Periodical, Habitual Or Nervous Drinkers

ALCOHOLISM NOT A DISEASE

THE EFFECT OF ALCOHOL taken into the system is the same in all cases of slow-poisoning. The man who requires but one drink a day, to keep from becoming nervous, is just as much in need of treatment as the man who consumes a quart a day.

Every Case is Curable

It is now a settled scientific fact that alcoholism is not a disease, in any sense of the term, but a poisoning that creates an appetite and superinduces a desire and craving for more liquor. The occasional or periodical drinker cannot escape this poison any more than the excessive, habitual drinker. When liquor is taken into the system, it is taken up by the circulation. The distribution of this poison causes diseased conditions of the brain, stomach, heart, liver, bowels and kidneys, through its specific action upon these organs. This theory is fully supported by the fact that the Neal Treatment never fails to effect a perfect cure, in any case, of the periodical, habitual or nervous drinker, no matter how long he has been drinking or to what depth of degradation he has fallen. It cures each and all in just three days, without hypodermic injections.

Nervous Drinking Men

MEN WHO HAVE TO DRINK TO KEEP FROM BECOMING NERVOUS MAY NOW BE CURED IN JUST THREE DAYS

The nervous drinking man; the man who has to take a drink before breakfast, and two or three after breakfast, and several during the day, to keep from becoming nervous, will find the Neal Treatment cures perfectly in just three days. It relieves them entirely of the necessity of drinking for any cause, as it takes away all craving, desire, or physical necessity for liquor in any form. The Neal Treatment cures and stabilizes the nervous system, supplies the nerve centres with that vital force which rebuilds the whole nervous system. It restores the digestive organs, the drinking man's weak point, purifies the blood.
