THE RECRUITING CAMPAIGN

The recruiting committee pursued a wise course last night in deciding to get into touch with Sir Sam Hughes and learn exactly the position with regard to the nature of the demand for recruits from this province. It is to be a continuous demand, calling for a province-wide and permanent organization. Another battalion could have been recruited when the ranks of the 29th were filled, but the work was suddenly stopped by orders from Ottawa. A new campaign has now got fairly started and the way is clear for permanent organization. Will all the recruits secured be promptly sent across to fill up the depleted ranks of battalions at the front, and there has been talk of mobilizing 40,000 to 50,000 more troops in Canada. There can be no doubt that Sir Sam Hughes will give the New Brunswick committees full and satisfactory information. Without it a provincial organization on a permanent basis cannot be formed.

The committee is also wise in pressing for a provincial recruiting officer for New Brunswick, to be in touch with all the local committees and with the department, and to have authority over local recruiting officers in different parts of the province. No finer choice for such an officer could be made than that of Lieut. Brooks, if his services could be secured, and it is doubtful if he could serve his country in a better capacity, for if a steady stream of recruits is needed his ability and his experience mark him out as just the man for the position.

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.

The provinces of Canada are springing back into the Liberal column. In Prince Edward Island yesterday a Conservative majority of twenty-six, out of forty, and may even go lower than that. That the Liberals accomplished so much, against the entrenched interests of two governments is very significant. Following, as it does, the complete defeat of the Conservative party in Manitoba, and taken in connection with what is certain to occur in British Columbia and New Brunswick when the people get a chance to speak at the polls, it must be a very severe blow to Tory hopes. Of course the St. John Standard says the result in Prince Edward Island is "highly satisfactory," but the reaction of a majority from twenty-six to four, in the face of all the money and patronage and promises of two governments, and after the provincial government had been in power less than four years, is really a great Liberal triumph.

Whatever genius for government the Conservative party may have had in former times has been lost. The Matheson government in Prince Edward Island had as fine an opportunity as any Fleming government in New Brunswick to make a great record for itself. We know what the Fleming government did, and while there were no such scandals in the island province, the verdict of the people shows that the extravagance and other political sins of the party in power alienated public sympathy and brought about almost a complete defeat of the government after a term of less than four years. The lesson will not be lost upon the people of other provinces.

The people of Canada made a mistake when they brought about a change of government at Ottawa, and the extent of the blunder has been made clear by the evidence submitted before each Royal Commission. In the federal as well as the provincial arena the Conservatives have been tried and found wanting. What happened in Manitoba and in Prince Edward Island is an indication of what will happen in New Brunswick, British Columbia and Ontario when opportunity is given, and everything points to a similar change whenever the federal elections take place. The Conservatives have had a great opportunity and have failed to deliver the goods. The people have been shocked by the revelations of incompetence and worse in both federal and provincial administration by the men chosen by the Conservative party as leaders. That party has itself been disappointed and shocked by the ease with which the grafters and place hunters have taken charge of affairs, and there have been so many defections from the ranks as a result of loss of confidence in the leaders that defeat instead of victory looms ahead for the party in every province in Canada. The life of the Matheson government in Prince Edward Island bids fair to be a short one, but if it should succeed in living out another term the result of its recent short lease of power indicates what popular sentiment will do when another opportunity is afforded for an expression of the popular will. Liberals everywhere will hail with satisfaction the great revival of Liberalism in the island province, and the assurance it gives of the early triumph of Liberal principles throughout Canada.

Public interest in the recruiting meetings continues. The meetings also should be continued.

Canada is at war. The chief business of the people is to aid in prosecuting the war to a successful issue.

The forcing of the Dardanelles is a costly business. Up to Aug. 21 the British losses were 87,000, of whom 17,000 were killed.

There is a grim reminder of the vast strength of Russia in the statement that she has 8,000,000 men in the reserves of the territorial army, not yet called.

A young Australian soldier, writing home says:—"Dear dad, if I do happen to fall in this war please bear up and have courage, for it is God's will if I happen to go under, and you have the consolation of knowing that I did my bit to avenge the Belgian women and babes that have been slaughtered by the cowards, and England expects that every man will do his duty."

The Toronto Globe, speaking for the Liberals of Canada, says "Let Sir Robert Borden play the part not of an uncertain party leader, but of the real Prime Minister of Canada, and let him take this whole war situation as seriously as he knows it to be, and the Liberals of Canada will join their chief, by whom they have been misled, in giving him the vote and loyal service until the war is over and the victory is won."

Here is an extract from a German newspaper, which sets forth exactly the freebooting spirit of the German people:—"The English have a good saying: 'Possession is nine points of the law.' We will coin another to improve on it: 'In war it is give and take.' Let us see that we do the taking. We shall take the first whatever comes to hand, and towards the unprincipled we deliberate as to the justice of the taking."

Many society women in the Mother Country are signing a pledge to give up luxuries; not to use their motor cars for private purposes; not to patronize restaurants; not to observe the fashions; and to wear their clothes until they are worn out. A campaign for the purpose of enlisting sympathy and support for these objects has been begun throughout the length and breadth of Britain.

A Paris cable gives another illustration of the savagery of the Germans. It says: "The military correspondent with the French troops in the Cameroons, recently declared that the German officers openly committed at the cannibalism of their native auxiliaries. Many inhabitants of the Fort Canot region have been eaten in the presence of the Germans. The latter forced prisoners captured at Bakouri to walk 250 miles in the blazing sun, tied together with thongs through the flesh above the hip, thus causing them to suffer indescribable agony."

"Every age brings its own duty," declared Sir George E. Foster, at Toronto the other day. "We must never forget what our forefathers have done for us. We are face to face with another crisis and the young men are coming forward as they did in the days of the past. Our men are beginning to realize the seriousness of the situation. Canada will not lag behind. We cannot forget the conduct of our brave soldiers at Ypres. The richest, reddest, blood of our land is not too much to pay for our principles and our freedom. Let us all do our bit."

A. J. SPALDING LEFT AN ESTATE OF $600,000

San Diego, Cal., Sept. 17.—The will of A. J. Spalding, veteran baseball man, who died here last Thursday has been filed for probate. Mrs. Elizabeth Churchill, Spalding's widow, is named as executrix. She estimated the estate to be worth $600,000. Of this sum, $300,000 is in personal property, consisting principally of stocks and bonds. The remainder of $300,000 is represented as the value of San Diego property.

Beneficiaries are Keith Spalding, son of Chicago; Durand Churchill, a step-son of San Diego; Albert G. Spalding, an adopted son, of London, and the widow, who resides here.

Keith Spalding was bequeathed $100,000. He has received $65,000 of the bequest. Durand Churchill was willed an equal sum, and also has received $65,000. The adopted son, Albert G. Spalding, receives $100,000 of which $1,000 was advanced. The remainder of the estate goes to Mrs. Spalding.

"This is the twelfth time I've called about this bill," said the collector.

"I hope you won't call again," said the doctor. "I'm a bit superstitious about the No. 13, and I'm afraid something might happen to one or the other of us."

For two weary hours the small baby had howled and the other occupants of the crowded railway coach were getting tired of it.

"O, dear!" moaned the young mother, "I really don't know what to do with this child."

A sudden gleam of hope shone in the eyes of the crusty old bachelor in the opposite corner.

"Shall I open the window for you, madam?" he suggested politely.

"Tudor Jenks,"

"Once more, please."

"Tudor Jenks."

Sharp rap from the court, and this explanation was given him.

"Witness will stop making a funny noise and give his name."

There was a sudden loud report, and Wiggins brought his car to a standstill. "Mercy!" cried Mrs. Wiggins. "What was that? It sounded like a revolver."

"It was," said Wiggins, "it has stopped revolving."

"There's nothing like seashore life for promoting matrimony—or, at least, promoting engagements," said Mayor Biddle of Atlantic City.

"A very pretty girl said to me the other day,"

"I am going to learn to swim this summer."

"I said," said Luff thought Jim taught you to swim last summer."

"I know," he answered. "But I'm no longer engaged to Jim."

AN APPEAL ON BEHALF OF THE NATIONAL CANADIAN PATRIOTIC FUND.

We have now entered upon the second year of the war, and the end seems as far off as ever. No one imagined, a year ago, that by September of 1915, Canada would have sent across the Atlantic nearly 100,000 men with as many more to follow if necessary. This magnificent enlistment, while primarily due to the loyalty of our people, has been, in a large measure, made possible by the National Canadian Patriotic Fund.

This greatest of all the national benefactions is now assisting 20,000 families of men who have enlisted for overseas service. These men have come forward with the full assurance that the people of Canada will see to it that during their absence, their wives, widowed mothers and little children shall be maintained in comfort. We hear that the drain upon the fund is assuming large proportions, that to meet the needs of July and August $700,000 was expended, that the reserves are being materially decreased and that the national executive committee now finds it necessary to make a further appeal to the Canadian public.

There are many funds, most of them worthy, but of them all the Patriotic Fund is the one we cannot allow to fail. It is the duty of the government to arm, equip and maintain the troops. Not a dollar do the federal authorities give to the Patriotic Fund. This work depends solely on the patriotism and generosity of our own people. Thousands of brave men are fighting our battles, believing that we meant what we said when we told them as they went forward: "Go and we will care for the wife and children. It would be to our everlasting disgrace if our pledge were broken."

The national organization, with headquarters at Ottawa and branches or affiliated associations in every part of the dominion, is worthy of our most generous support in the tremendous ever-growing task that it has undertaken.

Ottawa, Sept. 1, 1915.

The patriotic fund needs help. Pull together for that $50,000.

THEFT FROM OFFICE
A peculiar theft of a cash box, containing cash and negotiable papers to the value of about $400 and non-negotiable papers worth more than $1,000 took place on Thursday last week. The box was left in the safe of a Princess street office at noon and at 1:40 it was missing. The only explanation suggested so far is that some person entered through the store room door in the rear and secured the valuables.

WHEN CANADIANS STOOD THE TEST
Premier Borden's Eulogy of Oversea Forces—"They Saved The Situation"—Dominion War Financing

Ottawa, Sept. 16.—Sir Robert Borden stirred lofty sentiments of patriotism in the hearts of a large gathering this evening when he addressed the Canadian Club at a luncheon in the Chateau Laurier. He spoke of Canada's part in the war and described his impressions of scenes along the front in "No Man's Land," where the Canadians had made a lasting reputation for themselves as soldiers. They had fought nobly, they had suffered, they had made the supreme sacrifice in many instances, but they were cheerful and brave as ever. He spoke of their gallantry in action, and dwelt especially upon their valor against the Germans when the enemy used their gas.

"Then was the time when the test came to the Canadian troops, men taken, mark you, from the civil vocations of life, and having had no previous experience of war. THEN CAME A TEST TO THEM SUCH AS PERHAPS HAS NEVER BEEN APPLIED TO ANY TROOPS IN THE WORLD BEFORE. AND TO THOSE WHO PROPHESIED THAT OUR RACE WAS DECADENT, LET ME POINT TO THE FACT THAT THE CANADIANS STOOD FIRM, NOT FOR HOURS BUT FOR DAYS. Men lay down in agony under the gas which was poured upon them, but they did not re-tire, they held on; and from those who are best qualified to judge, from the military commanders of the British and French forces, from Lord Kitchener himself, from the king, from the president of the French republic, I have had but one word as to what the Canadians did on that day; they saved the situation for the Empire and for the Allies."

The Easiest Way To End Dandruff
There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid soap and apply it at night when your hair is clean enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.
