FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

LONDON MARKET WAS VERY POORLY ATTENDED

Pad Weather Kept Farmers and Purchasers Away—Today's Quotations.

The inclement weather was no doubt responsible for the discouraging attendance of both farmers and purchasers at the local market this morning. The buying was exceedingly

Green vegetables, which are now at their best, were again offered in large quantities, however, and went at the orevailing prices of the day before, with the exception of lettuce, which was sold for 25 cents a dozen, a drop refined quiet. of 15 cents from yesterday's price.

Other articles, including rhubarb, beets and asparagus, found a ready sale, but remained firm in price. About seven loads of hay were offered, but at 10 o'clock none of it had

No straw or oats were offered at

BURGLARS SACKED A SOAP COMPANY'S OFFICE

Premises of S. F. Lawrason, on Nelson Street, Entered and Articles Taken.

The offices of the S. F. Lawrason Company on the corner of Adelaide and Nelson streets were burglarized the other night and a number of articles of little value, including a clock were stolen, while another attempt was made to gain an entrance through the windows Tuesday night. The matter has been reported to the police and an arrest will probably be made shortly. The windows and doors, particularly around the locks, were hacked and cut, were unable to break in.
