SANDWICH SHOOTING AFFRAY.

Wounded Man in a Serious Condition, Says Doctor.

Windsor, Feb. 13.—Dr. Ashbaugh who is attending Frederick Hardis, the man shot by Farmer Francis in Sandwich South yesterday, says the wounded man is in a serious condition, the result of exposure. After being shot, Hardis ran two miles to Tecumseh Village, and was afterwards obliged to drive 12 miles to Windsor in an open wagon before having his injuries treated.

Hardis contradicts Francis' version of the shooting. He says that he did not threaten Francis with a weapon of any kind, and that Francis shot him without provocation. He is a middle aged Swede, whose home is somewhere in the United States. He has been working for Francis almost two years. The neighbors say that he is not of a quarrelsome disposition.

Francis sticks to his story of self defence. It is said that about nine years ago, when Francis kept a saloon in Walkerville, he got into trouble by threatening to shoot a man. He was released this afternoon on $1000 bail.

DURHAM OLD BOYS
Gathered Last Night for Their Fourth Annual Reunion.

The Durham Old Boys' Association, the pioneer organization of its kind in this city, held its fourth annual banquet last night in the Temple Building. Upwards of 150 members and their friends were present, and Inspector James J. Hughes presided, and among those present were Judge Chisholm, Port Hope; D. S. Todd, Oshawa, and Andrew O'Hara.

With the dinner the president of the guests listened to speeches by nearly all of the above mentioned gentlemen, and vocal and instrumental selections by Mrs. Cawker and Mrs. H. J. Knight, Downmanville, and Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. Wigle, and J. D. Kneale of Toronto. Mr. T. Yellowless exhibited a photograph of Everett's singing class taken in 1861, and which will form a part of the history of Durham County now being prepared by members of the association.

Lecture on Finance.
A. E. Ames addressed the Young Men's Club of Sherbourne-street Methodist Church last evening on the subject, "Finance." The banking system in operation in Canada was explained and the rapid growth of the wealth of Toronto demonstrated. Comparative figures were given showing the assets of the Toronto banks five years ago and the assets of the banks at present, revealing an immense growth.

THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

Three New Teachers Appointed in Hamilton Last Night Without Trustees Squabbling.

THE RETAIL MERCHANTS ORGANIZED

Adam Ballentine Elected President and G. S. Klein Secretary—Toronto Men Present.

Hamilton, Feb. 13.—The Board of Education for 1902 held its first regular business meeting this evening and spent considerable time discussing the reports. The Internal Management Committee report was passed without much discussion. It was recommended that Misses Jean Doak, Nellie Allan and Maude Briggs be appointed teachers, and that the Building Committee be asked to prepare plans for a ten-room school to replace the present antiquated Mary-street school.

A long discussion took place on the Building Committee's report, which recommended that for expenditures under $5 no order of the committee be required. The trustees did not feel disposed to forego a complete hold on the committee, and the proposal was voted down, the committee being instructed to follow the rule already made and provided.

The Finance Committee estimates, $128,920, brought about more talk. Adam Zimmerman objected to Mayor Hendrie's criticism of the financial management of the board. Mr. Zimmerman protested that the Hamilton board was one of the most economical in the province. The report was eventually passed.

Retail Merchants Met.
Another meeting of the city retail merchants was held this evening in the House of Commons by the Under Foreign Secretary, Lord Cranborne. The object of the alliance was three-fold—the maintenance of the status quo, the policy of the open door and the maintenance of the tariff as far as possible.

In the far east were all comparable with those of Great Britain and Japan.

Regarded With Suspicion.
While it was true that the alliances of Great Britain with other powers had been regarded heretofore with considerable suspicion, he frankly declared that the government was going to be deterred by these considerations. They saw on all sides the tendency of the great powers to form groups, and the ever-increasing naval and military armaments, involving ever-increasing burdens on the people.

In these days war broke out with a suddenness which was not the case in former years. So the countries, without reservation, the doctrine that all alliances must be avoided, must be abandoned, and the extraordinary amount of self-sufficiency. There was much greater danger in leaving Great Britain isolated, and in the event of a sudden attack, she would be unable to resist.

Japan's Gravest Peril.
Great Britain desired to protect Japan against what she conceived to be the gravest peril that might menace her, namely, coalition of the powers against her. The agreement would compel Great Britain to come to the rescue of a friendly country whose obliteration by a coalition of the powers Great Britain could not under any circumstances tolerate.

The British and Japanese residents of Peking, whose opinions are worthy of consideration, believe the alliance insures peace and will effectually check dismemberment schemes of the other powers.

The chief objection raised by the diplomats of opposing interests is found in the clause of the alliance which contemplates possible intervention in the event of internal disturbances in China or Korea. These diplomats are telling the Chinese officials that the new treaty amounts to an attempt to establish an Anglo-Japanese protectorate which threatens China's independence.

Chinese officials, including Prince Ching, the President of the Foreign Office, profess hearty approval of the treaty. Prince Ching has announced that he will not further discuss the Russo-Chinese bank agreement with the Russian agents.

Playing of the Piano-Player.
You are sure to be delighted with the peerless piano-player that is on daily exhibition in the warehouses of Helmsman & Co., 115-117 West George-st., Toronto. There are features of this piano-player that belong to no other instrument—drawn by the greatest musician—so simple that a child can work it.

Measure Evidently Not Viewed With Equal Satisfaction by All Temperance Workers

The situation in which the prohibitionists find themselves placed by the Ross referendum has evidently not been completely sized up, judging from the variety of opinions expressed by those who want the new prohibition in force in Ontario. Some of them are completely satisfied, and others express utter disgust. A number, think the goal is about to be reached, others say it is farther off than ever owing to the impossible conditions proposed.

Majority Not So Large.
Majority, says Joe Lavery, the prohibitionist leader in the temperance movement, who has been thinking before they announce themselves definitely as pleased or displeased with the referendum proposal. The Ontario Alliance secretary gets down to figures and shows what a task and an uphill one it would be to carry out the conditions proposed. He says the prohibitionists have not sized up the situation. He says the temperance people would fail.

Says He Would Leave.
Rev. A. J. Leith (All Saints): No, I do not think it will carry, and if it does a good many of us will leave the country. Things are far from pleasant here, and they would be under prohibition, with all the attendant features of hypocrisy that I have seen in Maine and other places where it is in force.

Will Think It Over.
Rev. John Nell (Westminster Presbyterian Church): I intend thinking over the bill, but as yet have not done so.

TRADES AND LABOR COUNCIL
Delegates Join in Demand for Increase in Wages for the Letter Carriers.

A motion submitted at the meeting of the Trades and Labor Council in Richmond Hall last night, that trades organizations not affiliated with national or international unions, where they exist, should be given membership in or recognized by the council, gave rise to considerable discussion. The motion was made by Delegate J. H. Huddleston, of the Stereotype and Electrotypers' Association. Delegates Isaac H. Sanderson and James Wilson, of the Knights of Labor, made a strong plea to have the motion blocked, declaring that its enactment would result in cutting off a number of the oldest members of the council.

Proposal to Compel Local Unions to Join Larger Bodies Passed, But Is Not Retrospective.

Worse.
The Ontario Alliance, having resorted to some computation on the subject, there were 570,784 votes on the list. The prohibition vote was 154,408, or 27 per cent. It was opposed to the bill, and the last provincial elections there was 70 per cent. It would have to be in the case in hand, 35 per cent. of the vote on the list, or 201,872, instead of 154,408. So you see the position which it puts us. According to these figures the new plan seems much more favorable to the prohibitionists than the one suggested that they should be required to poll three-fifths, or even two-thirds of the vote in the case.

No High Regard for It.
W. W. Buchanan of Winnipeg, who is present in the city, had had high regard for the method of putting the question to the people. Besides, generally, he was opposed to a referendum, as it relieved the government to a certain extent from the subsequent responsibility of the bill.

Minor Mention.
Marguerite S. Lee, speaking to-day as a vice-president of the Dominion Alliance, said that Premier Ross was not in favor of a referendum, and that he had been asked to sign a bill before the assembly yesterday. He was a member of the Ontario Alliance, and he had not signed it.

Objects to Compromise.
There is some talk of the Library Board accepting money from Lancelotti's friends as a compromise. Mr. Hendrie has expressed himself as strongly opposed to such a course, and refuses to attend meetings where the matter is discussed.

It surprised me how many I have cheered over and over again by other men. I saw my pants go over the hill, tied by the heels to a Boer saddle.

Another Canadian Killed.

A HAMILTON LADY

The Wife of a Well-Known Local Preacher Drops Tea and Coffee and is Cured of Nervousness.

The twentieth century wife, with her church, social and home duties to perform, is an exceedingly busy person. Her work is not only of a most varied nature, but it is frequently most trying and exacting. Fatigued in mind and body, she naturally seeks the aid of a stimulant in the shape of tea and coffee. She commences with one small cup, and day by day gradually increases the quantity until she has the drunkard's habit.

With her general health impaired, and her nerves constantly "on edge," she attributes her trouble to overwork. She has tried every remedy known to women to-day, who continue blindly until the family physician is called in and they are told that the trouble is a Hamilton lady, the wife of a well-known local preacher, was troubled with a very wearing nervous condition. She was unable to sleep, and she was constantly dropping tea and coffee, and as a substitute, she drank Caramel Cereal Coffee. This she did for several days, and she was entirely cured of her nervous trouble, and, as she explains it herself, "never felt better." Her husband's name is withheld, but will be given on application.

Rev. J. F. Winkley, president of the Toronto Methodist Conference, said he was asked for was nothing but reasonable.

Dr. Courtois is Thinking.
Dr. Courtois, editor of "The Christian," said he had not fully considered the conditions, and had done nothing to say anything until he had done so.

Favors It.

Vote Will Be Poll.
Rev. J. D. Thomas of Jarvis-street Baptist Church, who has been asked for the bill as submitted, and believed that the bill as submitted had not been passed. He felt that for prohibition to be successful it must be well sustained by public opinion. He believed that the necessary vote would be poll.

Will Not Be Carried.

Opinion is Divided On Ross Referendum

they wanted or not. The bill was quite elaborate, and he needed more time to study it before expressing himself. He felt, however, that it went a long way towards giving what he called for, and that the prohibition law should not pass without a considerable majority. The conditions were entirely novel, he gave, he thought, an unfair advantage to the numbers who were not interested.
