Broomhall's Liverpool report says: Wheat—Decline in American markets was offset by the fact of continued drought in Southern Argentina, and the firmness in Buenos Ayres futures. During the morning market further advanced on fears of Chicago manipulation, which caused nervousness among shorts. Spot markets steady and cargo arrivals both off coast and awaiting orders were small. Later, however, and during the remainder of the session, market was under pressure, and the advance was lost, and more, too. Weakness resulted from a private report stating rains had fallen in the South Argentine, and this, together with cheaper La Plata offerings, prompted some selling for profits.
Modern Miller says: St. Louis—Recent rains were of some benefit to winter wheat seeding in certain sections, particularly the southwest, where precipitation was heaviest. Farmers still seeding where possible.
