BARNES' PATENT DRAUGHT REQUILATOR AND VENTHATOR.—This it a cheap and simple invention, which in the shape of a pipe fitted on to the store economises heat and fuel It consists of two pipes, one inside the other. Both have a hole cut in them, and by the outer pipe shifting, this opening it the heat is kept from escaping up the chimney, and is disposed through the room, while all the foul air in the room escapes through the hole and goes up the chimney. After a fair trial of one of these inventions, we feel bound to say it works well, and performs all that is claimed for it.

RAILWAY COMMISSIONERS. — The Government organs announce that the Railway Commissioners are to be Mr. C. J. Brydges, Mr. E. B. Chandler, Mr. Aquila Walsh, and temporarily, for Nova Scotia, an old fogy in one of the departments in Ottawa—Colonel Coffin. It is reported that Mr. C. J. Brydes will resign his position as manager of the G. T. R. in consequence of his appointment to the Intercolonial Railroad Commission. This it is agreed on all hands, will be the correct course for him to take, as the duties of manager require the whole time of one man.
