London, Thursday, April 24.

The Ontario elections may be held on Friday. If so, it will be a very unlucky day for the Opposition in the Legislature.

EMMA JUCH, the prima donna, when performing at Indianapolis recently, was disappointed in her reception, and stabbed the drop scene. That is a better way to work off superfluous bad temper than the tweaking of a scene shifter's nose.

The Hamilton girl who got married for fun will have to be a wife for fun all the rest of her days unless she follows the example of distinguished society in Ottawa and goes to Chicago for a divorce. The Canadian Parliament refuses to grant divorces on any ground but that of adultery.

MR. S. STEPHENSON, late of the Chatham Planet, has started the Walkerville Mercury, a weekly, in Windsor's flourishing suburb. The initial number is a very tastefully gotten-up production, typog-raphically and editorially. Mr. Stephenson will no doubt make the venture a success.

THERE is a Dominion election in progress in Ottawa, and we take notice that the Tory organs and orators are busy opposing the Equal Rights candidate. It is only in ridings where it is hoped to damage the Hon. Oliver Mowat that the Tory managers are "Equal Righters." They care for no "equal rights" that do not help them to office or to boodle.

The Tory papers which published reflections on the manner in which Mr. Geo. M.
Wells, Q.C., of Simcoe, conducted the late Assizes at Sarnia, have been compelled to take back all their allegations. They now say that Mr. Wells is a gentleman and a lawyer eminently fitted to perform his duties. This one more fling at Hon. Mr. Mowat, who is responsible for the selection of Crown counsel, has turned out to be a boomerang.

One block on Elgin street has furnished the Province with two Deputy Ministers of Agriculture, and J. Miller, Deputy Minister of Education.
The other residents in the block are becoming a little nervous, for there is no telling where the lightning will strike next.—St. Thomas Journal.

One thing can be asserted without fear of contradiction: They are both exceedingly able men. Mr. Blue has been tried in the performance of work most exacting, and he has stood the test; and Mr. Miller goes to his duties equipped with every quality necessary to success.

For weeks past, the Tory newspapers have been telling us that the Provincial elections are at hand. They have even fixed the date of polling day. Of course, they do not all choose the same day, but that is a small matter. It is difficult for our Opposition contemporaries nowadays to be unanimous in anything, except it be trying to misrepresent the record of the Government. By and by Premier Mowat will give the usual legal notice of the dissolution of the Legislature. Then look out for a Tory scream! The prophecies included in will be forgotten, and the Premier will be denounced for "springing" the elections on the country! They are amusing fellows, these Tory editors.

BINDING TWINE.

As finally disposed of, the binding twine tax has been increased by the pliant Tory majority in the House of Commons. The monopolists who have secured control of the few factories in Canada, and who, according to the Toronto Empire, are about to curtail production and increase the price to the farmer, demanded an additional tax, and the Government complied with the demand. Instead of a tax of 25 cents on every dollar's worth of twine purchased by him, the farmer will now have to pay 30 cents on every dollar's worth. Messrs.
Roome, Moncrieff, Coughlin and other Western Tory M.P.'s voted for the imposition of the additional tax.

WEST HURON.

Hon. A. M. Ross, who has represented West Huron in the Ontario Legislature since 1875, has informed his supporters that he will not be a candidate at the ensuing campaign. Whether this retirement from the constituency which has for so long a period honored the Treasurer of Ontario with its suffrages can be taken as an intimation that the honorable gentleman also meditates retiring from the Ministry remains to be seen; but there can be no doubt that the severance of the ties which have bound Mr. Ross to the people of West Huron will be regretted by the large majority of the electors. For many years prior to his being called to take office in the Government of Ontario, Mr. Ross was held in high esteem by his fellow-citizens, both as a banker and as the treasurer of the county, and they warmly indorsed the selection made by Premier Mowat. It is reassuring to learn from West Huron that if the honorable gentleman persists in his retirement there is plenty of new blood to choose from. The Liberals of the riding should put their best available man in the field at once. If they do so, victory is certain.

THE DEADLY PARALLEL.

The London Free Press is about as hard to follow, in its twistings and turnings, as is the Opposition leader in the Legislature.
Hon. Thomas White was wont to justify such sharp curves as excusable if justified by "political expediency." In other words, that the bosses must be supported no matter what their actions. Let us look at the views which the Free Press has expressed on the duties on early fruit within the past three months. We place the diametrically opposite contentions in parallel columns, for the better exemplification of the point:

Free Press, January, 1890.
The idea of raising duties on such ac-ticles as fruits is one that does not now run current with public opinion. The fact is that modern modes of transport have made it possible for us to avail ourselves of the early fruits that are grown to the south of us at a period of the year when our own fields are in a frozen condition. The use of these articles is not only pleasant but valuable, and it seems to be an unnecessary interference with the habits of the people to place a tax on them in such a way to such an extent, as to deprive the general consumer of the privilege of using the "fruits of the earth," no matter whence they may come—to his own advantage.

In January, it may be remarked, there appeared to be grounds for the belief that the very sensible views which the Free Press then set forth would prevail, as they had prevailed for years, with positive benefit to a large section of the people. During April the Dominion Government, very imprudently, we think, went back on the principles then espoused by the Free Press and by the Liberals generally, including Sir Richard Cartwright, whose good judgment our contemporary now calls in question, and the Carling organ jumps to the defense of the tax. As a contortionist, our contemporary takes first rank.

REAL AND BOGUS TEMPERANCE.

Mr. W. Y. Brunton, of this city, who generally takes an intelligent view of the social questions which come up for public consideration, has addressed to the AD-VERTISER a letter on the subject of the treatment of drunkards. The question is not a new one, but Mr. Brunton treats it in a most interesting way, and makes a novel proposition, which is worthy at least of the earnest consideration of our legislators, of all who are engaged in combating drunkenness, and indeed of every man or woman, who is taxed to repair the injury caused by the prevalence of the vice. Mr. Brunton says it is a disease as well, and he has good ground for that conclusion. It seems to be in accordance with justice that the revenue from alcoholic liquors should go towards the fund for reclaiming the drunkard in the most effective manner possible, and that the customs and excise duties on liquors should be increased, if need be, to meet the expense of the experiment. Mr. Brunton, at least, provides something practical to work upon, and we trust that his suggestions will be discussed and laid to heart by the members of Parliament, whom we make our advocate. We need hardly expect that he will fall in with the views set forth in Mr. Brunton's letter, but they seem to be far more reasonable and fair, than the drunkard and to the taxpayer, than the Foster idea of giving encouragement possible to the "infant industry" of whisky making in Canada, while imposing heavy taxes on the necessaries of life.

OUR PROVINCIAL SURPLUS.

The Toronto Empire continues from day to day its charges that the Government of Ontario is squandering the surplus hoarded up in the early days of Confederation, and this is urged as a strong reason why the Liberals should be turned out and the Tories put in their places. Mr. David Creighton, the editor of that journal and expectant successor to Treasurer Ross, has said over and over again that the whole of the surplus has been spent, in spite of the fact that large sums continue to be received year after year in the shape of interest upon investments, and no evidence can satisfy him that what he says is not true.

It is a hard task to convince a man against his will, and if Mr. Creighton should ever by any stroke of ill-fortune for the country get his hand upon the strong box of the treasury he might be expected to try and verify his own view of the question by some legendary trick, which would dispose of the surplus to the advantage of his political friends.
But the electors of Ontario are not perverse like David Creighton; they can be reasoned with, and when facts are presented to them they know what conclusions to draw.
Now, one fact concerning the Government of John Sandfield Macdonald is this, that for four years it had no policy on matters of public interest except the one of hoarding up moneys in the treasury until the end of its term it was able to boast of an accumulated surplus of cash and trust funds of nearly $7,000,000. In the last session of its existence a scheme was proposed for aiding the construction of railways by an appropriation of $1,500,000, but it did not survive long enough to give practical effect to its policy. The Liberals, upon acceding to office, perfected and extended the scheme, making the total appropriation $7,500,000. With the aid of the money thus granted many hundreds of miles of railway have been built in various sections of the Province, until almost every town nearly the whole of the money so voted has been paid. In 1873 a further disposition was made of the surplus, whereby some $3,500,000 were divided among the municipalities as part of the scheme for wiping out the municipal loan fund debt. But the surplus did not disappear.

On the contrary, it continued to grow almost continuously, as shown by the following statement of revenue and expenditure:

	Revenue.	Expenditure.
1873.	$2,352,564	$2,450,212
1874.	2,611,550	2,342,236
1875.	2,608,859	2,008,559
1876.	2,423,372	2,135,185
1877.	2,608,859	2,368,068
1878.	2,444,133	2,408,534
1879.	2,448,617	2,368,583
1880.	2,402,250	2,348,304
1881.	2,746,771	2,582,282
1882.	2,430,941	2,548,171
1883.	2,553,874	2,571,000
1884.	2,697,429	2,635,926
1885.	2,148,699	2,181,709
1886.	2,528,550	2,544,372
1887.	3,353,915	3,545,234
1888.	3,353,915	3,658,556
1889.	3,353,915	3,658,556

Totals.....$47,202,908 $44,982,508 These figures show that in the sixteen years—from 1873 to 1889—the Government was able to add to the surplus the sum of $2,220,400, which, with the amount remaining available in 1873, makes a total surplus at the end of the last fiscal year of $6,427,252. And if it had not been necessary during recent years to expend large sums of money for the Parliament buildings and other necessary objects, the sum would no doubt be much larger than it is.
How the money is expended will appear by the following statement of amounts paid for the various services last year:

Civil government.....	$21,791.08
Legislation.....	110,938.69
Administration of justice.....	986,253.24
Education.....	598,258.92
Public institutions maintenance.....	724,992.61
Immigration.....	2,849.90
Agriculture.....	138,757.58
Hospitals and charities.....	129,495.48
Repairs and maintenance.....	64,732.50
Public works.....	518,607.29
Public buildings.....	23,071.66
Colonization roads.....	103,666.63
Change of crown lands.....	30,173.65
Consolidation of statutes.....	781.97
Miscellaneous.....	60,012.67
Refunds.....	15,024.87

ORDINARY EXPENDITURE.....

Drainage debentures.....$3,181,614.93 Title debentures.....17,727.88 Railway aid certificates.....247,983.14 Annulment certificates.....5,290.00
Change of crown lands.....2,784.97
New Parliament buildings.....143,507.35 Total Expenditure.....$5,653,556.37 Under many of these heads the money is given for local objects which otherwise would require to be raised by local taxation, and under the heads of Education, Agriculture, Hospitals and Charities, Asylums, Administration of Justice and Colonization Roads the amount in 1889 was very nearly twice what was paid in 1871, the last year of John Sandfield Macdonald's administration. At the rate paid for those services in 1871 the total for the eighteen years since would have been only $14,379,084, but in reality it has been $27,429,370. This shows an increase of moneys paid by Government to reduce the cost of local taxation amounting to $13,050,286, so that had the former policy of hoarding money in the Treasury been followed the surplus saved up under these six heads alone would reach, with the surplus then in hand, the large aggregate of $20,000,000. Which policy does the people prefer? And does anybody believe that David Creighton would practice the economy of John Sandfield Macdonald?

Catarrh

Is a blood disease. Until the poison is expelled from the system, there can be no cure for this loathsome and dangerous malady. Therefore, the only effective treatment is a thorough course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the best of all blood purifiers. The sooner you begin the better; delay is dangerous.

"I was troubled with catarrh for over two years. I tried various remedies, and was treated by a number of physicians, but received no benefit until I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A few bottles of this medicine cured me of this troublesome complaint, and completely restored my health."—Jesse M.
Boggs, Holman's Mills, N. C.

"When Ayer's Sarsaparilla was recommended to me for catarrh, I was inclined to doubt its efficacy. Having tried so many remedies, with little benefit, I had no faith that anything would cure me. I became emaciated from loss of appetite and impaired digestion. I had nearly lost the sense of smell, and my system was badly deranged. I was discouraged, when a friend urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and referred me to persons from whom it had been obtained. After taking half a dozen bottles of this medicine, I am convinced that the cure has been effected. The obstinate disease is through the blood."

Keep It Up, Gentlemen. It Does Us Good. Figures
Won't Lie!

Notwithstanding the combined efforts of jealous rivals to put us under, we are out on top as usual. Look at the record for 1889. Policies issued for nearly $500,000. Not bad for a young company, you will say. True, it took some of the old fogies 10 years to write up the same amount. Why, we declined more applications last year than some of the other companies wrote up altogether. How do we account for it, you say. Well, we have plans to suit everybody. Our premium rates are as low as any other company.
Our policy is the most liberal, being nearly unconditional; almost a simple promise to pay at death or maturity, as the case may be. The policy-holders are entirely free from all liability; but are, nevertheless, enabled to participate in the control of the Company's affairs and to monopolize nine-tenths (9-10) of the profits of the business.
Each policy-holder has one vote for every $1,000 of insurance held by him
