The building was considerably damaged. Yesterday afternoon about two o'clock an alarm was sent in from 3 for a fire which had started in the motor delivery car, owned by Messrs. T. McAvity and Sons. The car was in a stable on Dorchester street and the fire was quickly extinguished by the firemen, but not before the car was quite badly damaged.

A POWERFUL SERMON ON THE SITUATION

Rev. J. A. Morison Says Germans Have Cast Aside The Teachings of Christ

Rev. J. A. Morison, D.D., in the Carleton Presbyterian church, last evening, spoke on "Christianity and War." In introducing his subject he took up the statement of several newspapers and clergymen who had been quoted as saying that the present European war was an evidence of the weakness of the Christian religion. He believed that many of these statements were the result of a superficial knowledge of the teachings of Christ.

"Jesus Christ taught that the establishment of His kingdom meant that there was to be joy and peace. The German war party has not followed the teaching of Christ I freely grant. They have cast the teachings of Christ to the winds and in its place they have adopted the brutalizing philosophy of Nietzsche. As Rev. John Clifford of London recently declared: 'Most observers have noted with apprehension and alarm the triumph of materialism in the thought and practice of Prussia.'"

"The Prussians consider that might is right and they override the protests of the良知 and morality of governments. The object is to reach the military goal and the only ques-

OUTSTANDING FIGURES AT CONVENTION

Brief descriptions of the lives of some of the leaders of Canada's organized labor movement.

James Simpson.

One of the outstanding figures of the convention is James Simpson, a controller of the city of Toronto. He was born in the north of England in 1874; went to Toronto in 1888, and was educated there. He became a practical printer, and then a reporter on The Star of Toronto. He was City Hall reporter for that journal for many years. He was formerly president of the Toronto Typo Union, and of the T. and L. Council; was vice-president of the Trades Congress from 1906-08. He was a member of the old Technical School Board, and in 1910 was elected president of the Toronto Board of Education. He was a vice-president of the Toronto Branch of the Lord's Day Alliance and Moral and Social Reform Council. He is a Methodist local preacher, his favorite recreation being addressing church congregations on labor topics. He represented the labor interests on the Royal Commission on Technical Education. He was one of the organizers of the company which established the Labor Temple, the handsome home of the Toronto unions. He also helped organize and was first president of the Ontario Educational Association, which publishes the Industrial Banner, a weekly paper. He ran as an unsuccessful Socialist candidate for mayor of Toronto in 1908 and two years ago was defeated as a candidate for controller. Last January he led the polls.

P. M. Draper.

P. M. Draper of Ottawa has been secretary-treasurer of the Congress for thirteen years. In this position he has given general satisfaction, as his long tenure of office indicates. Although his duties are sometimes onerous, involving as they do keeping in touch with the activities of parliament and the various legislatures, as well as with the work of local unions scattered all over Canada from Glace Bay on the east, to Prince Rupert on the west, there is no regular salary attached to the job, though he is usually voted a small honorarium for his services. Mr. Draper is a printer by trade and holds a responsible position in the government printing bureau at Ottawa.

Fred Bancroft.

Fred Bancroft of Toronto, vice-president of the Congress, has long been a noted figure in the labor movement of Ontario. Although a pattern-maker by trade he has been for some years connected with the press of Toronto as a reporter, and has a wide knowledge of labor legislation the world over. He took a very active part in the promotion of the Workmen's Compensation Act of Ontario, which is modelled on that of Germany, and it was largely through his ability in presenting the case that the legislators were induced to place the act on the statute books. His address on the subject of old age pensions made before the federal ministers some time ago is regarded as the best brief for old age pensions ever prepared in Canada, and showed prolonged and painstaking study of similar legislation in other countries.

Mr. Bancroft was a fraternal delegate from the Congress to the American Federation of Labor, and has served on many delegations appointed to interview the government at Ottawa and at Toronto.

J. C. Walters.

J. C. Walters has served three years as president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada. He was first elected at the Congress in Calgary and again at Guelph and Montreal. Like many other men prominent in the Canadian labor movement, he was born in the old country but has spent most of his working life in the west, principally at Victoria, B.C. He is a cement worker's trade. Before coming to the front in the Congress of Canada he held several important positions in the labor movement in the Pacific province. Since his election as president he has attended three sessions of parliament at Ottawa, trying to promote legislation in the interests of the workers, and watching the general course of legislation in the same interest. In that position it is generally admitted that he has done much good work for the labor interests.

Mr. Walters is a comparatively young man. He is a fluent and forceful speaker and a student of economics and sociology. He is a strong believer in the value of political action to the workers.

J. W. KEIRSTEAD DROWNED; SWIMMING AT LAKESIDE

Prominent St. John business man lost life in Kennebecasis River, near Picnic Point, on Darling's Island—Fred Chipman made gallant attempt to rescue companion.

A sad accident occurred on Saturday afternoon near Lakeside when J. W. Keirstead, senior member of the firm of Keirstead and Mersereau of St. John, was drowned while bathing in the lake. Mr. Keirstead was out on the Kennebecasis river in a boat with Fred Chipman, the fifteen-year-old son of A. H. Chipman, of Hampton Village. They had started out with the idea of shooting ducks, but being unsuccessful, went down to Picnic Point, on Darling's Island, and went in bathing. Mr. Keirstead was swimming in deep water when young Chipman, who was resting on the bank, saw him throw up his arms and sink beneath the water. Mr. Chipman immediately plunged into the lake and swam to the spot where he saw Mr. Keirstead disappear, and managed to get hold of him and tow him to the shore. Mr. Keirstead was unconscious when his companion reached him, and it was a hard job to tow the inert body to the beach.

J. W. KEIRSTEAD.

After dragging the body ashore young Chipman hastened to find a telephone, and summon assistance. He got in communication with Dr. J. J. Ryan of Hampton who hastened by automobile and boat to Picnic Point, where he found it impossible to do anything to revive the unfortunate victim. It is supposed that Mr. Keirstead, while in swimming, was seized with a cramp or with heart failure, and that he was dead before his body was towed ashore. The actual cause of death has not been stated by the physicians, and possibly will not be known until after a post mortem has been held.

Mr. Keirstead was at one time a minister of the Baptist church. He held a number of charges, his last being the Tabernacle church in St. John. He resided from the ministry of that church to enter business, and was for a time engaged in the insurance business on his own account. He later formed a partnership with Mr. Mersereau to continue the insurance business, and also to do business in real estate and black boxes. This firm organized a large fox company with a ranch in Prince Edward Island. His partner, Major Mersereau, recently left for Valcartier with the Guides, having volunteered for active service with the Canadian contingent going to the front.

Mr. Keirstead was a member of the city council several years ago, representing Prince Ward, and in that capacity showed a very active interest in the welfare of the city. He was a man of kindly disposition, and leaves a large circle of friends who will regret his untimely death.

Besides a widow, he leaves a family of two sons and three daughters. The funeral will take place from his late residence in Hampton this afternoon at three o'clock.

SHENANDOAH WAS FLOATED

Under own steam and assisted by eight tugs—Towed to Kennedy slip—Crib floated.

At 11.30 o'clock yesterday morning, the low water yesterday afternoon, the tug reached its highest point, viz., 26 feet 4 inches, the Furness liner Shenandoah was pulled off the Navy Island bar. The ship was under her own steam and there was also eight tugs at work. When she time came to give a pull it was seen that the big ship was moving. She moved about a length of herself and then appeared to ground again, but it was only for a short time when she again moved and was soon afloat and taken to Kennedy's slip in the rear of the Sugar Refinery.

At low water yesterday afternoon there was a fairly good view to be obtained of the ship as she was left high and dry out of the water. Her bottom on the port side forward was quite badly damaged and the water was pouring out of the damaged plates. It is expected, however, that repairs will soon be made so that the ship can be taken to the dry dock in Halifax. While under steam yesterday morning a long wire hawser became wrapped in the propeller shaft but can be easily removed as it is well out of water at low tide.

ARTILLERY MEN HOLD SPORTS

The artillery men on the island had a pleasant time Saturday afternoon when they carried out an interesting programme of sports.

The principal feature was a game of baseball between a team captained by Lieut. Ring, and a team with Gunner Connors as captain. Lieut. Ring's team won, the score being 4 to 3.

An exciting tug-of-war was pulled off between two teams captained by Bomb. F. G. Hunter, Q. M. Sergeant Pollock, Corp. Burnett and Bomb. Clark. Bomb. Hunter's team won.

The 100 yards dash was won by Gunner Crocker with Corporal Penny second. The broad jump was won by Gunner Crocker, and the potato race by Bomb. Hunter, with Gunner Reynolds second. The three-legged race was won by Gunners Grant and Ferguson, each, having a large margin. The prizes were presented by Archdeacon W. O. Raymond.

On Sunday Dr. Raymond visited the island and held divine service at the chapel. He also addressed the Y. M. C. A. will go to the island to entertain the soldiers with an athletic exhibition.
