

ENFORCING THE BYLAWS POLICE CHIEF'S OPINION

M. H. O. Complains of Infractions of Anti-Spitting and Sidewalk Cleaning Regulations.

TO-DAY AT THE CITY HALL.

11 a.m.—Board of control.
1 p.m.—Property committee.
4 p.m.—Parks committee.

The works enquiry was postponed yesterday owing to Judge Winchester being occupied with other work. No definite date has been set for its resumption.

Dr. Hastings, medical health officer, yesterday wrote to the chief of police, asking for enforcement of the bylaws prohibiting spitting on the sidewalks and making it obligatory upon merchants to sweep the sidewalks before 9 a.m. The M.H.O. stated that he had seen a theatrical firm sweep out at 12:30 p.m., "filling the atmosphere with impurity."

Chief Graesset says the police must use their discretion as to restraining expectations. People cannot be followed about to see whether they offend, but the police see that the practice is not allowed in places where men congregate. As to sweeping the sidewalks, some individuals do not get up in time to do so before the time specified, and a man cannot be fined for being five or ten minutes late. "The police have something else to do than go around worrying people who do not comply exactly with every one of these bylaws," he added.

Excessive Charges.

The assessment commissioner reported to the board of control yesterday that the prices asked by property owners for land needed for the extension of Ashdale-avenue south of Queen-street were absurd. If Mr. Forman's terms are not accepted, expropriation will have to be resorted to. As an example, the Erie Realty Co. asked $500 for a piece of land 6 feet by 90 feet, while the commissioner fixed the value at $30.

The meeting of the civic legislation and reception committee scheduled for yesterday was postponed for a week, one reason being that the opponents of Ald. Phelan's motion to restrict the size and location of signboards have not written their arguments ready.

The legislation sub-committee of the joint committee on civic improvements was, thru a misunderstanding, unable to get a quorum yesterday.

Owing to complaints that the high crown on roadway pavements causes horses to slip, the works department is considering reducing the crown. The present crown is 4 inches for asphalt, 7 for bituminous and 3 for brick.

Complained of Policemen.

A protest against being charged a $5 fee by the city in connection with the concert given by the choir of St. John's Anglican Church in the West Toronto College of Music was made to the board of control by Mrs. Burke, proprietress of the college. Complaint was also made that the entrance of Inspector Gaudes and a policeman had detracted from the artistic qualities of the event. The fee was refunded, but the board assured her that the blue coats had only done their duty.

After about seven weeks of immunity, Toronto has another case of smallpox on its hands, and the Swiss Cottage, which has been closed since Oct. 4, has reopened its doors. Within two hours after the discovery of the fresh outbreak, the medical health officer secured the hospital staff.

The patient is an unmarried man about 25 years of age, who came from Pembroke ten days ago. The records of the provincial board of health show that a case of smallpox was recently found there. As the latest epidemic is a traveling barber, there is reason to fear that the contagion has spread.

The malady, however, is in a mild form. The house on Parliament-street, where he boarded, has been quarantined. There are eight inmates.

The smallpox hospital was opened on Dec. 4 last year, and was not closed for ten months.

New Parkdale Station.

W. G. Brownlee, general transportation manager of the Grand Trunk, has written the city engineer to say that he will recommend locating the proposed new Parkdale Station at the junction of King and Queen-streets at Roncesvalles-avenue, the site advocated by Ald. McCausland.

The decision of the Grand Trunk to have four tracks instead of two west of Bathurst-street has complicated the question of what proportion of the cost of grade separation the city should pay. The Dominion Railway Commission ordered the city to pay one-third and the railway two-thirds of the expenses connected with two tracks. City Engineer Ross is conferring with the railway on the matter.

PROMISED BIG THINGS

Did a Little High Finance and Then Skipped Out.

LINDSAY, Nov. 23.—The board of trade and the town council are looking for D. B. Thomas, who entered into negotiations to establish a boot and shoe and glove factory here, to employ 300 hands. Thomas was to get a free site and a fixed assessment for $20,000 for a term of years.

He also entered into further relations with the board of trade to erect a tannery, which was to give work for 75 more persons.

The Standard Bank, which had advanced him some $500, having demanded payment of the loan. Thomas went to the Home Bank and secured $1000 in cash. He paid off his indebtedness to the Standard Bank. A. B. McGill, manager of the latter institution, learning that Thomas had bought a ticket for Toronto, wired detectives in that city to be on the lookout.

Later, word was received from Toronto that Thomas had not reached that city.

Judgment Against Patriarche.

On the failure of P. H. Patriarche or his counsel to appear in the non-jury assize court yesterday, Sir William Mulock gave speedy judgment for $12,120 in favor of the Sovereign Bank. Patriarche is said to be in the United States.

The bank claimed that the money was due by Patriarche on account of a document he and others signed guaranteeing the indebtedness to the bank of the City Laundry Co.

CRIPPEN PAYS PENALTY OF MURDER OF HIS WIFE

Condemned Man All But Collapsed—No Confession Made—Miss Leneve Avoids Publicity.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—Dr. Hawley Harvey Crippen to-day paid the penalty for the murder of his wife, Belle Elmore, the actress, within a few minutes of the stroke of nine. The hanging was in Pentonville Prison, where the prisoner had been confined since his return to this country, following his arrest in Canada.

The condemned man presented a pitiable appearance, as he was literally led thru the short corridor from his cell to the scaffold. His mental anguish had been too great to be concealed by outward bravado, and it was a broken man whom the warders were obliged to assist up the steps to the drop, which once reached, the shrinking figure all but collapsed.

The first report that Crippen had met his fate calmly was contradicted by persons who were present in the prison during the man's last hours. The doomed man passed a restless night and appeared haggard and worn, when awakened from his fitful slumber. A breakfast was brought in to him, but he left it untouched.

This morning, following the execution, the prison authorities issued an official statement, declaring that no confession had been made. Miss Leneve denies that Crippen confessed. His attorney says that, so far as he knows, his client maintained his innocence to the end. What was said to the priest, preceding execution, cannot, of course, be known.

The Alleged Confession.

The Evening Times, which publishes the alleged confession, is not connected with the famous London Times, but is a sensational journal published on what is generally called American lines. The confession is declared to have been made orally to a third person who gave it to the Times, which says: "Its readers need not attach the least importance to the details that Crippen said nothing on the scaffold." It adds: "The Times put these words into the mouth of Crippen: 'My wife was a bad tempered woman and led me a dreadful life, of which even my most intimate friends did not know.' The alleged details of the murder and disposition of the body are in line with the suppositions of the prosecution, beyond that it asserts that the knife used to dismember the body was buried in the garden of the Crippen home and will soon be found."

Unusual precautions were taken to prevent sight of the execution reaching the outside world and to keep the other prisoners in ignorance. A great canvas screen was placed about the gallows so that the residents on the heights overlooking the prison could not get a glimpse of the gruesome scene. The death notice, which is usually posted in the prison, was postponed so that the prisoners who were discharged shortly before the execution could not see it. Despite the bleak weather great crowds gathered around the prison.

So far as can be learned Ethel Clara Leneve did not sail on the steamer Majestic for New York to-day, altho she had booked a second-class passage under the name of Miss Allyn. It is thought that she had changed her plans after they had been discovered, tho it is possible that she will join the vessel at Cherbourg or Queenstown. Friends of Miss Leneve say that she proposes to begin life anew under a new name, to escape further notoriety.

Saskatchewan and Muskoka.

The national character of the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives is shown in the fact that patients are in residence in the institution from nearly every section of the Dominion, for the hospital has no dividing territorial lines. This happy condition also finds illustration in the contributions received, which come from all parts of Canada. One day's mail of the current week included three generous amounts from Rouleau, Sask., totaling $75—twenty-five dollars each from A. Thompson, E. E. Thompson and D. A. Kingebury.

Want British Warship.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Nov. 23.—The Progressive Union of New Orleans has requested the British Embassy to have the annual Mardi Gras carnival in New Orleans, La., February 23 to 25, 1911.

He returned from a trip to Montreal, where he has been busy with the advancement of the church work there. He conducted the first anniversary services of the Temple Baptist Church in the annex, where the congregation has grown from 30 to 100 members in a year's time. At the present time the meetings are being held over a bank, but it is hoped that a church building will be started early next summer. A lot has been purchased at a cost of $2000, and another $4000 is in the bank for the building fund.

Dr. Norton was present at a meeting of the Baptist ministers of the city and discussed the extension of the work in Montreal.

As a result of the conference several new meeting houses will be opened in the near future, and the work among the foreigners will be greatly enlarged.

FRAUDULENT USE OF MAIL.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Nov. 23.—A special from Decatur, Ala., says John P. Knight, managing partner of the Defunct cotton firm of Knight, Yancey & Company, which recently failed for about $200,000, was arrested there today by a United States marshal, and taken to Huntsville. The arrest is made upon indictments found by a grand jury of the United States, charging fraudulent use of the mails.

Bourassa's Mission.

QUEBEC, Nov. 23.—It is said that one of the objects of Henri Bourassa's trip to Europe is to go and plead before the Pope himself the alleged rights of the French-speaking population of Canada, which are considered violated by the appointment of Mgr. Gauthier to the archiepiscopal seat at Ottawa, and to induce the holy see to put a stop to the French hostility to the learning of the French language in the public schools of Ontario.

COULDN'T GET PAY; STOLE.

In handing Fred Atkin, an English immigrant, 17 years old, over to the Salvation Army yesterday, Judge Winchester handed out some criticism to Ontario farmers for the "shameful new citizenry" they accord to some of these new citizens.

The boy was charged with stealing a horse. He was charged the theft, and said he did it because farmers had worked him without pay, and he wanted to get some money to go west on.

NORTH TORONTO LIBRARY TO HOLD FINE CONCERT

Will Mayor and Council All Seek Re-election?—Items of Interest to Everybody.

NORTH TORONTO, Nov. 23.—(Special.)—With election a little over a month away, more or less restless news is beginning to develop about municipal lines suggested, but the week this will gradually widen and extend. Not even the fact that the ratepayers will be called upon to vote on a multiplicity of big issues, such as annexation, sewage and the electric light bylaws, can detract from the personal element in the campaign for the mayor and council vote.

It is reasonably certain that every member in the present town council will seek re-election.

Mayor Brown is giving an excellent example to the town, and no reasonable doubt exists as to his re-election, if not by acclamation, then by an overwhelming vote. The mayor has approached all the big outstanding questions in a free open-minded manner, and any cautious opposition, whether from within the council or out of it, would probably meet with a short shrift.

Similarly the other members of the council have in the main been giving a good account of the big issues, such as the town is full of prospective candidates, and for the council board an election is already assured.

Down in David's Park Frank Grice has already announced to his friends that he will be a candidate for his old position. Rumor connects the name of Councilman James Pears with retiring from the duties of the council, with which he has been for a number of years at intervals connected. If he likes to stay on the job nobody doubts his ability to constitute one of the council board for 1911. Similarly gossip connects Councilman D. D. Reid, chairman of the sewage committee, with aspirations for the mayor's chair, but it is not definitely known that he has so far expressed himself along this line.

A number of other possible candidates have been suggested, but the next fortnight will bring more clearly into the limelight the men who are willing to offer themselves on the altar of public service.

Big questions will undoubtedly come up for definite handling during the year, the annexation problem, which now seems practically assured of success in carrying the sewerage out of the details of the sewerage proposition, which bids also to be an unpopular feature of it all, but which is really a new question, and on which little work has yet been done. Other matters, more or less wrapped up with the future welfare of the city, are involved, and altogether it looks like a busy year along municipal lines.

Don't forget the concert to be given in the town hall Thursday evening, Nov. 24, in aid of the funds of the North Toronto public library. No more worthy institution exists in town, and the citizens will doubtless manifest their appreciation of the labor of the library staff by a record crowd. The Citizens' Band had a great audience, but this ought to be even better.

Local Bowlers Will Hold Their Banquet To-night.

WESTON, Nov. 23.—(Special.)—Few societies have mapped out a busier or more practical course of study and entertainment than the Anglican Young People's Association of St. John's Church. One of the most delightful of their plans was the address given here to-night by Clarence Bell on "Ancient Egypt, or the Dawn of Civilization," beautifully illustrated. Next Wednesday evening a social will be given. The officers are Rev. J. H. Jones, president; Miss H. Verrill, first vice-president; S. Pailthorpe, second vice-president; Miss M. Mills, secretary, and Miss M. Mills, treasurer.

The Women's Improvement Society is the newest and most progressive organization in the town and bids fair to revolutionize conditions. The members do not want the franchise, but they do want to improve and beautify the town and to have taken steps to put the next year the hall in good shape and to have a social in the hall. They are also planning to have a social in the hall. They are also planning to have a social in the hall.

For Business Use

There are a great many places and occasions when the possibility of getting extra heat immediately effects an economy by decreasing the discomfort of the worker. In the office, in the early morning or late at night, before or after the steamheat is on, it is of importance to have extra heat. In the builder's outside office, in the shipping room, in the checker's shack, on exposed lofts, in railroad stations, in studios, the is often a necessity. It is safe, smokeless and odorless. Apply a match, and it gives heat quickly. With four quarts of oil it burns nine hours. Has anti-matte-locking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so that the wick can be cleaned in an instant.

It has a cool handle and a damper top. An indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font. The filler-cap it is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device in construction, and consequently, it can always be easily unscrewed in an instant for reworking.

The Perfection Oil Heater is finished in Japan or nickel. It is strong, durable, well made, built for service, yet light and ornamental.

"There is no provision under the act that I can see along local improvement lines for carrying the proposed sewerage collector to-night, as the law has been changed in this respect. If it could be so arranged that the necessary for petitions could be abolished this would be all right as this getting up petitions is the most unpopular feature of it all, but it looks as tho this could not be done."

The solicitor will, however, go thoroly into the matter and will assist Mayor Brown in the near future. Following this the mode of levying the cost will be definitely settled.
