

crepit, aged, and naked children and women brought to that port." These unfortunate beings constitute a part of the two shipments from Lord Palmerston's Estate at Sligo.

A copy of this Resolution has been transmitted to His Excellency the Governor General, to be forwarded to Her Majesty's Government. Comment, my Lord, is here unnecessary; and language would be wholly inadequate to express the measure of that just indignation which such a development is calculated to inspire.

The last cargo of human beings which was received from Lord Palmerston's Estate was by the "Lord Ashburton," the captain of which but a few days since died of the prevailing fever, and consisted in all of one hundred and seventy-four men, women, and youths; of which eighty-seven were almost in a state of nudity. No time was lost in collecting from the Military, who have on this occasion, and throughout the season been most kind and liberal, and from other sources, sufficient articles of clothing for the males; while apparel for the females was purchased from pawnbrokers and other places. Fortunately they were generally in good health, so that the Emigrant Commissioners were enabled to have them sent off without delay to their different places of destination.
