Gossip From Chicago. Prime, in his weekly crop review, says acreage winter wheat everywhere decreased and condi-tion, owing to dry weather, is inferior to last year tion, owing to dry weather, is inferior to last year.

Counselman & Day to J. J. Dixon & Co.: Grain markets were generally dull and listless to-day and smaller speculators inclined to close up their trades on the strength in foreign markets and apprehension of possible sensational news from the continent. * Shorts covered outstanding sales still later on estimated liberal receipts; for next week the long element were induced to sell. The larger lines appear to be undisturbed, and tone of market will probably be determined by the character of the news on Monday. For the same reason provisions were firmer; local speculators have been generally oversold on futures and were inclined to even up at the close of the week, hence the decline of yesterday was recovered. There seemed to be no radical change of opinions in the trade except that in a general way it is conceded that the dull market is usually a bad market for holders.

Kenneut, Hopkins & Co. to R. Cochrane: A favorable bank statement and a very large increase in St. Paul earnings for the third week of October were the builtsh features in a very dull, limited, spiritless market to-day. The undertone is strong and in absence of distinctly unfavorable news it looks as if the local traders might succeed, during the early part of the week, in making higher prices.
