

THE NEW RUSSELL

modious, where two hundred guests can be entertained.

The Alexandra on Bank Street, corner of Gilmour, is very much patronized by the political representatives of the Dominion, and is a good family hotel.

HOTELS.

Ottawa is well supplied with large and commodious hotels, the principal of which is the New Russell, recently renovated and modernized at an expense of $75,000. It has accommodation for five hundred guests, and is well patronized, especially during the session, by the Senators and Members, with their wives and families.

On the City Hall Square is the Grand Union, owned by J. K. Paisley, one of the best known hotel men in Canada. He has also a hotel at Aylmer, nine miles from Ottawa, known as the Hotel Victoria, much frequented by Ottawans in the summer season.

On the corner of Queen and Metcalfe streets, and extending up to Sparks streets, is the Windsor Hotel, very comfortable, and com-
