The views show Belt concealed under garment—inflated, ready for use in 20 seconds—converted to pillow and folded to pocket size; weight being 16 ounces—a particularly useful adjunct to the soldier's equipment.

HAVE YOU SEEN THIS PICTURE BEFORE?

The next time you visit the Royal Alexandra Theatre, observe the beautiful new curtain that falls between each act. It is one of the finest examples of interior scenic work seen here. It was presented to the Royal Alexandra by Thos. A. Edison, and the R. S. Williams & Sons, Co., of 145 Yonge street, to commemorate Mr. Edison's favorite invention, the Edison Diamond Disc, and to bring to mind the place this instrument has won in modern homes.

It was felt that in depicting the use of the Phonograph for dancing and home entertainment, a scene typical of the majority of homes today would be reproduced, for it is a fact that Mr. Edison's latest invention—the Edison Disc—is rapidly assuming as prominent a place in modern homes as his other greatest invention—the electric light. The Edison Disc not merely REPRODUCES music, it actually RECREATES the individual tone of the artist in all its original beauty. It is regarded by many as the greatest musical instrument in the world.
