Borden's Nice Gift to The United States Steel Trust

Makes Possible American Monopoly Of The Business in Canada

Charter For Canadian Branch at Ojibway, Ont., so Broad That What Trust Cannot Do In States it Will Be Able to Do in This Country

(Canadian Press) Detroit, Mich., July 11.—Under the terms of patents issued to its Canadian branch at Ojibway, Ont., across the river from Detroit, the United States Steel Company, is given power to conduct an absolute monopoly in the steel business in Canada. So broad are the terms of the charter that Canadians who have taken the trouble to read it through have been startled. Here is the clause that has made people take notice. Enumerated in the list of things the new company may do, are—

"To acquire by purchase, subscription, or otherwise, and to hold, use, deal with, sell or otherwise dispose of stocks, bonds, or any other obligations of any corporation having objects similar or in part similar, to the objects of this corporation, or formed for, or engaged in, or pursuing any one or more of the kinds of business, purposes, objects, or operations above indicated, or carrying on any business capable of being conducted so as to directly or indirectly benefit this company, or owning or holding any property of any kind hereditamentous, or owning or holding the stocks, bonds or obligations of any such corporation, notwithstanding the provisions of section 44 of the said act; and while owner of any such stocks, bonds, or obligations to exercise all the rights, powers, and privileges of ownership thereof, and to exercise any and all voting powers thereon." Under these sections any company competing in any of the various lines in which the Steel Company is authorized to proceed, may be gobbled up. What the United States Steel Company would not be able to do in this country, but what it has obtained the permission of the Canadian government to do, is indicated by the string of propositions against trusts which bought up stock in competing companies.

"THE STRONG ARM" IS MURDERED

Gangsters Kill Him at New York Street Corner—Policeman Shoots Leader of Gophers

New York, July 11.—Four gangsters intercepted Morris Reich, known to the police as "Moses the Strong Arm" on a crowded East Side corner late yesterday and two knife thrusts and revolver wounds in the chest and back ended his career on the spot. A gang feud is believed to have been the cause of the murder. After the shooting the assailants separated and fled. David Wolf and Jack Willis, the latter a sixteen year old boy, were later arrested charged with being members of the gang which participated in the murder. Another gangster, Peter McCabe, said to be a leader of the so-called Gopher Gang, was shot and instantly killed on Staten Island by a special policeman, Thomas Banana. The latter, who is being held on a charge of manslaughter, says he was attacked by McCabe and two other members of the gang and shot in self defence.

GOVERNMENT TO FIGHT AGAINST WHITE SLAVERS

Ottawa, July 11.—The Dominion government has been asked, and has expressed its willingness, to co-operate in the world-wide movement for the suppression of the white slave traffic. The International Association which is directing the movement, is elaborating a plan whereby young girls travelling as immigrants or otherwise, may be kept under careful watch and protected from the overtures of those engaged in the traffic. While it has not attained any alarming proportions in Canada, there are evidences that in the larger centres the vice has a foothold, and two effective steps have been taken to aid in its suppression. One consists in stiffening the Criminal Code penalties against white slavery and rendering the proof easier than heretofore, while a special officer, recently appointed, will be detailed to watch for infractions. This officer, Jas. Lambkin, will work in conjunction with the dominion police.

TRIBUTES FROM EDITOR'S DESK

Upper Canadian Newspaper References to Senator Ellis

Premier Flemming and Governor Wood Speak Highly of St. John Editor — Premier May Come to Attend Obsequies

FUNERAL ON SATURDAY

Toronto, July 11.—Concerning the late Senator Ellis of St. John, the Globe says: "In the death of Senator Ellis, Canadian newspapers lose a veteran opponent, possibly the last of the old fashioned Henry Watkinson type of editor, rapidly losing ground in modern journalism, where diverse personalities dominate a newspaper. In the school to which he belonged, the editor was the sole cause for a newspaper. For fifty years he had been continually the editor and proprietor of the St. John Globe, and was credited with being the oldest daily newspaper editor on the continent. Throughout his whole career, his penitently dominated his paper. Advancing years did not dim the vigor or forceful originality of the kindly faced old man, with the soft, white hair, who divided his attention between his public duties in the senate and wielding a potent pen for the cause he championed. He always declared he became an editor because he had opinions which would not be suppressed. "In later years Senator Ellis changed some of his views. But he still held strong opinions. Although a life-long supporter of the Liberal party, his papers some times differed from it. That was the senator declaring himself. No later than this spring, he voted with the government, the only Liberal senator so to do, on the naval issue. Senator Ellis typified the scholar and the gentleman. He was universally respected and beloved. The Mail and Empire says: "Senator V. V. Ellis was a man who commanded the respect of all who knew him. Though a strong Liberal, who in his time fought the battles of his party in vigorous fashion, he acted more upon conviction than upon party feelings. At one time in his public life he advocated a stand in favor of annexation to the United States, came in time to be a strong upholder of British connection. "In his latter years his attitude towards his party changed somewhat. His vote on the naval bill was in keeping with the views at which he had arrived in regard to Canada's responsibilities as a nation of the empire, and in keeping with the independence of man that always characterized him. He was an honorable politician and an able newspaper man. His large tolerance, wide reaching and accurate knowledge of affairs were reflected but by no means paralleled in whatever he wrote for his paper. From Governor and Premier.

GRAFTING IN THE TORONTO FORCE?

Ex-Detective Inspector Makes Statements Reflecting on The Police There

Toronto, July 11.—"It is not necessary to go outside of Toronto to find conditions similar to some of those which have been brought into the line light in connection with the inner workings of the police in some of the American cities," said Walter Duggan, former inspector of detectives, last night, when making a speech at the opening of a book entitled "The Working of the Partners' Bank, or Who Got The Money," which it was reported, was to be issued soon. "The inner workings of the Toronto police department compiled by a former official who is in a position to disclose conditions which are somewhat alarming and detrimental to the citizens, would make reading that should have been brought to the surface long ago," continued the former inspector. "In making a statement of this kind, I do so with no fear of contradiction."

BYE-LAW MATTERS

A Variety of Charges in Police Court—Teamster Argues Case and Wins

"Here we find you making the same case as Adam did in the Garden of Eden, he asked me to do it," Magistrate Ritchie made this remark in court this morning to Charles Dunham who was charged with dumping coal on the sidewalk and pleaded that he had only done so to please a lady. He was allowed to go as a reward for his gallantry but was given a warning as to the future. Several by-law offenders were before the magistrate for violations of the traffic law. Two of them peculiarly were charged with going on the wrong side of the street at the head of King, and when Heber Vroom explained the danger which auto drivers have in avoiding street cars at this point the magistrate let the lines stand. A complaint against Patrick Mooney that he was blocking the sidewalk at the site of the new Quebec Bank in Dock street was explained by Mr. Mooney who said that the archway under the sidewalk had fallen away this made it very dangerous for passengers. The case was allowed to stand. When R. B. Emerson said that, although it might have been some one in his car who violated the traffic law on July 7, it was not he. Magistrate Ritchie took occasion to lecture the policeman for frequent negligence in not being accurate and as a consequence causing much loss of time to citizens by making them appear needlessly in court. John Lyon, who had broken the traffic law by making too quick time at a corner was fined $10 or twenty days in jail. Louis Ross, a teamster charged with traffic violation came to court with a copy of the by-law and argued his case so ably that he was dismissed.

John S. Nickerson Starts Search For Forber Brothers Who Say They Witnessed Will and Desire Rightful Owners to Get Their Share

(Special to Times)

Boston, July 11.—Informed through a letter published in a newspaper that he is heir to $100,000 as his share of the $450,000 estate of his deceased uncle, John S. Nickerson of 343 Ferry street, Malden, is searching for the men who say they were informants upon which his claim may be established. Nickerson read in a newspaper that Magistrate Ritchie, in a case involving the estate of Timothy N. J. left an estate amounting to $450,000 and that in a will he specified that $100,000 should be given to his sister, Mrs. Margaret Nickerson, and each of her children. The letter was signed by William Forbes and Henry Forbes who announced that they witnessed the will. Nickerson, together with a brother and three sisters who are living at 1000, N. S. will make an effort to establish the claim. The letter recites that the only interest of the Forbes brothers is to see the rightful owners of the property get what is due them.

WOLA REB CASE TAKEN UP TODAY

Evidence of Doctor Logie and Matron of Evangeline Home

A change was noticed in the bearing of Wola Rebe at the preliminary hearing in her trial for infanticide, before Magistrate Ritchie, yesterday. Last week she was apparently carefree and smiling and did not seem to realize the enormity of her position, but this morning she looked worried and nervous. She was dressed as neatly as the young mother and wore a black hat. Two witnesses for the prosecution were examined. Dr. A. Edward Logie, who attended the young woman while she was in the hospital, and Mrs. Beeson, matron of the Evangeline Home. In the examination brought out by S. L. Grew for the crown and by P. A. Guthrie for the defence it came out that the young mother had said given her baby had been sent to Michigan and that she did not want the case gone into by the crown as it would cause her situation to be known where she lived. Testimony was also given that the young mother had given her hand in the death of her child and evidence also of her apparent attachment for it. Dr. A. E. Logie said that he had asked the young woman why she did not give the detective the history of the case and try to get him to clear it up if she was innocent. She replied that nobody in the neighborhood had any idea that she ever had borne a child and that she told the chief he would be apt to spread the news broadcast. She said that she had given her baby to people from Michigan. She also said she was deeply attached to the baby and cried when she had parted with it and that whenever she was married would endeavor to get it back. Cross examined by Mr. Guthrie, she said she had only attended the young woman for peritonitis. Mrs. Beeson, matron of the Evangeline Home, said when the young woman called at the home she called herself Annie Cameron. She said later that she had given her baby to her cousin at the Union Station and that her cousin had gone to Michigan and that she thought she could get her baby all right. Later at Fredericton Junction the young woman said that if it was her baby she had not put it where it was found. She had then advised her that if she knew anything about the matter she should make a clean breast of the whole thing. Cross-examined by Mr. Guthrie, she said she had not been at the home when the accused was there; nor had she seen the accused's baby. The hearing was then adjourned until two o'clock this afternoon.

SHORT CUT FROM FAIRVILLE TO DUCK COVE

Government is to Open a New Road—Save Half Mile

The provincial government has decided to open a new road which will afford a short cut from Fairville to Duck Cove, the provincial hospital annex and other sections of the locality and which will save the time of a mile as compared with the present route around the Sand Cove road. The new road will be built by the action of the owners of Fairville Plateau in opening up Harding street which leads from Main street, Fairville, into their property and the connecting streets Sherbrook and Beury, on their property. The new road to be built by the government will connect the lower end of Beury street with the Sand Cove road.

NEW WATER MAIN THROUGH BEACONSVILLE AVENUE

Will Cost About $3,000—Marble Cove Sewerage Work

Another addition is to be made to the water distribution system of West St. John. At this morning's meeting of the commissioners a request for a water main through Beaconsville avenue, a new street, was under consideration and the commissioners decided to accede to the request. A new eight inch main will be laid from the Bay Shore road, through Beaconsville avenue to connect with the main in Sea street. The estimated cost is $3,000. This new main, with the substitution of eight inch mains for several other inch pipes which is now taking place, will greatly improve the pressure on Lancaster Heights. Commissioner Wigmore submitted the revised plans for the sewerage extension to Marble Cove. The new plans will carry the sewer out along the side of Brown's wharf into deep water, at an estimated cost of $10,000. The commissioner was given authority to call for tenders.

ASK MAYOR FOR TAG DAY PERMISSION

The Monastery of the Good Shepherd has asked permission of Mayor Frink to hold a tag day for the benefit of their work on some time in October. The order has been under very heavy expense and as their income is limited additional funds are required. The mayor said this morning that he saw no reason for refusing the request. This is the first time that the permission of the civic authorities has been asked for such an event, and while all such collections in the past have been for worthy objects, His Worship said this morning that it might be as well if some restriction were placed on the practise to prevent persons taking advantage of this easy method of raising money for objects which might not be so worthy.
