

NEW POTATOES.
CALIFORNIA ORANGES.
PLUMS.
FRESH TOMATOES.
FRESH CORN.
CALIFORNIA & VERDELLI LEMONS
From England:
BORNEO CIGARS.
BIRD'S CUSTARD.
FRESH DATES.
MORTON'S POTATO FLOUR—1/4's & 1's
MORTON'S 99 p.c. PURE CREAM TARTAR
BORAX—1/4's & 1/2's
ARROWROOT—1/4's & 1/2's
REAL CAMBRIDGE SAUSAGES—Large oval tins.
REAL ENGLISH BLACK PUDDINGS—Large oval tins.
20 Cases HARTLEY'S JAMS & MARMALADE, etc.

C. P. EAGAN,

2 Stores:
Duckworth Street & Queen's Road

Treats 'Em

With Contempt.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—My attention has been drawn to an anonymous correspondent writing another dirty letter to the Advocate. When "Long Harry" signs his proper name I am ready to answer him, but I take no notice of miserable assassins, who are so ashamed of their own name. They carry no weight, and no respectable paper would publish them.

Yours truly,
W. A. MUNN.

July 27, 1922.

REGATTA WEEK: During the coming week STEELE'S Crockery Store will offer a line of Fancy Gilt 21-Piece Tea Sets for $4.75 a set. See window.

Schr. Lost in Straits.

The following message was received by the Collector of Customs this morning from N. Hennessey, Sub Collector at West St. Modeste: "Schr. Havana is a total wreck at East St. Modeste. Crew landed safely."

The New Series of the good Maxwell provides the full measure of riding comfort which the average man and woman so keenly want and hope for. Superb performance, money-saving reliability and sturdiness—these the new organization has united with a degree of roadability remarkable in a car of this weight and size.

MARSHALL'S GARAGE,

WATER STREET WEST

MAXWELL

The Good

Company Inc.

MILLION DOLLAR

proposition of the way with the int

is a train ferry be ected some 8 year

during the war pe set on foot, and

led at ten million

a recently incorpo

the schemes. In own as the Newfo

Train Ferry Syn

entered in England

by H. B. Thompso

tion to the govern

for the constructi

in Ramen, Trinity

Intention of opera

service to Louisbu

embraced the con

way from Humber

nds to South We

with a branch line

having a train fer

of Islands to Ga

Newfoundland

main conditions, gr

The new compa

Great Lakes New

Company, Ltd.,

here a few days a

of acquiring the m

company and an

ned, Mr. Thompso

with it. As called

ers, viz Messrs. Jo

Neil Conroy, and into 100,000

It is probable th

ed on the Americ