WHAT FIVE WORKING WOMEN SECRETLY TOLD THE PRIME MINISTER OF ENGLAND

Stories of Wrong, Which They Say "Votes By Women" Will Cure, Recited
(BY MARY BOYLE O'REILLY)

Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, after hunger-strike carried through London on a stretcher, and below the working women who told their stories to Prime Minister Asquith, from left to right, Mrs. Parsons, Mrs. Bird, Mrs. Hughes, Mrs. Payne, Mrs. Ford and Mrs. Scurr, who accompanied them to the Prime Minister's house.

Five delegates from East London Suffrage societies chosen by public meetings held in Lime House, Canning Town, Poplar Row and Bromley, (the five boroughs where millions of toilers struggle to live), left Old Ford Road in the heart of the dim East End to wait upon the prime minister.

Instructed to go alone, without suffrage organizers or members of parliament, Mrs. Ford, a tailor, Mrs. Parsons, a brushmaker, Mrs. Payne and Mrs. Bird, housewives, gathered in the premier's library.

A Transport Worker's Wife's Story
Mrs. Bird, wife of a transport worker stepped forward.
"Sir, I am the mother of six children under thirteen years of age. I have one of the best of husbands—a teetotaler—earning $8.25 a week. You may see I am not fighting for the vote for myself, I am one of the best of women of the East End. There are thousands worse off than me. But holding the home together depends upon us keeping our health."

"The tenement we live in, the markets for our food, my baby's milk, the streets where our children must play, all these are healthy, or dangerous, according as borough councillors attend to them."

"My husband cannot follow up such things. He comes home late, dead tired, poor man, needing his sleep. It is I who must protect the family. The East End as we know it is not a place for children."

A Brushmaker's Story
Mrs. Hughes, an elderly woman, advanced and handed the prime minister a hairbrush.
"Sir, I am a brushmaker these forty-three years, a quick worker, having been at it so long. That brush is sold for $2.50. For making it I am paid four cents. Employers know it is safe to sweat women. Two cents one sweater offered me for filling two hundred holes with brushes. 'Man,' says I, 'I'll have the law on you.' 'Woman,' he laughs in my face, 'You're nothing before the law.'"

"We brushmakers know that to fore better wages we must strike and have questions asked in parliament. Ambassadors belittle women workers holding they do not count. My husband's trade was destroyed by machinery. Therefore I must work fourteen hours a day to make six brushes, (twenty-four cents), to '—"

"In everything but the name I am the man of the house. I think I have a right to vote the same as my husband. He hardly does any work at all. I think it is unjust and wrong that I cannot have a voice in making the laws."

"Sir, has a woman no concern with the law only to obey it?"
The Premier
"I have received you," he answered, "because you and your organization disagree."

Doctor's Boyish Face Reveals Skin Renewer
I heard the other day the story of the physician who so admirably saved that all his women patients asked him secret that, knowing the remedy he told others. He told of a medicine which would make him conclude this substance would make me contented with my skin. It was a simple secret of the silver-haired doctor using 'mascara.' Now women everywhere use 'mascara,' was applying it nightly the cold cream, washing it off with cold water, the complexion is entirely renovated. An ounce of this was procured by a young girl, will banish the worst complexion.

Another valuable rejuvenator used by this doctor was a wrinkle-remover and preventive in the form of a face-bath, made by dissolving an ounce of salicylic acid in a half pint of water. This also has become famous.—Fashion Review.

Says No One Need Remain Thin Now

Thousands of people suffer from excessive thinness, weak nerves and feeble stomachs who, having tried advertised flesh-makers, food-fats, physical culture stunts and rail-on creams, resign themselves to life-long skinniness and think nothing will make them fat. Yet their case is not hopeless. A recently discovered regenerative force makes fat grow after years of thinness, and is also unequalled for repairing the waste of sickness or faulty digestion and for strengthening the nerves. This remarkable discovery is called Sargol. Six strengthening, fat-producing elements of acknowledged merit have been combined in this perfect preparation, which is endorsed by eminent physicians and used by prominent people everywhere. It is absolutely harmless, inexpensive and efficient.

A month's systematic use of Sargol should produce flesh and strength by correcting faults of digestion and by supplying highly concentrated fats to the blood. Increased nourishment is obtained from the food eaten, and the additional fats that thin people need are provided.

Leading druggists supply Sargol and say there is a large demand for it. While this new preparation has given splendid results as a nerve-tonic and vitalizer, it should not be used by nervous people unless they wish to gain at least ten pounds of flesh.
