JIM LENNOX'S "PULL."

The Transfer of His License from The Library to The Central Hotel.

Editor World: In your paper of March 8 an article appeared entitled: "We Must Draw the Line." I think a little light on the second question you asked Inspector Dexter will be welcome to many thoughtful readers of your paper. Your question related to the removal of the saloon formerly at the head of Bay-street, in Queen, to a building opposite Knox Church. Against this removal, because of the well-known character of the saloon, earnest protest was made to the License Board. The reasons for objection specified in the statute were urged by those most interested, because likely to be most annoyed and injured by the change. Contiguity to a church, or to a place frequented by many young people for work, or for school, has always been regarded as just cause for refusing tavern license to an applicant.

The ground of our protest was legitimate and has always before been regarded by commissioners as good cause for refusal. Many persons who have no escort attending the weekly services of Knox Church will be subjected to rudeness and annoyance by the proximity of this low saloon. Three hundred young people of both sexes pass by this place three times a day going to and returning from their work. The proprietor of the large store adjacent called attention to the damage this would be to those dependent upon him from the annoyance and the temptation to which they would be exposed. We were listened to with courtesy. The reasons we urged were admitted. No one appeared for the petitioner. We were promised due consideration. As we retired the proprietor of the saloon entered with a degree of glee and enquired of a gentleman, "How did you succeed?" Apparently he knew what was in store, for ten days before this he had been preparing the Central Hotel!

One of these honorable gentlemen, I have since learned from a friend, has said: "We had supposed no one would object, and had in a measure promised him, so we had to grant his petition." Sacred honor! Herod would not break his oath! Yet these honorable men invited all who objected to appear before them and protest! And then, because the liquor den must be put somewhere, disregarded every reason to which they had assented as just and righteous and granted the petition.

The entreaties of hundreds of citizens, worthy, industrious and most closely affected by the evils flowing from this saloon every day and night, have no avail against the desire of one man, whose business is so demoralizing and destructive in its influence upon our fellow-men as to demand his indictment as a public nuisance! Surely there must be some powerful motive influencing these worthy gentlemen when they so tamely fulfil the purpose of their office. Can it be possible that a desire to promote the good order and good name of the city led them to neglect all their obligations to the citizens they had summoned, and be led to do the bidding of a single saloon keeper?

Does the saloon govern the license board or do they govern the saloon?

I think all good citizens should ponder this question well. No more palpable violation of every consideration of decency and justice, I venture to say, has been made in any decision of the License Commissioners than in granting the petition for the removal of this saloon to its present site.

H. M. PARSONS,
Pastor of Knox Church.

Toronto, March 26.

Where Jim's "Pull" Comes In.

The above letter was received from Dr. Parsons on Wednesday, but it was crowded out of yesterday's World. The Doctor of course refers to the case of Mr. "Jim" Lennox, who formerly ran The Library and is now installed in the Central Hotel, just across Queen-street from the Doctor's church. Had the Doctor turned up the files of The World in the days when this journal was exposing the tyranny, the rottenness and the machine modes of the License Commissioners of this town he would not now have to ask why "Jim" Lennox got his license transferred in spite of all the protests that he mentions!

Mr. Lennox is one of the gentlemen who has a big "pull" with certain members of the present board, and all the influence that Dr. Parsons and his congregation could unearth in the city could not overthrow that "pull." The World has told the story before, and for Dr. Parsons' benefit we will repeat it.

When Ald. Joseph Tait decided to run in St. John's Ward at the last election he had no more enthusiastic supporter than Peter Ryan, one of the license commissioners. "Jim" Lennox at once dropped into line for Mr. Tait, as did every other saloon-keeper in St. John's Ward. Mr. Tait was Peter Ryan's man and he must be elected. The saloon vote in that ward went solid for Mr. Tait, although the latter has always been identified with the temperance movement. Lennox worked like a Trojan for Tait! Peter Ryan drove around "the ward" with a white horse. The saloon men knew what that meant. They were told to plump for Tait, and plump they did!

In the East End the very same element supported and worked for Ald. R. J. Fleming, another apostle of Temperance. "Jim" Frawley, an ex-saloonist of St. David's Ward, put in his little time getting his friends to "plump" for Ald. Fleming.

Therefore it was that when Mr. Tait was landed at the head of the poll in St. John's Lennox got his reward. He knew that he could go on and fix up his new premises although there were ten thousand petitions against him! He had the promise of Mr. Ryan that he would be looked after.

This is the plain, unvarnished story of "Jim" Lennox's pull at the License Board. Will Mr. Proctor, Mr. Armstrong and Mr. Ryan say that it is not so?

Oh, the machine! Oh, the thumbscrew!

Lost.—Thirty-seven thousand dollars lost between Yonge-street and the Army & Navy store, 135 King-street east. It can never be recovered by the owners, so the less said about it the better. Fully thirty-seven thousand dollars would now be in the pockets of our citizens if they had gone direct to the Army & Navy stores for their clothing, but fakir bankrupt sales, wholesale supply shops and high-sounding advertisements have induced a great many people to part with good money for bad value. When you want good clothing for the least money at which good clothing can be sold go to the Army & Navy stores.

A LAND OF PROMISE.

What Professor William Brown Says About Australia and Its Resources.

When Prof. William Brown severed his connection with the Ontario Agricultural College faculty last summer and sailed away to Australia he took with him a commission from the Ontario Government to "prepare a report of such features of the Australian Exhibition (then being held in Melbourne) as may be of service to the agricultural interests of this province."

The distinguished Professor now writes to Hon. Charles Drury, Minister of Agriculture, as follows:

"You may be surprised at the seeming lateness of my response to the honor conferred. I beg to say I have found so much that is new, practically valuable, scientifically interesting and of such width that I did not and do not yet care to risk my reputation by a description of them on such short acquaintance. I have very carefully considered the position I am thus taking, and trust you and my Canadian friends will agree that the full report which follows during the summer is more creditable to the interests you represent as well as more just to the sister colonies of Australasia. Therefore, this letter is strictly introductory and with the clear purpose of whetting the Canadian appetite for more.

"The Centennial International Exhibition, Melbourne, 1888, may be characterized as a 35 acre shop of 41 nations, in which agriculture occupies a fair though not relative proportion, and is particularly good in wool, grain, wine, wood and implements.

"Australia is a land of wool and minerals, and that statement catches much of the history of the colonies. It is a sparsely populated land in consideration of the great range of deep rich unbroken volcanic soils in every colony. It is also to some extent a tied-up land,"—the natural following of over-liberal legislation joined to individual enterprise, whereby large landed estates have been acquired, and now retard settlement. And yet there is no want of land for any one, for any purpose, at any time. It is, then, a very much uncultivated country, when wool versus grain and other tillable crops are balanced. Nevertheless it is eminent in production of quality of all the cereals and in quantity of many of them. It is not yet a 'per acre per annum' nation in its farming, though unquestionably in its statistics the most ably edited in any language. It is a land unknown in much of its resources, even to the oldest and most enterprising of its people. It is just being tested for fruit, wine, oil and butter, with results so striking, even under their rudeness, that the European and American stand astonished at the seeming indifference if not neglect of the men who hold it.

"Australasia is a land of sunshine and showers, with the note Canadians can well reciprocate that such showers though enough per annum are not sufficiently distributed for agricultural good. It is therefore a growing policy of this Greater Britain to catch and sell its waters to its cultivators, in which enterprise some of your own countrymen are becoming eminent. It is not a land of forests as known to you and yet possesses some remarkable trees and other flora, both commercially and scientifically interesting. There has been dis-afforesting here also, and one of the bright spots already, for her age, is liberality and system in its forestry, as to which I will have to draw your particular attention.

"This is a land of 313 days outside work every year, and nature being so wealthy and liberal the average man has succumbed, as he does everywhere under similar conditions, to an easy going of things because a good living can be made with little effort. Apparently, labor is also easy and highly paid, and holidays are as plentiful as with your French neighbors in Quebec. Live stock graze 365 days a year, and as the soil and herbage are prolific of all classes of them they are good, cheap and unsystematized—outside of those who import from Europe.

"Australia is 'Old England' in many of its agricultural implements, as understood by you and the Americans, being clumsy, costly, and possibly not so efficient, but on this I must be guarded meantime. Co-operation amongst farmers has not yet attained the form it should, in virtue of the future importance of the interest. You will be surprised to learn that after traveling thousands of miles in South Australia and Victoria, as I have done by the liberality of both governments, I have seen very few rabbits. They are said to exist "like flocks of sheep" in some districts, but when I find a pair costing 1s 6d as food on the Melbourne market, there is surely an inconsistency somewhere.

"Governments are the 'good mothers' of this land, and in some respects can offer lessons to you and the Americans. They hold all the railways and are thus able to further agriculture most efficiently. I know of few things so well managed, so directly remunerative, and so conducive to national progress as the railway system in Victoria. Then also agricultural education is being fostered upon a system that maybe will equal the Germans ere long.

"In one sentence the abilities of the men and of the soil of Australasia are yet unknown and the reasonable possibilities of the nation cannot be put in ordinary language. I am not so young and inexperienced as to be carried away by the glitter and good times of a centennial exhibition, and hence even now am not afraid to say that Australasia is yet an undiscovered agricultural country.

"But it is an unfederated, disjointed land nationally—more so indeed than in the days before Cook touched its shores. There is a distinct friendship for Canada everywhere and when the new cable and the 25-mile steamers tie the two countries together the international relations should be very strong."

The great lung healer is found in that excellent medicine sold as Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It soothes and diminishes the sensibility of the membrane of the throat and air passages, and is a sovereign remedy for all coughs, colds, hoarseness, pain or soreness in the chest, bronchitis, etc. It has cured many when supposed to be far advanced in consumption.

Doctoring in the Dark.

No sensible surgeon will attempt the performance of an operation involving human life in a room secluded from the proper amount of light. A practitioner will not attempt the diagnosis of a complicated disease unless he can see the sufferer and make an examination upon which to base his opinion relative to the treatment necessary to bring about restoration of health.

Notwithstanding the impropriety of such action there seems to be a great deal of doctoring done in the dark.

It needs no illustrations to demonstrate that gross ignorance has caused many fatal mistakes in the treatment of diseases by those who profess to be learned in the art of healing.

In many diseases several organs are more or less implicated and what seems a primary ailment may be one quite remote. For instance, a severe headache may have its origin in a disturbed stomach. On the other hand, sickness at the stomach may be caused by a blow on the head. The seat of typhoid fever is in the upper part of the bowels, but most of its worst symptoms are often in the brain.

Symptoms of disease as well as diseases themselves are oftentimes followers or concomitants of some unsuspected organic disease and this is peculiarly true of lung, liver, brain and heart diseases in general, for it is now known that they are the result of kidney disease, which shows its presence in some such indirect manner.

Several years ago a gentleman became convinced of the truth of this and through his efforts the world has been warned of kidney disease and as a result of continued effort a specific known as Warner's Safe Cure was discovered, the general use of which has shown it to be of inestimable benefit in all cases where kidney treatment is desirable or necessary.

When consumption is threatened see to it that the condition of the kidneys is immediately inquired into, and if they are found diseased cure them by an immediate use of Warner's Safe Cure, and the symptoms of lung decay will rapidly disappear.

The are too many instances already recorded of the terrible results produced by a lack of knowledge concerning the cause of disease, and human life is of too much importance to be foolishly sacrificed to bigotry or ignorance.

The "Cussedness" of The Scott Act.

From The Palmerston Telegraph.

There are nine newspapers published in the County of Wellington, including those published in Guelph, and there is but one of the nine that has a good word for the Scott Act. And the editors of the eight papers know more about the "cussedness" of the act and its workings than all the ministers of the county combined.

It Made Mother Strong

"My mother has been using PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND for nervous prostration, accompanied by melancholia, etc., and it has done her a world of good. It is the only medicine that strengthens the nerves.'
G. H. BEERS,
Orbisonia, Pa.

"I am in my 64th year. Have been afflicted in several ways—could not sleep, had no appetite, no courage, low spirits. I commenced using Paine's Celery Compound, and felt relief from the third day after using it. I now have a good appetite and can sleep well. My spirits and courage are almost like those of a young man."
S. C. KINKAID, D. D., Gonzales, La.

Paine's Celery Compound

Strengthens and builds up the old, and cures their infirmities. Rheumatism, indigestion and nervousness yield quickly to the curative power of Paine's Celery Compound.

A Perfect Tonic and Invigorator, it GIVES NEW LIFE.

"I am now 69 years old and have tried several remedies, but none had any effect until I used Paine's Celery Compound. I feel entirely different for the short time I have used it. I can walk nearly straight, sleep sound and well, and feel as though there was new life and energy coming into my whole system."
H. MYLIUS, Cleveland, Tenn.

Paine's Celery Compound is of unequaled value to women. It strengthens the nerves, regulates the kidneys, and has wonderful power in curing the painful diseases with which women so often silently suffer.

"LADIES' JOURNAL"

BIBLE COMPETITION

NO. 23.

Advertising is the part of the paper that yields the greatest profit. When a large circulation is reached by a journal, advertisers soon find it out and pay liberally to get into its columns. The publishers of The Ladies Journal, recognizing these facts, are determined to add largely to their constituency at once, and to this end have prepared the following list of rewards: To the first four hundred and five persons correctly answering the questions where in the Bible are the words AUNT and COUSIN first found, they will give

1st 1 elegant Upright Piano, by celebrated maker.......... $ 500
2nd cash in gold.. $200 4th cash in gold 100
3rd cash in gold.. $150 5th cash in gold 50
To the next 100 persons each a lady's fine gold watch valued at $50.......... 500
To the next 40 persons, each a beautifully bound Family Bible, with 2000 illustrations and maps, our own special edition.......... 800
To the next 100, each a large superbly bound volume of Dante's Inferno, illustrated by Gustave Dore, $10.......... 1000
To the next 165, each an elegantly bound copy of Queen Victoria's New Book, $4 660

MIDDLE REWARDS.

To the four hundred persons whose names come in the middle, counting from number one to the last received, we will give the following rewards:

To the next 50, each a copy of Dr. Naphey's Family Medical Book, a reliable work 200
To the next 50, each $2 cash.......... 100
To the next 100, each $1 cash.......... 100

The question must be answered correctly in order to secure any reward. Each competitor must send with the answers fifty cents by P. O. order or registered letter for a six months' subscription to The Ladies' Journal, not a ladies' fashion paper only, but a paper which will please every member of the family. The competition remains open till the 1st day of July, inclusive, and letters wherever mailed, if they bear post mark of that date or earlier, will be eligible for a prize. Twenty days will be allowed for letters to reach us from distant places. Two hundred thousand persons have received rewards in previous competitions. Address, Editor LADIES' JOURNAL, Toronto, Canada. 6

Special to The World Subscribers.

I will give to every subscriber of The World who will send me Fifty Cents for six months' subscription to The Ladies' Journal, together with answers to the above Bible questions, whether the answers are correct or not, a copy of the magnificent picture entitled "THE HORSE FAIR," by Rosa Bonheur. This wonderful picture is one of the most remarkable art productions of this age. The figures in the original are all life size, and a spectator standing before it almost believes he is looking at one of the horse auctions so common throughout France. The artist studied eighteen months on this picture, and attended the horse market in Paris twice a week. The scene represents a number of horses being driven to the selling stand, and for vigor of action and grace of motion has never been equalled. In the whole picture the pose is so life-like, the drawing is so true, that you can scarcely persuade yourself that the scene is not real. This picture has been exhibited in all the principal cities of Europe, where the elite of the wealthy, the refined and the cultured flocked to see it. It was bought by Cornelius Vanderbilt for more than $50,000. We are now handling a magnificent reproduction of this picture which far surpasses anything ever offered in this line. It is printed on heavy plate paper of an unusually large size, namely, 34 inches long by 20 wide, and embraces not only the beauty of a fine steel engraving, but enriches and intensifies that effect by combining a number of other tones and tints so as to give the finest result yet attained by any known process. As a noted critic has said of it, you can gaze at this picture a hundred times a day and each time see some new beauty to please you and some unexpected point of strength to excite your admiration. Nine cents extra must be added for postage and packing. Address, Editor Ladies' Journal, Toronto Canada. 6

—CURES—
CATARRH, COLD IN THE HEAD, HAY FEVER, ETC.

Symptoms for which No. 12 should be used: Eyes weak, watery and inflamed. Ringing in the ears. Deafness. Hacking cough to clear the throat. Expectoration of offensive matter, together with scabs from ulcers. The voice is changed and has a nasal twang; the breath is offensive; smell and taste are impaired; sensation of dizziness, mental depression, a hacking cough and general debility. Dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid.

Only a few of the above-named symptoms are likely to be present in any one case. Thousands of cases annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, result in consumption and end in the grave. No disease so common, more deceptive and dangerous.

DISEASES OF MAN.
M. V. LUBON'S SPECIFIC NO. 8,
THE GREAT HEALTH RENEWER,
Marvel of Healing, and Kohinoor of Medicines,
Cures the terrible consequences of Indiscretion, Exposure and Overwork.
YOUNG, MIDDLE-AGED AND OLD MEN
Who are broken down from the effects of abuse will find in No. 8 a radical cure for nervous debility, organic weakness, involuntary vital losses, etc.

SYMPTOMS FOR WHICH No. 8 SHOULD BE USED.—Want of energy, vertigo, want of purpose, dimness of sight, aversion to society, want of confidence, avoidance of conversation, desire for solitude, listlessness and inability to fix the attention on a particular subject, cowardice, depression of spirits, giddiness, loss of memory, excitability of temper, spermatorrhœa, of loss of the seminal fluid—the result of self-abuse or marital excess—impotency, innutrition, emaciation, barrenness, palpitation of the heart, hysteric feelings in females, trembling, melancholy, disturbing dreams, etc., are all symptoms of this terrible habit, oftentimes innocently acquired. In short, the spring of vital force having lost its tension, every function wanes in consequence. Scientific writers and the superintendents of insane asylums unite in ascribing to the effects of self-abuse the great majority of wasted lives which come under their notice. If you are incompetent for the arduous duties of business, incapacitated for the enjoyments of life, No. 8 offers an escape from the effects of early vice. If you are advanced in years, No. 8 will give you full vigor and strength. If you are broken down, physically and morally, from early indiscretion, the result of ignorance and folly, send your address and 10 cents in stamps for M. V. CURES DYSPEPSIA

Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Heartburn, etc., are all common terms for one of the most distressing diseases with which mankind is afflicted.

DEFINITION.—A simple impairment of digestion caused in the case of Nervous Dyspepsia by some irritation or morbid condition of the nerves and nerve centres that supply and control the stomach.

SYMPTOMS.—The symptoms of this disease occur in great variety. Among them may be mentioned Sour Stomach, Nausea, Dull Pains in the Stomach, sometimes a dull heavy feeling without pain, Headache, Sleeplessness, Constant Languidness, that terrible All-Gone Feeling in the stomach, Depression, all of which are accompanied in many cases by an inordinate appetite.

The sufferer finds that he cannot improve matters by dieting, as in severe cases all kinds of food will distress him—starving himself is no better, and often he feels worse while the stomach is empty than after a meal.

Inflammation of the Bladder.
Also called Catarrh of the Bladder.

Caused by habitual retention of the urine, intemperance, recession of cutaneous affections, rheumatism, gout, etc. It may be due to colds, irritating injections, gravel, enlarged prostate gland, stricture, masturbation. It may occur at any period of life, but it oftenest appears IN THE AGED, and associated with some obstruction to the flow of urine. Symptoms: The urine is scanty, and passed with difficulty; pain in back and loins, uneasy sensation in the bladder; if the urine is allowed to stand it deposits more or less mucus; sometimes the quantity is so great that on exposure to cold it becomes solid, great difficulty is experienced in expelling it from the bladder. Impotency and loss of sexual desire and nocturnal emissions are apt to ensue; sometimes the patient is unable to urinate, has sensation of scalding in the urethra; blood may occasionally be seen in the urine, etc.

RUPTURE

M. V. LUBON'S
RUPTURE REMEDY
For the Speedy Relief and Permanent Cure of Hernia or Rupture.

Lubon's Rupture Remedy must be applied exactly in accordance with the directions accompanying each package. The Remedy allays inflammation, separates adhesions, softens indurations, and strengthens the abdominal wall, so that in a few weeks or a few months, depending of course upon the age of the patient and the length of time he has been ruptured, the use of the truss may be entirely discontinued. A box of the Remedy for a single rupture usually lasts six or eight weeks, and in recent cases is quite sufficient to effect a permanent cure; double rupture and cases of long standing naturally require a larger quantity. Young children are often quickly cured without the aid of a truss by simply applying the Remedy morning and evening, rubbing it well in with the hand while the child is lying down. If, however, the good effects of the Remedy are not apparent after several days' use, I would recommend that a truss be obtained. Trusses alone fail to cure: but Lubon's Remedy, with the aid of any good truss, never fails.

BRENER BROS. HAVANA CAT CIGARS.

These goods are strictly long Havana filler with Sumatra wrapper. As regards the smoking qualities, they speak for themselves.

The advantage of this style of packing is self-evident.

1st. They can be carried in the pocket without breaking.

2nd. The paper wrapping retains the aroma.

TRADE-MARK.

Last but not least, it gives us a chance to make a first-class cigar; advertise on each one in such a way as to get due credit for our work, both from dealer and consumer.
