THOMAS GILLEAN DIES AFTER AN ILLNESS OF BRIEF DURATION

NATIVE OF LONDON

He was the fourth son of James Gillean, who for a long time grass connected with The A long time was connected with The Advertiser, and who at one time kept a bookstore on Dundas street. The late Mr. Gillean's father was a prominent member and an usher of St. Andrew's Church, and the son remained a member of the same church all his life.

Thomas Gillean was born in London about 64 years ago. He was educated in the common schools of the city, and after leaving school learned the jewelry trade, later entering business for himself. As a boy and young man, he and his brothers of whom there were flux wore all keeply interman, he and his brothers, of whom there were five, were all keenly interested in athletic sports, and Thomas was a baseball and cricket player of considerable renown. WILL RECOMMEND A $50 INCREASE FOR SCHOOL JANITORS

No. 2 Committee of Board of Education Decides On This.

A fifty-dollar increase for public school janitors was recommended by No. 2 committee of the board of education Tuesday afternoon. This brings the highest monthly wage to $116. Last year the janitors received an increase of ten per cent, followed by another similar increase. They were given a further increase of $50 and an additional $50 has now been recommended. It is expected that this will be acceptable to them. There has been considerable dissatisfaction and several janitors have left. Night work was one of their grievances, and the committee will recommend that in future they be paid $2 for each night they work, instead of $1.

Mothers' Clubs asked the use of Chesley Avenue School every Tuesday night for home rursing classes. This was left with the chairman of the heard and the for home nursing classes. This was left with the chairman of the board and the with the chairman of the board and the chairman of the committee. Provision of janitor's services, lighting and heating are some of the obstacles in the way of granting this request. The coal supply of the school is barely sufficient for the winter. School Inspector C. B. Edwards suggested that the grates in the kindergarten rooms could be lighted. This would provide sufficient heat without heating the whole building. The committee will recommend that the Grand Avenue, Cheapside and Richmond Street North School properties be advertised for sale. The Grand avenue property is assessed for $4.240. It is suggested that a street could be put through here and the property cut up for building lots. The Cheapside School property, 160x122 feet is valued at $1,400, while the building on it is valued at $2,000. Richmond street north property, 190x112 feet and is valued at $2,000. Richmond street north property and street and is a valued at $2,000. Richmond street north property in 190x11 feet and is valued. at $2,000. Richmond street north pro at $2,000. Richmond street north property is 195x241 feet, and is valued at $6,860. The building is valued at $3,000. It is suggested that these buildings could be torn down, and the material used in the building program of the board this year. board this year.

Members of the committee stated emphatically that Colborne Street South School will not be closed. In fact, it is the net cost to $5,464. This amount must be collected by local improvement taxation this year, and will require a rate of 1.1 mills. Property owners will be charged with $4,098 and the corporation will pay

The amount of money spent is considerably less than in most preceding years, but is more than in 1918. In 1912 the expenditure was $14,604; 1913. $12,603; 1914, $12,746; 1915, $10,575; $12.603; 1914, $12.740; 1915, $10.575; 1916, $8.970; 1917, $8.862; 1918, $5.362; 1919, $6.003.

Street oiling cost $24.292, street watering cost $1,710; a total of $25.003. A surplus of $1.992 from 1919 leaves the amount to be collected this year $24.010. To obtain this, there will be re-

Employment Bureaux Superintendent in City Today.

H. C. Hudson of Toronto, general superintendent of the Ontario Government Employment Bureau, was in the city for a few hours this morning inspecting the local Government employment bureau, where he found things running most satisfactorily.

Mr. Hudson stated that throughout Ontario the demand for women workers far exceeded the number of applicants for work. However, he hoped that now that large numbers of British women for work. However, he hoped that now that large numbers of British women were coming to Canada the situation would be helped out. A scheme is being devised whereby the different employment bureaux will be notified when there are women coming to their distance. ployment bureaux will be notified when there are women coming to their district, so that they may be placed immediately. As yet none have been announced for London, although another shipload of immigrant women has come to Canada.

The local bureau reports a great searcity of women applicants for any scarcity of women applicants for any work except office jobs. During the past week, however, many practical nurses have been placed by the bureau and demands are still being made for this form of help.
