

CHAIRMAN ON TRANSFER OF MUNICIPAL HOME

That if the municipality turns over the foreclosed rights along Courtenay Bay opposite the Municipal Home to the St. John Drydock & Steamship Company, there should be a guarantee that the public will not sustain loss through the possible removal of the institutions in East St. John is a strong opinion expressed by G. A. Knodell, chairman of the Municipal Home commissioners. The company has applied for foreclosed rights which would be extended to a year within eighty feet of the home.

Mr. Knodell last night said he thought the municipality should have the entire property held by it in East St. John appraised and an upset price fixed. If the foreclosed rights were transferred to the company then there should be an agreement that the company take over the entire property, if it were found necessary through the encroachments of the Courtenay Bay works to move the public institutions to more desirable sites, three years notice to be given. Should the institutions be moved there, in his opinion, the company should pay the upset price fixed, less the amount it paid for the shore rights.

"By such an arrangement," said Mr. Knodell, "the municipality would be insured against loss as in the case of the insurance. The company has announced that it desires to erect repair shops on that land and it is presumed there will be considerable noise, smoke, etc., not desirable near a public institution. It is expected that the process of commercializing the district will continue to grow and that in time the various institutions will be moved."

"There are about 120 acres of municipal land in the East St. John property which could be used for dwelling purposes," Mr. Knodell said, that it would be ad-

Visible for the county secretary to look into the status of the entire property. Part of the East St. John property had been acquired many years ago for a poor house and workhouse, now the Municipal Home, and part for a penitentiary, which was built by the provincial government, the municipality giving the land in return for the province providing to keep short term city prisoners. The city sent prisoners there but later, at the time of Confederation the Dominion government took over the penitentiaries and the prison at East St. John was abandoned by the province. The buildings, which were dismantled now constitute the reformatory. Mr. Knodell thinks it is a question whether the municipal council can transfer any part of the land without legislative action. According to Mr. Knodell, no formal transfer of the prison property was made when the New Brunswick government abandoned, and no effort appears to have been made by the municipality to reclaim it. Under the terms of the transfer of prison property to the Dominion government the latter, he says, holds some sort of a title to the old penitentiary site and buildings.

He is also of the opinion that the Dominion government should surrender the reformatory property to the municipality and thus straighten out the situation so that the municipality would be in a clear legal position to do business with companies or individuals. He considers it the duty of the municipality to go into the history of the property and trace the title from the beginning when the property was a farm.

He has no desire, he says, to obstruct work on Courtenay Bay, but is strongly of the opinion that the municipality should be protected against possible loss in the event of the institutions being compelled to move and that the entire matter should be handled on a thoroughly business basis.

Chairman Knodell suggested that if

A New Blood-Food Called Ferrozene Sure to Restore You Quickly.

Every day comes the good news of wonderful cures with Ferrozene. In Petriore it worked marvels for Louis Mehan—put him right on his feet—made him entirely well.

"About three years ago," says Mr. Mehan, "I had the Grippe which left me in a very run-down condition that finally developed into Dyspepsia. I was unable to eat but a few things and had a craving for acid. I gave up treating with the doctors because they did not help me and on the advice of a friend used Ferrozene. It not only cured me of Dyspepsia and Biliousness, but has built up my strength to what it was before I had the Grippe. I can recommend Ferrozene as an ideal restorative. Ferrozene gives you force, energy, vim.

It strengthens the stomach, cures indigestion, prevents headaches—guarantees good health.

Thousands use Ferrozene—they all feel better. Try it yourself—sold in 50c boxes, six for $2.50 at all dealers or direct from The Catarhizone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Every time comes when the public institutions would be moved three judges of the supreme court should be appointed to pass judgment on conditions there.

ST. JOHN'S GREATEST MERCANTILE EVENT

An Excellent Opportunity Offered to Start a Thrift Stamp Book.

The Oak Hall 80th anniversary sale which has been the leading mercantile event in St. John during the past week, comes to a close Saturday evening at 10 o'clock.

This big event which is conducted on the basis of large volume at minimum profit, offers so many money-saving possibilities that any thrifty person can make wearing apparel purchases here during the balance of this week and have sufficient savings to fill several Thrift Stamp books. It is an excellent opportunity to get started in the thrift habit.

At this time Oak Hall's entire stock is offered at reduced prices and this means that many lines of wearing apparel for men, women and children are being sold this week for much less money than will replace them when spring comes around. The doors close on this opportunity Saturday evening, and the quality of merchandise being offered is of such a high quality and the prices so low that it is really to everybody's interest to take full advantage of them before it is too late.

One Employment Agency for All Canada

THE Dominion and Provincial Governments are co-operating to distribute employment quickly and fairly. Employment Offices are being set up throughout Canada—a single, complete chain from East to West.

In all, some 60 Employment Offices are being established. They will be located in all centres of 10,000 people and over—and wherever the need for them exists. One-third are already in operation.

Through these Government Employment Offices, all persons in need of employment, both male and female, will secure such positions as are available.

Through this same source an employer's particular needs will be promptly filled.

Indeed, the service rendered by these Government Employment Offices will be such as to warrant the heartiest co-operation and support on the part of employers of labor.

They will endeavor to supply only such help as an employer can confidently take on—the right man for the right position.

Thus, to the small employer of labor, they will take the place of the Employment manager. To the large employer of labor they will be of appreciable assistance.

The service of the Employment Offices will be given both to employers and to those who seek employment entirely without charge.

How They Work.

A superintendent is in charge of each local Employment Office.

Inside the office he has interviewers, to confer with those seeking employment and to direct them to positions. In the larger cities he also has canvassers or salesmen to call on the employers and show them the value of the services rendered by the Employment Office.

In this way the work-seeker and the work-giver are quickly brought together.

Every effort is made to secure up-to-date, business-like offices, conveniently located.

For the Soldier.

The same Employment Offices are used to provide positions for returned soldiers as well as for every other person in need of employment.

In each employment office there is a representative of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-Establishment—a man who has served overseas. He introduces the returned soldier to the regular officials and gives him every assistance, both as to employment and other matters.

The Organization.

The local offices in each province are linked together by a provincial clearing house in the capital city.

They are directly supervised by a general superintendent who receives daily reports from each office. These reports state how many have sought work, how many have been placed in positions, how many and what classes need work, how many positions vacant. The general superintendent has each day a complete picture of the employment situation in the province under his care.

With the same idea in view, the Dominion Government has three national clearing-houses—established at Halifax, Ottawa, and Winnipeg. Those who plan to move from one locality to another can thus go "with their eyes open," because these clearing-houses show from their daily reports just what the employment prospects are—everywhere.

National Advantages.

With the completion of this single chain of Employment Offices the Government will be exactly informed on employment conditions.

Expert field agents will call on the lumbering, mining, shipbuilding and other industries to secure information as to anticipated requirements for labor.

Weekly reports sent in by trade unions provide additional information.

Finally, every concern with 25 or more employees will mail each week a post-card showing (a) the pay-roll of the previous week; (b) changes in staff and the nature of the occupations.

Advisory Councils.

Each local superintendent in the larger cities will be assisted by an advisory body composed of employers and employees.

Each province will have a similar advisory body.

There will also be a Dominion body—the Employment Service Council of Canada—to co-operate with the Department of Labor. This council will be composed of representatives from all those classes interested.

In addition to the above, the Government is co-operating with those who provide employment—so that as far as possible every willing worker will have work to do.
