

GENERAL SIR SAM HUGHES

In Farewell Address to the First Contingent

"What reck you whether your resting-place be decked with the golden lilies of France, or be amidst the vine-clad hills of the Rhine ; the principles for which you fought are eternal."