M'DOUGALL

CASE OVER TO

WEDNESDAY

Short Session Held in Circuit

Court Saturday Morning—

Witnesses Examined Bring

Out Little New Evidence.

ARGUMENT BY COUNSEL

FEATURE OF PROCEEDINGS

The trial of C. Bruce McDougall, charged with defamatory libels in Free Speech was resumed in the circuit court before Mr. Justice White and a jury, on Saturday morning. The examination of George Ritchie, chief of police of Moncton, was resumed. Jasper W. Steeves, C. P. R. telegraph operator at Moncton, E. H. Cameron, cashier of the Canadian Express Co., in St. John, and James G. McKinnon, of St. John, were also on the stand. The sitting was again marked by numerous objections by counsel. The hearing was adjourned at noon until Wednesday next at 10 o'clock.

Attorney General Hazen and Mr. John B. Baxter, K. C., appeared on behalf of the Crown and Mr. J. J. Ritchie, C. of Halifax, and Mr. A. J. B. Melville, of Charlottetown, and Mr. J. C. Sherren, of the New Brunswick bar, for the prisoner.

Admissibility of Letters.

When the court adjourned on Friday a number of letters addressed to the prisoner which had been seized by Chief Ritchie, Mr. Ritchie objected to the letters being received in evidence. At the opening of the court on Saturday the Attorney General argued that the letters were admissible and cited the case of R. vs. Tooke (Howard's S. T.) and read a passage from Wigmore's Canadian edition on the law of evidence.

"The rule seems to be," continued Mr. Hazen, "that letters found in the possession of a man, is prima facie evidence against him." The Attorney General contended that these letters went to prove that the prisoner was the author.

In reply to the Attorney General Chief Ritchie said the letters seized were all filed together. Some were addressed to the prisoner and some to W. C. Loggie. They were all mixed up.

Mr. Ritchie in support of the objection contended that the authority cited by his learned friend was open to criticism. "I will not press the objection," Mr. Loggie said, "but I think the case should be reserved on that point."

The Attorney General—"I submit that a case should not be reserved on this point. My learned friend can move the full court."

Evidence Not Admitted.

The Court—"It is a very close question. I will not admit the evidence."

The Attorney General intimated that he would move for a case reserved for the Crown.

Witness identified a printed envelope "C. Bruce McDougall, editor of Free Speech, Moncton, N. B., Box 336." The Attorney General offered this in evidence.

An objection was sustained.

Mr. Hazen directed the court stenographer to note that he offered this in evidence and was refused it.

The Court—"Mr. Attorney I did not refuse it but only for the present."

Some express and telegraph receipts were offered in evidence. These were admitted subject to Mr. Ritchie's objection.

Mr. Hazen—"Now, Your Honor, offer those letters as business documents."

After some argument the Court allowed some of the letters on the ground that the Crown could prove that some action was taken in connection with these letters being received or sent by the accused.

The Attorney General said that if the Court did not allow them now it would take three weeks to have them admitted by one.

Mr. Ritchie argued against the letters going in.

A Letter from Mirisla.

After some further argument a letter from George Mirisla (now in jail) was received in evidence. Another letter from Mirisla was also received.

These were the letters that figured in the Mirisla trial before Judge Forbes.

The letters witness said he seized among others. A number of other letters were identified. Witness was shown the Kay cartoon.

Q—"What meaning do you take from this?"

Mr. Ritchie—"I object, My Lord. The objection was overruled."

A—His brains are in another portion of Kay's body.

Cross-examined.

Cross-examined by Mr. Ritchie, witness said it was common knowledge that in Moncton McDougall was the main man on the Free Speech paper. Witness told of arresting the prisoner in the afternoon between 3 and 4 o'clock. He was sent to St. John that night.

To make a search of Free Speech office he broke open the door. His authority was a search warrant issued by Magistrate Kay. W. B. Chandler, K. C., directed him to obtain warrant.

At 9:30 on August 21 the issue was seized along with the letters.

Q—"They tell me you are antagonistic to the prisoner?"

A—"Not on the stand nor in the course of my duty as policeman."

Witness said that McDougall termed him a thief in Free Speech.

Q—"Are you?"

A—"Emphatically"—No, sir.

Jasper W. Steeves.

Jasper W. Steeves, C. P. R. telegraph operator at Moncton, was next sworn.

His Honor formally ordered the company to produce telegrams relating to McDougall.

In reply to Mr. Baxter witness said that he took a message over the phone.

Q—"What voice was it?"

A—"I do not know."

Q—"Whose do you think it was?"

This was objected to.

GIFT TO MISS STEWART

Feather of Diamonds and Sapphires, an Heirloom of Portuguese House, is Braganza's Present to Prospective Bride

London, Sept. 11.—The wedding gift of Prince Miguel of Braganza to his bride-elect, Miss Anita Stewart, is a magnificent cluster of diamonds and sapphires in the shape of a feather. It has been a family treasure of the royal house of Austria for more than two centuries. Its last owner was the Empress Elizabeth, who bequeathed it to Prince Miguel. Miss Stewart will wear on her wedding day with a clasp of orange blossoms in her hair.

Prince Miguel has declared that he will never assume any title which his wife cannot equally claim. After the wedding the couple will be known in Vienna as the Duke and Duchess of Vizer.

TO SETTLE GLACE BAY

LABOR DIFFICULTY

Report States That Executive of U. M. W. Are Growing Weary of Supplying Striking Miners With Money.

Montreal, Sept. 11.—Information has leaked out and comes to Montreal today in a wire from the United States to the effect that the representative of the United Mine Workers of America in charge of affairs at Glace Bay has advised their grand officers at Indianapolis that the strikers are poor fighters, and that they appear to think that the United Mine Workers of America have untold wealth to spend on them and that they advise that if any kind of a settlement could be obtained it would be the only thing to do to prevent further trouble in the opinion. In a special report to one of the grand officers he is advised that the strikers are clamoring for clothes and provisions, and that the American supporters are putting them off. If the strikers do not get a settlement soon it looks very much as if it would take more than the American organization can afford to run the strike.

Mr. Baxter—"I offer this telegram in evidence."

Mr. Ritchie—"I object."

After some argument the telegram was admitted subject to objection.

Two other telegrams were received in evidence. These telegrams were to the Union Cigar Store, St. John.

Policeman Joseph Scott was the next witness.

Witness told about arresting Mirisla and Aliotes, the two Greeks who were the agents in St. John for Free Speech and identified a number of copies of Free Speech which he found in the shoe shining store. These papers contained the libels referred to in the indictment.

E. H. Cameron.

Ernest H. Cameron, cashier in the Canadian Express Co., of St. John was the next witness. He identified stubs of money orders sent by McDougall to Mirisla.

James G. McKinnon, a barber in the Dufferin Hotel, who knew McDougall in Moncton, was next called.

Witness said that he was called by McDougall on the phone, and asked to handle a thousand copies of Free Speech. This was after Free Speech was put under the ban here. Witness said he refused to handle the papers as it was contrary to a city by-law. The voice at the other end replied "That's a bluff."

Would Not Swear to the Voice.

Under cross-examination by Mr. Ritchie witness said that he would not swear positively that the voice was that of McDougall.

Q—"Was the voice you heard over the phone the voice of Bruce McDougall?"

This was objected to by Mr. Ritchie on the ground that the witness had not heard prisoner's voice for the past five years.

The question was allowed.

Q—"Have you any doubt at all that the voice was that of McDougall?"

This was objected to by Mr. Ritchie.

The question was allowed.

Ans—"No."

The court then adjourned until ten o'clock on Wednesday morning.
