VIMY

April 9

(Contributed by Municipal Chapter I. O. D. E.)

The name, the date bids us pause in the midst of Easter joys and festivities. Three years have passed since that memorable time when the Canadian army faced the heights, and on the evening of April 9 replaced the Prussian eagle with their country's Maple Leaf. Bloodshed, carnage, death, stalked in the train of the victors, and many a dauntless spirit went out to a heroic battle on that impregnable hill, and on that ridge still sleep all that is mortal of those immortal sons of Canada who gave their young lives for country and empire. On that historic ground a proud, triumphant country has decorated in benediction their lonely graves, and perhaps in time to come a rescued country will perpetuate their "in memoriam."

And the living victors—what of them? No monument of stone or even the living canvas of the painter is worthy to perpetuate that valorous deed of April 9, 1917.

The official name "Canadian Expeditionary Force" now passes into history. Will the spirit of gratitude and indebtedness pass with it? The I. O. D. E. in their efforts to guard against the demobilization of our obligation have organized a half-million dollar educational fund for the benefit of the children of our dead or disabled soldiers, but they realize that this does not in any way cancel their great indebtedness. It is only a nation's love for children and theirs, so that they in turn may transmit it to future generations who also will send it sounding
