UNCERTAIN SWINGS IN GRAIN MARKET

Political Possibilities Over-Yesterday's Offerings Light shadow All Other Factors Monday. at Chicago.

NEWS IS CONFLICTING

Unfavorable Traffic Conditions and Threatened Strike Exert Influence.

Special to The Toronto World. Chicago, Feb. 6.—Political possibilities overshadowed all other factors in the wheat market today, and sentiment was badly mixed. In the early trading there was a general scramble of local shorts to cover, and the market developed pronounced strength. However, the list was ready to move in either direction on any show of influential leadership. Later the market worked downward on a resumption of selling prompted by unfavorable unconfirmed rumors about the German situation, talk of a strike of the switchmen here and unfavorable traffic conditions generally. Outside interest showed a falling off. Clearances from the seaboard were light, and receipts at interior points continued small. Cold weather was predicted at Kansas and Nebraska. The Grain Dealers' Association of the latter state said that winter wheat in Nebraska was the poorest for several years and far below the average.

Advices from Liverpool said that the bellef prevailed there that arrivals from

Corn improved, following the severe break early, which was due mostly to the drop in wheat. Pit traders oversold on the decline, and found offerings light when they attempted to cover. Later the market sagged from the top. Offerings from the country remained small. Rumors were current that the government had placed large orders for alcohol. The market at Liverpool was strong. Conmarket at Liverpool was strong contains the contains e built up, improved, following the market at Liverpool was strong. Con-sumption everywhere is large, owing to rough weather. It was generally clear and hot in Argentina.

Oats trailed the other grains. The mar-ket at Liverpool was strong.

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKET

Winnipeg Grain Market.

Winnipeg Feb. 6.—Wheat closed %c to 2c lower on the local exchange today. Oats closed %c to ½c down. Barley was 1½c up and flax %c lower. There was an erratic and nervous market, which swung within narrow ranges. There was no real hard trading, with the big interests strong against commitment either way. The filling of an order of any size meant moving the market from %c to 1c. The trade was mostly scalping, and, tho the market moved very fast, the volume of trade was small. of trade was small. In the cash market the demand was very indifferent for both oats and wheat, with flax and barley dead.
