Brought Out at Harrietsville Institute Meeting.

IMPROVEMENT OF LIVE STOCK

The Care and feeding of Cattle for Beef or for Dairying Purposes-Rules to Follow.

Advertiser's Special Correspondence.] Harrietsville, Feb. 10.-The Farmers' Institute held two very successful meetings on Thursday, the 9th inst., in the town hall at 1:30 p.m. and 7:30 .m., respectively. Henry Finch, president, of this place, was in the chair, and James H. Wheaton, of Thorndale, acted as secretary.

At the afternoon session, Mr A. C. Hallman, Breslau, a talented speaker, gave an address on "How to Improve Our Live Stock, Their Care and Feeding." He said in part: "There are different methods of improving live stock, ine important points being breeding care, and feeding. The stock-raisers should decide what line he intends to choice, 11%c; do, fair to good, 10%c to follow and select his breed for that 11%c; do, poor, 9%c to 10%c; do, large purpose with two distinct kinds of purpose with two distinct kinds of cattle, beef and dairy. If a man wants to attain the highest success in dairying he should select his stock from dairy breeds. It is not absolutely necessary to invent in pure breds that is, females, but it is very important to breed from pure-bred sires, and select the very best sire of that breed. A farmer in selecting a sire should choose from large producers along the line of ancestors that he knows to New York, Feb. 10.—Sugar—Raw nominal; fair refining, 47-16c; centrifugal, 96 test, 415-16c; molasses sugar, 43-16c; refined nominal. Molasses—Firm. have been heavy producers. The only way to get an impressive sire or prepotent side that will leave the impress of his good qualities on his offspring is to get it from the line of heavy milkers. These sires want to be mated to the best cows in the herds, though not necessarily to pure-bred animals Then raise from the best cows. In a short time he will be able to produce herd of cows that will exceed their dams, and with a careful system of care in breeding he will produce a herd nearly equal to pure bred.

Mr. J. W. Clark, Cainsville, a gentle man of wide experience, spoke on Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 10.-Oil opened and "Manure, Its Care and Application." He began by saying that a farmer should pay more attention to the liquid parts Oil City, Pa., Feb. 10.—Credit balances, in the stable. ## BANK BUILDING THAT

The present quarters of the Canadlan Bank of Commerce, at the northast corner of Dundas and Richmond streets, are unsuitable in some respects for banking purposes, and a remodeling of the building or the erection of a new and much more imposing structure are now under consideration. If remodeling is decided upon the floor of the bank will be lowered twelve or fourteen feet to the ground level, which in any event will mean a change in the outward appearance of the building. Measurements of the property are now being taken, and in a short time the decision of the head office at Toronto will be known.
