Production of Opium and Narcotics

EXPERTS ARE WORKING HARD TO CURTAIL PRODUCTION.

April 29.—A programme of work aimed at curtailing the production of opium and other narcotics has been set on foot by the League of Nations. The committee on the opium question, which was set up by the League of Nations, will meet in Geneva next November. The committee will be charged with the task of reducing the production of opium to the minimum necessary for medical and scientific purposes. The committee will also be charged with the task of reducing the production of other narcotics to the minimum necessary for medical and scientific purposes.

ent time. Since the cultivation of the plants is now a large source of revenue to certain governments, it has been found impossible to effect the complete eradication of the plant at present. The committee, however, suggests that no state in the future be allowed to obtain greater revenue from this source than is necessary to cover the expenses involved in controlling the narcotic traffic.

Furthermore, special clauses will have to be made for the states which by treaty are not allowed to raise the customs duties and thus compensate themselves for any reduction in opium tax revenue.

As regards transportation of the drug, Mr. Neville has accepted in principle the system of import and export licenses recently introduced by the league which provides that the drug be exported for medicinal purposes only on a license from the importing country. He suggests there should be a reciprocal right of search on the high seas in regions agreed upon, and that there should be no re-export of opium.

A permanent central organization to receive annual reports from all powers who are parties to the convention would be established. These reports should show the amount of opium produced, imported, exported, and consumed, and heavy penalties provided for offenses against the regulations.

The egg with the greatest claim to distinction is one which was used as a birth certificate. This unique "document" was submitted to a meeting of the School Attendance Committee held at Norwich in February, 1899. Mrs. Bell, a widow, had been called upon to prove that her daughter had reached the school exemption age.

She produced an egg, colored in tints of purple, yellow, and cream, with the name of her daughter and the date of her birth picked out in white in almost cursive lettering. In addition, two texts had been written on the egg: "The Lord shall guide thee continually" and "Teach me to do Thy will." This was the only record Mrs. Bell had of her daughter's birth, and after the "certificate" had been passed round and admired, the Committee accepted it as evidence.

Detroit Ford Hospital Called Human Garage

DOCTORS COMPLAIN THAT AUTO-MOBILE MAGNATE IS EFFICIENTLY MAD—PATIENTS PAY IN ADVANCE.

The doctors of Detroit are boycotting the big Henry Ford Hospital, stating emphatically that when efficiency run rampant may be the worst inhumanity to man.

They claim that the Ford hospital is nothing but a human garage, handling patients like Ford cars in need of repairs.

The hospital is run on the famous Ford efficiency lines. Patients "pay as they enter." There is no credit extended to anyone. Charges are based on work to be done, as in a garage, so much for cutting a leg off, so much for removing an appendix, and so on.

All patients, regardless of financial circumstances, pay alike. John R. Rockefeller would be treated at exactly the same price as a day laborer.

No charity work whatever is done. Mr. Ford believes no one ought to expect to get something for nothing in a hospital any more than he would expect to get it in a garage.

Patients are not allowed to consult outside doctors. All work in the hospital must be done by the Ford surgeons.

Doctors and nurses work on a strict schedule of hours and punch the time clock just as in the Ford factory.

The hospital has no connection with the Ford factory. It is open to all citizens of Detroit. Mr. Ford's object in starting it was to show that a hospital could be made to pay as well as an automobile factory. The hospital does pay.

Detroit doctors claim that a hospital should never refuse to treat patients because they have no money and that rich patients should be charged more to make up for the cost of treating people who cannot pay.

Mr. Ford says charity is "bunk," and people should pay for what they get and pay alike.

Blonde and Brunette

Miss Marie Tempest, following the prevalent fashion, is writing her reminiscences. The book should be interesting reading, for the popular actress has a large and varied assortment of stories that are as true both now and good.

One of her favorites concerns two theatrical stars whose relations were none of the best. A certain manager wanted them, for business reasons, to be friends again.

To this end he invited them to dine with them, and over the fish he said, addressing them both:

"Come ladies, make up!"

"But, Thais," said the blonde star, "is already made up."

"Thais, the brunette, bit her lip and waited her chance. It came with the dessert, when they started to discuss a mutual acquaintance."

"She's a capital cat," said the blonde star. "She said I was a tramp, and couldn't act anyway."

"Very rude!" remarked Thais sweetly. "Still my dear, it's better than having her tell me about you."

Soap which is'nt good enough for washing your hands is not good enough for washing your clothing.

Besides you cannot wash clothes, or in fact do any washing without getting your hands into the suds.

You wouldn't wash your face or hands with low grade inferior or injurious laundry soap.

Yet the skin on your face and hands will last a lifetime, whilst clothing wears out in a year.

Consequently you should use Sunlight Soap for washing your clothing and for general use.

Intelligent women always use Sunlight Soap---It cannot injure even a baby's skin.

Sunlight Soap is endorsed by Lever Brothers. Five Thousand Dollars guarantee of purity.

Sand Desert in Alaska

REVEALED BY SUMMER SUN.

CANTWELL, Alaska—(A. P.)—Shifting sands, having all the characteristics of the great American desert and providing a menace to inexperienced travellers, have been discovered in interior Alaska, according to prospectors arriving from Valdez Creek placer diggings.

This desert of Alaska is located between Valdez Creek and Myers' roadhouse, on the Richardson highway. L. S. Wickersham, a placer miner of the Valdez Creek region, has described the barren area. He said scores were gained in years past by "mushing" 100 miles or more over the snow. As these trips were made in winter, the heavy snow concealed the nature of the country. Last summer, however, prospectors went further afield in their excursions from Valdez Creek, and they encountered conditions that made them apprehensive and wary. When the old trail had appeared in winter as leading plainly across a level plateau, they found immense sand dunes and the entire landscape changed.

In summer the winds start the sands to moving in the same manner as on the American desert. Changing of landmarks makes it difficult to travel.

The sand is of a pure silicious material, indicating an origin in alluvial rock. For that reason prospectors maintain that the region was the last resting place of glaciers containing vast stores of ice.

Suicide Towers Closed to Public

MUNICH, April 14 (A.P.)—The towers of St. Mary's church, which rise to a height of 337 feet, are to be closed to the public because of their continued popularity with persons determined upon suicide.

The towers were built in the fifteenth century. Six persons have used them with suicidal intent, and

Petrified Forest Found

LOS ANGELES, May 1 (A.P.)—A small petrified forest, consisting of a number of stumps and fallen logs has been discovered in the hills that rim the Mohave desert, 135 miles northeast of here.

The tallest of the petrified standing stumps is about nine feet high, and is filled with mud and lava.
