The last and most important point in winning a woman's favor—and if a man forgets all the rest let him remember this —is not to stay too long when he goes to call. More men have queered themselves right here than anywhere else. It is surprising to learn that some well-dressed women ask to have gloves fitted over soiled hands. They are women who look as if they had nothing to do but keep themselves dainty, too. They present themselves early in the morning with soiled hands. If they ask for pale colors the clerk is obliged to tell them that they must not expect the glove to be immaculate after it is on.
