Carlton Out With Challenge.
The Carlton club of West St. John wish to challenge any baseball club in the maritime provinces to a series of games to be played on any grounds they prefer. It is hoped that Alerts or St. Peter's will accept.

(Signed) W. C. WILSON,
Manager of the Carlton Club.

Alerts Win First.
The Alerts won from St. Peter's team on Saturday afternoon by a score of 5 to 3 in an exhibition game. Five members of the regular St. Peter's team were absent, and only four of the regular players, including Doherty, Connors and Deven, were on deck.

Regarding the game between the St. Peter's and Alerts on Saturday, Manager Cleary of the former team said this morning that this was a championship match. Such was not the case, he said. It was only an exhibition game. They had only four of their regular players on their line-up and had it been agreed upon that it would be a championship encounter they would have had their regular members playing. It was likely he said that a championship game would be arranged.

Two Thousand Enjoy J. D. O'Connell's Picnic.
About 2,000 children from the different orphanages in the city and many from private homes were made happy on Saturday at a picnic at Rockwood Park given by J. D. O'Connell. As many automobiles as could be procured were placed at the disposal of those in charge, but it was not possible to secure as many as were wanted. The little ones were thus conveyed to Rockwood where they were treated by Mr. O'Connell and his aids to candy, fruit, ice-cream and the various dainties that go to make up an outing of this kind. He presented each of the youngsters a twenty-five cent scrip and also quite a sum in the form of a check for $1,500 and $2,000, but the look of happiness on the faces of the youngsters and their evident gratitude must have amply repaid him. He is sure of a hearty welcome from the youngsters on his return next year.

Those who lent automobiles to transport the children to the park and back, and to whom Mr. O'Connell and the children express their thanks, were E. A. Goodwin, T. H. Estabrooke, W. J. Estabrooke, R. T. Hayes, Knodell, R. D. Patterson, Mrs. H. C. Hayes, John DeAngelis, R. Sullivan, J. T. Dunlap, W. J. Pickrell, H. C. Groat, George Parke, J. H. Doody, J. O'Connell, J. T. Dunlap was Mr. O'Connell's right-hand man and a great measure of the success of the arrangements was due to his personal efforts.

U. S. INSPECTORS SEIZE 200 BARRELS OF WHISKY.
Medford, Sept. 13—Two hundred barrels of whiskey and 600 pounds of sugar were seized in a raid by United States Inspectors McCarthy and Newman upon a cottage in the woods formerly owned by the late Alexander Molison, where a group of four Poles had erected a fully equipped still and had been distilling their own whiskey.

Manchester, N. H., Sept. 13—Federal officers raided the home of Joseph Isabelle, 132 Willow street, and confiscated twenty gallons of rum, said to be in process of fermentation, also apparatus used in making the contraband liquor.

Samples of the home made liquor will be analyzed by the state chemist to see if the amount of alcohol is sufficient to warrant Isabelle's arrest on charge of conducting an unregistered liquor still.

ENGLAND CANNOT KEEP SUPREMACY INDEFINITELY.
Bournemouth, Eng., Sept. 13—The address of Sir Charles Parsons, president of the British Association for the Advancement of Science at its annual meeting here was in part as follows:

"The whole question of the future resources of the empire demands the serious attention of all scientists. It should be attacked in a comprehensive manner, with the insistence which has been notable in connection with British investigation in the past. A great step has already been taken by a government department which has fostered and aided financially nine trade associations, eight more of which have been approved, while twelve additional ones are in process of formation."

Sir Charles Parsons also spoke of Canada's water powers. He said they were over 20,000,000 horse power, of which already 3,000,000 was harnessed. England, he said, possessed less than one per cent of the world's water power.

Discussing the future, the president remarked that the nations which have exerted most influence in the war have been those who developed to the greatest extent their resources, manufactures and commerce. "But viewing the present trend of developments in harnessing water power and using up the fuel resources of the world, one cannot but realize that falling new and unexpected discoveries in science, the great position of England cannot be maintained for an indefinite period. At some time, more or less remote and long before the exhaustion of our coal, the population will gradually migrate to those countries where natural resources and energy are most abundant," he said.

President Parsons paid a tribute to the research conducted in the war have been those of McGill University towards investigating the earth's interior.

Sir Hugh Bell, president of the Section of Economic Science and Statistics, reviewed the labor situation. Referring to the present unrest he said:

"A cure will come, but it may come after great suffering has been inflicted on the entire community. Parliament can impose on the employer whether private or state, in the payment of a certain wage, if the man is employed, but one thing it can not do is to compel a man's employment at a wage which the price of the article he produces will not suffice to pay. The man will remain unemployed. That is the drastic remedy which economic law imposes. We must make industry self-contained. The hope from the individual to the state will be that the transferring of ownership able us to pay more is foredoomed to disappointment."

Quantities of grasshoppers have been washed up on the beaches near Panton, N. B. probably brought across Lake Champlain by the heavy northwesterly winds. They lay in between the stones and on the gravel in windrows in many places four feet wide and four inches deep. The neighbors have gathered them by the handfuls for their poultry.
