

NOTICE.

Tenders will be received by the undersigned up to the 15th day of August, 1924, for the purchase of the whole or part of certain pulpwood belonging to the Government of Newfoundland as it now lies at various places in the Districts of St. George, St. Barbe, Twillingate, Bonaville and Trinity.

A general idea of where this wood should be found can be obtained by application to this office, but the undersigned is not prepared to guarantee to deliver any particular quantity or quality of wood.

Tenders should state the price per cord offered and the location of the wood required.

Terms of payment: Cash on delivery of Scales report to purchaser.

The highest or any tender will not necessarily be accepted.

W. J. WALSH,
Minister of Agriculture & Mines,
Dept. of Agriculture & Mines,
St. John's, Newfoundland,
July 14th, 1924.

NEWFOUNDLAND.
NOTICE TO MARINERS
No. 3—1924.

Gull Island—Cape John

Lat. 49° 59' 54" N.
Long. 55° 21' 33" W.

Change in Character of Light

Notice is hereby given that after September 30th, 1924, the INTERMITTENT WHITE LIGHT, now exhibited at Gull Island—Cape John, will be changed to a FIXED WHITE LIGHT.

W. C. WINNOR,
Minister of Marine & Fisheries,
Dept. of Marine & Fisheries,
St. John's, Newfoundland,
July 4, 1924.

NEYLES

SQUID O.H.
Neyles Patent Small Shore Pin Squid Jigs.
Neyles Patent Large Bank Pin Squid Jigs.
Grappell Squid Jigs, 20 hook.
Grappell Squid Jigs, bank size.
French Squid Jigs.

SQUID LINES.

SQUID SEDS,
Yellow and Red.

HOOKS.

Just received—No. 13, 14, 15 and 16 trawl Hooks.

HAND LINE HOOKS.

Large Quarter Round and Kirby Extra Quarter Round.

—ALSO—

Flattened and Ringed Hand Hooks.

WOOL CARDS.

New stock of cheap Wool Cards.

OIL CLOTHES.

Black Patched American.

LINNETT.

5 and 6 inch, 15 thread.

HAY FORKS.

SCYTHES.

Best quality English Nash and B. Y.

REAP HOOKS.

B. Y. No. 3, 4 and 5.

CLOTHES PINS.

Spring, per gross . . . 50c.
Common, per 5 gross box $2.25

THE NEYLE-SOPER

HARDWARE CO., LTD.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

In the Realms of Sport

LAST NIGHT'S FOOTBALL.

Guards Defeat Champions Cadets.

The Guards and Cadets, aspirants for championship football honors, faced off at St. George's Field last night before the largest attendance of spectators for the season, in what proved to be a stiff battle for the points. The Guards, who were probably the better conditioned team, snatched victory from the champions by a score of 2 goals to 1. The Cadets thus suffering their first defeat for the season. The Guards winning the toss, defended the western goal of the field, and taking advantage of the opening of play, the champions, to stem the onslaught, were requested to call in one of the forwards to strengthen the defence, and to all appearances it worked very well. The Guards forwards made repeated attempts to get inside the opposing backs, but to no advantage. At times the ball was skied too much to produce any results. On several occasions the Cadet forwards bucked the ball against the wind into the Guards goal arena, and saw two pretty passes sent over from the right by Flynn, missed by both Caul and Meaney in front of goal. The Guards commenced to buck up after ten minutes of play and confined the ball to the eastern end of the field. Walsh was called upon to make several difficult steps from the outside. Brown and Kavanagh being too effective for the forwards to get on the inside. After fifteen minutes of play had elapsed, Coultas gained control and on a pretty pass from the left wing, Dicky Quick picked it up and lost no time in sending home the first counter, much to the rejoicing of the Guards supporters. After the ball had been recaptured, the Cadet forwards pressed matters, but the Guards defence lines proved impregnable. The teams crossed over with no further scoring.

DONATED SILENDIP CUP.

Mr. C. E. Russell, Minister of Public Works, donated a beautiful silver cup for the three mile turf race in connection with St. Paul's Garden Party, which event took place at Shannon Park, St. John's, last Wednesday.

The trophy was won by Ron O'Toole, the local champion, and is greatly prized by the winner. The Garden Party Committee appreciate very much the thoughtfulness of Mr. Russell in putting up such a handsome trophy for athletic competition.

PRELIMINARY FOOTBALL FIXES.

At the Feildian grounds last night, a series of football fixes were played under the knockout system, by the teams from the Junior League, in connection with St. Patrick's Garden Party. The first game, Cadets vs. Scouts, resulted in a victory for the former by a score of two goals, one corner, to nil. The T.A. lads defeated the Gaelic by one goal to nil, and in the final game Holy Cross triumphed over the R.S. by one goal, two corners, to none. The games for the Garden Party are:—

Wesley vs. T. A.
Cadets vs. Holy Cross.

Medals will be presented to the victorious team.

AMERICA'S BEST IN OLYMPIC MARATHON.

BOSTON, July 7.—Times have changed since the individual shaving mug and the Ascot tie were in fashion.

For instance, it is no longer a positive crime to christen the young hopeful Clarence.

A Clarence no longer indicates a passion for pink sodas and croquet, and credit for lifting the unjustly maligned name to a position of dignity belongs to a middle-aged Boston printer, by name Clarence De Mar.

It may be that Clarence De Mar likes his pink sodas and plays an occasional round of croquet, but also happens to be America's greatest marathon runner as well as the country's chief reliance in the Olympic struggle.

You don't find many faint-hearted, weak-willed or poorly conditioned men going out for the marathon with its grueling distance of 2 miles, 385 yards.

Freak of Olympic Team.

De Mar is the most unique figure on the American team, unique in the sense that he is absolutely his own trainer and boss. DeMar has a style all of his own. He runs with a vigorous leg swing, much after the fashion of a sprinter. At no time does he seem to be taking matters easy, which is the approved custom of the long distance runner.

De Mar is not on training diet, as are all the other Olympic performers. He eats what and when he pleases. Diets have never meant anything in the Boston man's life. He has been running for fifteen years, and has never had a stomach pain, a common ailment among marathoners.

Acting on the theory that you cannot teach an old settler to use a finger gawl, the Olympic coaches have turned De Mar loose to do as his fancy dictates. They realize they are running no big risk. As recent as last April De Mar set a new world's record for the marathon, winning the Boston run in two hours 29 minutes 45 seconds.

WHI Meet Old Rival.

The old record of 2 hours 32 minutes 34-5 seconds was held by Hannes Hohlemaier, the great Finn, who incidentally will be his most dangerous rival at Paris.

De Mar broke into the limelight in 1911 when he won the Boston marathon in record time for the local event. The following year he went to Stockholm with the Olympic team but finished far back with the also rans. Discouraged he gave up running and remained out of athletics until he found himself in the army during the war.

De Mar is slightly built, almost frail, and is a printer by trade. Also he is the troop master of the largest squad of Boy Scouts in Metro. Mass., and the teacher of the largest Sunday School class in the same neighboring Boston village.

It is hardly necessary to add that the young citizenry of the community are more than mildly interested in the outcome of the Olympic marathon.

"The White Flower" Wins

BETTY COMPTON'S NEW PARAMOUNT PICTURE IS ENTERTAINING.

Proving itself to be a genuinely entertaining production, "The White Flower," a Paramount picture starring Betty Compton, was shown with flattering results at the Majestic Theatre last night.

This production is entirely different from "Kiss In," in which Miss Compton last appeared. In "The White Flower" she has the role of the young daughter of an American father and a Hawaiian mother. She falls in love with a young American. Just as she

PEPPYS BEHIND THE SCENES.

July 14.—Waked betimes, mightily troubled in my mind by reason of the rainy, being that I did leave my window open for the night, and found myself in the most true trouble that ever I was in my life, since the water did form in a pool under the window and the ceilings below are ruined beyond recovery. But Lord, to see the rage my wife is in when she discovers it, and one would think by the way she did berate me, that it was she that must pay for the damage and not I.

This morning, to the Board of Trade, there to hear resolutions of congratulation presented to Captain Gordon, the High Commissioner at London, and divers speeches made filled with such glowing praise, as must have made the good man's ears burn. He looks a most excellent fellow, and makes a pretty discourse, in giving his thanks.

So to the office, and see Sir R. Bond, he walking down the street, and looks as well preserved as when I did meet him three years ago, albeit with a slight stoop of the shoulders, which is but natural in one of his years. But indeed, methinks there is no more distinguished looking man in the whole island of Newfoundland, and pretty to see how spick and span he is in his morning clothes, with which he wears white spats, and a grey felt hat.

To the Colonial Building, where I find the House sitting, but little business done beyond the Notices of Bills and questions, but will be a longer session to-morrow.

Despatches out of Brazil tell of a revolution there, and from 300 to 2,000 people already killed, which do leave a very wide margin, nor is it a matter worth of much consideration since revolutions are matters of custom in South America.

Control of Turkey's Pocketbook

Turkey's financial sovereignty has been crippled for over forty years by the arrangement with the Powers through which the Ottoman Debt Council was constituted in December, 1881, in order that the Powers might be sure of getting what was coming to them, and the financial house of Turkey be kept in order. So say the new Turks, according to the Constantinople correspondent of the London Times, and that is why they have been vigorously abusing this arrangement as an obsolete survival. Moreover, a clear indication of the ultimate intention of their Government to modify it is said to be evidenced in the appropriation of such receipts from the ceded revenues as were still being paid into the headquarters of the Ottoman Public Debt in Istanbul, and the detachment of all the Debt Agencies from the control of the Ottoman Debt Council. This Constantinople informant tells us further:

"That some such step would ultimately be taken has long been apparent. The receipts at the disposition of the Council of the Debt have been falling steadily since October, 1922, owing to the Angora Government's holding back all receipts from the ceded revenues except the local receipts in Constantinople and the immediately surrounding districts, which have now been impounded. This procedure was a direct infringement of the Decree of Muharrem under which the Ottoman Public Debt was constituted in December, 1881, and the indifference with which all protests of the Council and its demands to be put back in possession of its legal revenues have been consistently ignored made it the less surprising that the Turks should have further infringed the same Decree during the last few months by their claim to curtail the budget of the Debt according to their own ideas of how many and what persons should be employed and at what salaries. Although, therefore, it is a hopeful symptom that Abdul Halik Bey, the Yekil of Finance, should have actually acknowledged that a modification in the terms governing the arrangements of the Debt was a matter to be settled between the Government and the bondholders, the recent conduct of the Turks forbids one to cherish too confident a hope that the interests of the bondholders will receive all the consideration that is their legal due."

Wedding Bells

WILLIAMS—SMITH.
A very pretty wedding took place recently at St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Uphams Corner, Dorchester, Mass. The contracting parties were Miss Alice Williams of St. John's, Nfld., and Mr. Sydney A. Smith of Milton, Mass. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. E. Edenberg, who used the double-ring ceremony. The bride was given away by her father, and was attended by her sister, Miss Irene Williams, while Mr. Luther Smith, brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Ralph Devlin of Newton and Miles P. Nielson of Dorchester. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's uncle, E. C. Williams. After a short trip the couple will reside at 21 Beacon circle, Milton, Mass. The bride was an employee of Liberty Trust Co. She is a daughter of Mr. Robt. Williams of this city.

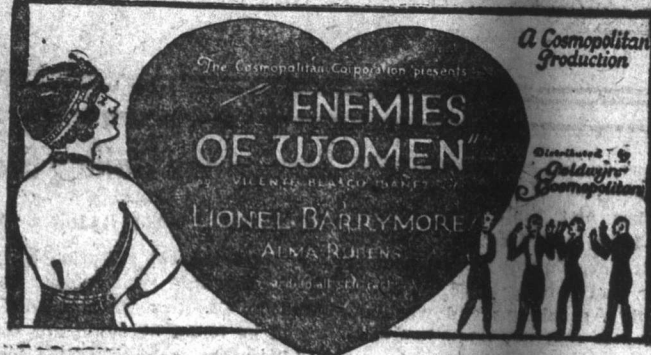

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

At THE NICKEL To-Night

NOTE:—"Enemies of Women" will not be shown at the Matinees. Children under sixteen not admitted at night.

The photodrama magnificent. The cinema sensation of all time.

More magnificent than "The Four Horsemen" — more dramatic than "Blood and Sand."

PEPPYS BEHIND THE SCENES.

July 14.—Waked betimes, mightily troubled in my mind by reason of the rainy, being that I did leave my window open for the night, and found myself in the most true trouble that ever I was in my life, since the water did form in a pool under the window and the ceilings below are ruined beyond recovery. But Lord, to see the rage my wife is in when she discovers it, and one would think by the way she did berate me, that it was she that must pay for the damage and not I.

This morning, to the Board of Trade, there to hear resolutions of congratulation presented to Captain Gordon, the High Commissioner at London, and divers speeches made filled with such glowing praise, as must have made the good man's ears burn. He looks a most excellent fellow, and makes a pretty discourse, in giving his thanks.

So to the office, and see Sir R. Bond, he walking down the street, and looks as well preserved as when I did meet him three years ago, albeit with a slight stoop of the shoulders, which is but natural in one of his years. But indeed, methinks there is no more distinguished looking man in the whole island of Newfoundland, and pretty to see how spick and span he is in his morning clothes, with which he wears white spats, and a grey felt hat.

To the Colonial Building, where I find the House sitting, but little business done beyond the Notices of Bills and questions, but will be a longer session to-morrow.

Despatches out of Brazil tell of a revolution there, and from 300 to 2,000 people already killed, which do leave a very wide margin, nor is it a matter worth of much consideration since revolutions are matters of custom in South America.

Control of Turkey's Pocketbook

Turkey's financial sovereignty has been crippled for over forty years by the arrangement with the Powers through which the Ottoman Debt Council was constituted in December, 1881, in order that the Powers might be sure of getting what was coming to them, and the financial house of Turkey be kept in order. So say the new Turks, according to the Constantinople correspondent of the London Times, and that is why they have been vigorously abusing this arrangement as an obsolete survival. Moreover, a clear indication of the ultimate intention of their Government to modify it is said to be evidenced in the appropriation of such receipts from the ceded revenues as were still being paid into the headquarters of the Ottoman Public Debt in Istanbul, and the detachment of all the Debt Agencies from the control of the Ottoman Debt Council. This Constantinople informant tells us further:

"That some such step would ultimately be taken has long been apparent. The receipts at the disposition of the Council of the Debt have been falling steadily since October, 1922, owing to the Angora Government's holding back all receipts from the ceded revenues except the local receipts in Constantinople and the immediately surrounding districts, which have now been impounded. This procedure was a direct infringement of the Decree of Muharrem under which the Ottoman Public Debt was constituted in December, 1881, and the indifference with which all protests of the Council and its demands to be put back in possession of its legal revenues have been consistently ignored made it the less surprising that the Turks should have further infringed the same Decree during the last few months by their claim to curtail the budget of the Debt according to their own ideas of how many and what persons should be employed and at what salaries. Although, therefore, it is a hopeful symptom that Abdul Halik Bey, the Yekil of Finance, should have actually acknowledged that a modification in the terms governing the arrangements of the Debt was a matter to be settled between the Government and the bondholders, the recent conduct of the Turks forbids one to cherish too confident a hope that the interests of the bondholders will receive all the consideration that is their legal due."

Wedding Bells

WILLIAMS—SMITH.
A very pretty wedding took place recently at St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Uphams Corner, Dorchester, Mass. The contracting parties were Miss Alice Williams of St. John's, Nfld., and Mr. Sydney A. Smith of Milton, Mass. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. E. Edenberg, who used the double-ring ceremony. The bride was given away by her father, and was attended by her sister, Miss Irene Williams, while Mr. Luther Smith, brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Ralph Devlin of Newton and Miles P. Nielson of Dorchester. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's uncle, E. C. Williams. After a short trip the couple will reside at 21 Beacon circle, Milton, Mass. The bride was an employee of Liberty Trust Co. She is a daughter of Mr. Robt. Williams of this city.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

PEPPYS BEHIND THE SCENES.

July 14.—Waked betimes, mightily troubled in my mind by reason of the rainy, being that I did leave my window open for the night, and found myself in the most true trouble that ever I was in my life, since the water did form in a pool under the window and the ceilings below are ruined beyond recovery. But Lord, to see the rage my wife is in when she discovers it, and one would think by the way she did berate me, that it was she that must pay for the damage and not I.

This morning, to the Board of Trade, there to hear resolutions of congratulation presented to Captain Gordon, the High Commissioner at London, and divers speeches made filled with such glowing praise, as must have made the good man's ears burn. He looks a most excellent fellow, and makes a pretty discourse, in giving his thanks.

So to the office, and see Sir R. Bond, he walking down the street, and looks as well preserved as when I did meet him three years ago, albeit with a slight stoop of the shoulders, which is but natural in one of his years. But indeed, methinks there is no more distinguished looking man in the whole island of Newfoundland, and pretty to see how spick and span he is in his morning clothes, with which he wears white spats, and a grey felt hat.

To the Colonial Building, where I find the House sitting, but little business done beyond the Notices of Bills and questions, but will be a longer session to-morrow.

Despatches out of Brazil tell of a revolution there, and from 300 to 2,000 people already killed, which do leave a very wide margin, nor is it a matter worth of much consideration since revolutions are matters of custom in South America.

Control of Turkey's Pocketbook

Turkey's financial sovereignty has been crippled for over forty years by the arrangement with the Powers through which the Ottoman Debt Council was constituted in December, 1881, in order that the Powers might be sure of getting what was coming to them, and the financial house of Turkey be kept in order. So say the new Turks, according to the Constantinople correspondent of the London Times, and that is why they have been vigorously abusing this arrangement as an obsolete survival. Moreover, a clear indication of the ultimate intention of their Government to modify it is said to be evidenced in the appropriation of such receipts from the ceded revenues as were still being paid into the headquarters of the Ottoman Public Debt in Istanbul, and the detachment of all the Debt Agencies from the control of the Ottoman Debt Council. This Constantinople informant tells us further:

"That some such step would ultimately be taken has long been apparent. The receipts at the disposition of the Council of the Debt have been falling steadily since October, 1922, owing to the Angora Government's holding back all receipts from the ceded revenues except the local receipts in Constantinople and the immediately surrounding districts, which have now been impounded. This procedure was a direct infringement of the Decree of Muharrem under which the Ottoman Public Debt was constituted in December, 1881, and the indifference with which all protests of the Council and its demands to be put back in possession of its legal revenues have been consistently ignored made it the less surprising that the Turks should have further infringed the same Decree during the last few months by their claim to curtail the budget of the Debt according to their own ideas of how many and what persons should be employed and at what salaries. Although, therefore, it is a hopeful symptom that Abdul Halik Bey, the Yekil of Finance, should have actually acknowledged that a modification in the terms governing the arrangements of the Debt was a matter to be settled between the Government and the bondholders, the recent conduct of the Turks forbids one to cherish too confident a hope that the interests of the bondholders will receive all the consideration that is their legal due."

Wedding Bells

WILLIAMS—SMITH.
A very pretty wedding took place recently at St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Uphams Corner, Dorchester, Mass. The contracting parties were Miss Alice Williams of St. John's, Nfld., and Mr. Sydney A. Smith of Milton, Mass. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. E. Edenberg, who used the double-ring ceremony. The bride was given away by her father, and was attended by her sister, Miss Irene Williams, while Mr. Luther Smith, brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Ralph Devlin of Newton and Miles P. Nielson of Dorchester. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's uncle, E. C. Williams. After a short trip the couple will reside at 21 Beacon circle, Milton, Mass. The bride was an employee of Liberty Trust Co. She is a daughter of Mr. Robt. Williams of this city.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR DIS-TEMPER.

AT Knowing's

Mrs. MacLagen will be here till Thursday demonstrating

THE GOSSARD CORSET

She also specializes in fitting growing girls and expectant mothers

Don't miss this opportunity

July 15, 21

July 15, 21

July 15, 21

July 15, 21

July 15, 21

July 15, 21

July 15, 21

July 15, 21

July 15, 21

July 1