ONE CHILD RECOVERS

Two of the children of Mrs. Wotzell Cooper, Mrs. Sorensen's sister-in-law, died of poison given them by Mrs. Sorensen, according to her confession. A third, a small daughter, Bessie, became violently ill from poison, which Mrs. Sorensen confessed to administering, but recovered.

The last of the series of poisonings was committeed February 9, 1928, when Christiania Brock went, with her baby, Ruth, to the Sorensen home. The child Mrs. Sorensen said she poisoned.

Despite her confession, Mrs. Sorensen will not be prosecuted. County Attorney Dobrey announced that it had been found that the woman was mentally irresponsible and that she would be taken to the State Insanc Asylum.
