Notification has been sent to the registered physicians of the city that the general public hospital commissioners have agreed to permit them to attend their patients in the private wards, and henceforth "outside doctors" may be in attendance in the illness of their patients. None of the doctors visited the institution this morning but it is expected that advantage will be taken of the regulation at once.

WHAT SHE WANTED.
Jim Mann was on his way back from Chicago and couldn't help hearing the conversation of the couple in the section right behind him. They looked like newly married folk, but were not in their honeymoon as Mann learned by deduction. The woman laid down a newspaper she had been reading and said to her husband:
"Do you know I wish I had one of those affinities. Oh, I think it would be just what I need. I'm a little bit of a pinky, and that's the delicate pink of my cheeks has been painted there by the angels, and that he couldn't live without me. Ooh, I think an affinity like that would be—"
"Isn't an affinity you want?" interrupted the husband. "What you seem to want is a plain, old-fashioned liar."—

NEWSPAPER SORROW.
(Philadelphia Post)
When Fred Kelly first broke into Cleveland journalism he was put on police.
One night he was sent to a big fire down on the lake. A reporter named Brown was sent with him. The fire was a who's who and presently Brown disappeared. A wall had fallen and Kelly was sure Brown was under it. He rushed to the telephone and called up the city editor.
"Say," he shouted into the telephone, "Brown is gone! He's burned up!"
"What's that?" asked the city editor.
"Brown is burned up. I tell you! He fell into the fire!"
"All right," said the city editor, hanging up the telephone. "I'll send down another man."

A SKILLED WORKMAN.
The foreman of a large iron-works was short of laborers one morning and as a last resort went to an old tramp who was lying asleep beside one of the furnaces and roused him with the question:
"I say, my man, are you wanting work?"
"What kind of work?" asked the tramp.
"Can you do anything with a shovel?"
"Yes," replied the tramp, rubbing his eyes. "I could try a piece of ham on."

IMPORTANT STREET WORK

Recommendations By Commission to Council—Money for Band Concerts

The Common Council met at a quarter to three this afternoon. Reports were submitted by the commissioners as follows:

Commissioner Schofield, recommending among other things $700 for band concerts during the summer and $300 to entertain the British business men here next week.

Commissioner McLellan recommended that the water commissioners have the ten or eleven fire hydrants, made by the department and now ready for installation, placed in such localities as may be directed by the commissioner of public safety.

By Commissioner Agar:
That the north side of Main street, including the car track, from the neighborhood of Acadia street to Paradise row, and thence to Foundry Lane, be paved with granite blocks, and that tenders be called, the cost to be paid by bond issue with interest at four per cent payable in twenty years.

That King street be paved with granite blocks between the railway tracks and the south line of Union street, and that the rest of the street be macadamized and proper crossings and concrete gutters placed, and that tenders be called.

That Charlotte street be paved with asphalt between the south line of King square and the south line of Union street, taking in the present sidewalk between the north and south side of King square.

That a new effort be created in the public works department to be called "road engineer." He shall be responsible to the commissioner of public works. It shall be his duty to make all street and sidewalk surveys, plans and specifications, subject to the approval of the city engineer. He shall inspect and pass upon all street and sidewalk construction work laid out by contract and report his findings, when required, to the commissioner of public works.
He shall see that all repair work done under the supervision of the street superintendent, is conducted so as to maintain the proper grades, give the best possible service and secure durability and finish to the street.

That George N. Hatfield, assistant engineer, be appointed road engineer during the will and pleasure of the council at the same salary he is now receiving.

That permission be granted Fred J.
Doody to place a display of illuminated sign over his premises, 97 Prince William street.

The duties of the city engineer are given in detail and the appointment of David B. Doig, as water distribution superintendent is recommended.

Commissioner Schofield recommends a renewal lease to Mrs. Elizabeth S.
Mann, 188, 696 ward, for seven years from May 1 last; that all advertising signs be removed from all city wharves and that further advertising signs be permitted there.

A MODEL POLICEMAN

Patrolman Lyman C. Batchelder of Brookton, Mass., is both a model policeman and a model man. He is sixty years of age, married, and has been on duty "force" nearly thirty years. Besides being faithful in the performance of his duties, he can boast that—He has never played cards.
He has never gambled.
He has never "cussed."
He has never used intoxicating liquors.
He has never gambled.
He has never been cruel nor impolite to anyone.
These are his negative virtues, but in addition he is a "good fellow," is well liked, and is somewhat of a humorist.
"Batch," as he is called by his associates, drifts through the ward room at the police station occasionally but does not know whether a royal flush beats a pair of deuces nor ace-full from a four flush.
These amusements are distasteful to him.
"Batch" is at present assigned to house duty and there he keeps the members of the force who are not on duty amused with funny stories, interspersed with good advice.

"My grandfather," says Batchelder,
"was the strictest man that ever lived.
What other persons considered all right was certainly wrong. I simply got into the habit of not smoking, chewing, drinking, playing cards, or dancing." Not that he disapproves of any of the foregoing amusements; he simply does not care for them.

"Do nothing your conscience tells you is wrong," is his motto.

PERSONALS

Hon. J. D. Hazen arrived in the city today from Ottawa.

H. J. Vattinen, manager of the Keith Amusements, Ltd., arrived in the city today from Boston.

Rev. Charles McCormick, C. S. R., of Roxbury (Mass.), is in the city visiting at St. Peter's rectory, North End. Father McCormick has not been very well of late and has been advised by physicians to take a short rest.

Rev. Dr. C. R. Flanders left this morning for Digby. He will return the latter part of the week.

Richard O'Leary, of Richibucto, arrived in the city today.

C. E. Heidmann, private secretary for Hon.
J. D. Hazen, arrived in the city with the minister today and is registered at the Royal Hotel.

Hon. J. D. Hazen yesterday celebrated his fifty-second birthday and the members of the marine and fisheries department in Ottawa, remembered the occasion by presenting him a floral bouquet.

Great Sale of Trimmed Hats at M.R.A.'s

This is the first reduction sale of the season and naturally some of the very choicest hats remaining will be included in the offerings. A great many of the models are pattern hats which sold at high prices but all are now available at the bargain figures. It is unnecessary to suggest that first comers will naturally get the best of the bargains and there are many well known hats in the stock arriving early to secure. The sale will start promptly at eight o'clock Friday evening in the millinery salon, second floor.

INTER-SOCIETY TONIGHT

The F. M. A. and St. Peter's teams will be arrayed against each other this evening on the St. Peter's church grounds, in the Inter-Society league.

Friday and Saturday Specials at Wasson's

Is not the saving of money at this store just as important as it is with regard to food, furnishings, fuel or anything else used in the home? Surely you would not pay 25c. for the same jar of marmalade procurable elsewhere for 17c.; $10 for a $7.50 pair of lace curtains; or $8 for a $6 ton of coal. This is "The Store That Stands Between You And High Prices" and the reductions are real and remarkably liberal. If you go elsewhere for the things we sell you will deliberately pay more than you have to for the identical goods. Another thing to remember is, that because of quick sales our stock is replenished many times over during the year, so that you always get brand new goods at under selling figures.

ANOTHER NEW HOTEL

After weeks of tearing down and reconstruction, the hotel at 113 Princess street formerly known as the Adams House is now open for the accommodation of guests. The name of the new house is the Queen Hotel and it is under the management of Robert Ward.

Extensive alterations and improvements have been made, old methods of lighting have given place to the more modern of electric lights and antiquated heating appliances have been replaced for the latest in hot water heating systems.

The rooms are large, bright and all newly furnished. It is the aim of the new owners to give first-class service in every way in the accommodation of guests, both permanent and transient.

Mr. Collinere, whose services as a vine-taster are in great demand in France, Germany and Italy, makes about $25,000 a year at that occupation. But six women vine tasters have been known to history, the most renowned of these being the wife of a famous London wine merchant, Mrs.
Tommy, who died in Paris twelve years ago, and Signora Sousa, who has a great reputation in Spain on account of her judgment and knowledge of wine.

Mayor Gaynor, of New York, advances the novel view that a man can do his work and be polite at the same time.
