East St. John Says What It Thinks — The Young Men Full of Ginger

An interesting feature of the community meeting at East St. John last evening was the lively discussion provoked by a group of young men who were there to insist that they be provided with a place of recreation. They formerly had the hall now used for school purposes, and they want it back again. They were at the meeting to say so and they said it well. The argument was all in their favor except that at the moment the school children cannot be turned out to provide for their needs. Two of the young men argued their case with a force that impressed all present, and strengthened the determination to see that a place is provided for them and for the girls before another winter arrives.

The liveliest debate, however, and it was all one sided, was that relating to incorporation. The mere suggestion of union with the city let loose a flood of eloquence that the city council, Commercial Club and citizens generally would have heard with amazement. Broken promises by commissioners, the condition of city streets, the administration of city affairs generally, and the apathy of the citizens figured in the denunciation by several speakers, whose remarks were evidently an expression of a general feeling. Two more meetings are to be held, one to discuss the school and the other incorporation. East St. John had decided to put itself on the map.

FORMER TIMES MAN SEES MUCH OF WORLD

George D. Macaulay, who was a member of the Times staff for a time after it began publication, is renewing old acquaintances in the city. He went to New York about thirteen years ago, but also lived in Providence and Maine, and was for six months in England. He returned to America, but went overseas again with a British unit formed in Boston during the war, and then joined the 8th Royal Scots, and trained in Scotland and Ireland. He was about seven months in France on active service, but was invalided back to England, suffering from rheumatic fever. Mr. Macaulay returned to New York last August, and has since visited his brother, Dr. Macaulay, on Grand Manan. Mr. Macaulay was in Versailles when the peace treaty was signed, being then a visit to Paris. After visiting relatives here, he will go to his mother and sister in Nova Scotia and then return to New York. Old friends are extending a very hearty greeting.

ASKED $1 FOR SOME EGGS IN MARKET

In the city market this morning the prices ranged about the same as last week, except for the fact that for strictly fresh eggs countrymen were asking $1 a dozen; case eggs were 60 to 75 cents, and butter 70 cents. Turkey was quoted at 70 cents, fowl 40 cents and chicken 40 to 55 cents. Today closes the moose and deer season, yet for a few days more steak will be sold. It is 35 cents. Beef is quoted at from 29 to 40 cents, veal 20 to 35 cents, lamb 22 to 30 cents, and pork 30 to 35 cents. In the vegetable line potatoes were selling at 50 cents per peck, turnips 20 cents per peck, carrots 40 cents per peck, parsnips 50 cents per peck, celery 12 cents a bunch, and squash 5 cents per pound.

SOLDIERS WELCOMED HOME

Gnr. C. H. Campbell, son of Mrs. Annie T. Campbell, 25 Exmouth street, arrived home last night after nearly four years of service overseas. He crossed to England with the 7th Siege Battery. Gunner Campbell brought home with him a young English bride whom he married in London. Both were given a royal welcome.

Pte. J. J. Tubb, formerly of Sussex, arrived home last evening having landed in Halifax on Thursday on the steamship Megantic. He crossed overseas in 1915 with the first reinforcements from Calgary, and was sent to France to join the 10th Battalion. On Sept. 28, 1918, he was shot through the legs with a machine gun bullet and was confined to hospital for some time. He has been ordered to report to the hospital in Halifax on Dec. 14 for further treatment.

The co-operation of advertising patrons is requested in the direction of getting "copy" into the business office on or before 4.30 p.m. on the day previous to publication. Very often the receipt of a large advertisement or even regular changes after that hour served to dislocate the regular work of getting the paper made up in time to catch the mails—and not infrequently such ads. are at the last moment left out.

WARMLY GREETED

Col. Murray MacLaren and Family Home

Mayor Gives Hearty Address of Welcome in Depot And There Are Cheers And a Round of Handshaking

Though no huge crowd was assembled this morning at 8 o'clock in the Union depot those who were gathered made amends for their lack of numbers in the heartiness and genuineness of their greeting to Colonel Murray MacLaren and his family upon their return from overseas. The welcome was sincere and warm and the cheers which were given at the close of an address of welcome delivered by Mayor Hayes might have well done credit to a much larger gathering.

Arriving in Halifax yesterday aboard the steamer Metagama, Colonel and Mrs. MacLaren came here this morning on the early train. They stayed aboard until about 8 o'clock and on alighting in the depot found many of their friends assembled to greet them. They looked well and said they had had a fairly pleasant trip home.

S. H. Mayes, after there had been a round of handshakes and exchange of greetings, called for quietness for a few moments and His Worship Mayor Hayes then delivered an address of welcome to the returned folks.

The mayor explained that those assembled were largely members of the citizens' committee which for some time had been in the habit of meeting trains and steamers, early and late, to greet soldiers and their dependents returning from overseas. It had always been a pleasure and delight to greet them but their delight had never been any greater than upon this occasion when they assembled to welcome Colonel and Mrs. MacLaren on their return after a lengthy stay overseas. The people of St. John said his worship had followed the work of Colonel MacLaren with fond interest, and were proud of him all the time—by his work he had helped shed lustre upon Canada—there was nothing in the civic, provincial or federal field within their gift that the people would not be pleased to see the colonel receive. The mayor closed with an expression of hope that the citizens of St. John would have Colonel MacLaren and his family with them for many years to come and in repeating his welcome wished them much future success. Cheers were then enthusiastically given for the returned officer and his wife.

Colonel MacLaren was one of the first surgeons in St. John to abandon a large practice to go overseas. He met with much success in his five years "over there," going from Valcartier in command of No. 1 General Hospital and crossing to France in December, 1914. His "New Brunswick hut" at Etaples will long be remembered by many lads who have occasion to recall the kindness they received there at his hands and from the fine staff of assistants he had serving with him in connection with the hospital of which he was head.

Some time later Colonel MacLaren was recalled to England and took a prominent part in the organization of Canadian army medical services, holding the post of A. D. M. S. and D. D. M. S., and for a time acting D. M. S. He was the highest official in the medical branch of the Canadian Corps and was a recognized authority on matters pertaining to this work. For his services he received the C. M. G. and the Commander of the Order of the Avis, a Portuguese decoration, while he also is entitled to the Long Service Medal, the Mons Star and the Victory and General Service ribbons.

Many a family in St. John and other parts of New Brunswick has reason to be thankful to Colonel MacLaren for aid in locating a wounded son or husband, or some near to them in hospital. A cable addressed to him always brought results where at all possible, and it was usually followed by personal visits by himself to see that the lad in question was comfortable and was receiving proper treatment. When people at home knew he was looking after their boy they felt great relief.

From a great host of friends about St. John Colonel and Mrs. MacLaren and their three children, David and Misses Margaret and Elfrith, will receive a very hearty welcome.
