IT was said by William Earl of Chatham forty years ago, or somebody has recorded it for him, " That it was a maxim he had observed through life, when he had lost his way, to stop short, least, by proceeding without knowledge and advancing from one false step to another, he should wind himself into an inextricable labyrinth, and never be able to recover the right road." He was naturally a brave man, and, by constantly
