

COLLECTION OF INTELLIGENCE IN PEACE AND WAR.

1. Necessity for preparation in peace.
Japanese system of intelligence.
Peace Intelligence. (1) Must be unobtrusive.
(2) Source from which obtained.
(3) Must be continuous to be efficacious.
(4) Smooth transition from peace to war.

War Intelligence, need for training for.
What is war intelligence?
What has been so far accomplished as regards Canada.
2. How are Intelligence Officers to get practice?
Limitations of manoeuvres for such work.
How Intelligence Exercises afford practice.
General scope of such an exercise.
Objects of the exercise.

TASK 1.—Decisive steps to organize Intelligence Service in Districts.
I. External and internal intelligence.
II. The kind of information required.
III. Means to be employed.
3. Methodical recording of Intelligence.
Conciseness and clearness of arrangement of reports.
Study of Military Reports, &c.
Result of not keeping reports up to date.
Importance of Intelligence re internal security.
Co-operation with police.
Protective Intelligence.

TASK 2.—Use of forms for Summary of Intelligence.
4. Use of graphies.
TASK 3.
5. Use of ciphers owing to wireless.
TASK 4.—Playfair cipher.
Psychology for Intelligence Officers.