HEADS

THAT ACHE AND PAIN

It is hard to drag along with a head that aches and pains all the time. In nine cases out of ten, persistent headaches are due to poisoned blood, the blood being rendered impure through some disarrangement of the stomach, liver or bowels, but no matter which organ is to blame the cause must be removed before permanent relief can be obtained.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

which has been on the market for the past forty-five years, removes the cause of the headache by starting the organs of elimination acting freely, and when the impurities are carried off from the system, purified blood circulates in the brain cells, and the aches and pains vanish.

Miss Clara Murphy, Centre Dummer, Ont., writes: "My system was greatly run down and my blood out of order. I suffered a great deal from severe pains in my head which made me feel very miserable. After having tried other remedies I purchased a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and was very glad to notice a decided improvement in my health. I took another bottle and it has done me an enormous amount of good. I have recommended it to some of my friends who were in a similar condition and they all say it is a wonderful remedy."

New York, March 17.—The Princess Patricia, of Afghanistan, rings on her fingers and supplies in her nose, will sail today for Bombay with her three sons, princes all, but she will not take with her the 44.15 carat diamond, the Darya Noor, or "Light of the Sea," because it is held in pledge for a debt.

The Princess was questioned yesterday by Major John Holley Clarke of the United States Attorney's office as to how the "Light of the Sea" valued at $125,000, got into this country without anybody knowing it. It was announced that no charge of smuggling will be made, but that when the stone is put up for sale to satisfy the debt it will be put into American commerce and will be subject to 30 per cent duty.

The $125,000 with which the Princess landed in San Francisco was used up a few months after the family arrived here and took a suite at the Waldorf. When her cash ran out she borrowed $25,000 on the diamond and when the money was not repaid the stone was attached.

BERLIN BOOSTS ANNUAL BUDGET BY $114,000,000

This for Increase of Salaries While People Are Demanding Economy.

Berlin, March 18.—The appointment of an economy dictator, or watchdog of the Treasury, demanded by the People's party as a condition of their assenting to the new programme of taxation, had not passed the stage of discussion and the Finance Ministers in Paris were still considering how much German revenue could be impounded for reparation purposes when the German Government decided to add $20,000,000,000 marks to the annual budget for increased salaries of Government officials and employees.

The additional pay for railway and postal employees who furnish a great part of the names on the Government payroll, will be supplied by new increases in freight, passenger and postal rates. The rest of the thirty billions will be added to the annual deficit, already estimated to run far beyond the 100,000,000,000-mark point.

The new wage scale which the Government in fairness was forced to consider owing to the steady rise in the cost of living, includes for the first time a special supplement for benefits. Each man is granted 1,000 marks annually for his wife's pin money. The principle of paying an employee additional compensation according to the number of his children is already generally accepted in both the public service and private industry in Germany. The new scale increases salaries 30 to 45 per cent.

International Loan Falls to Interest.

The proposed international loan for reparation purposes, which aside from arrangements for dividing reparation payments among the European claimants, seems to be the principal outcome of the Paris conference of ministers of finance, fails to interest German opinion in either financial or Government circles. It is pointed out here that the ministers had no need to meet to bring forth this scheme, all the essentials of which were already provided for by the London ultimatum last May, and reparation bonds were issued by Germany in this connection.

All that the financial experts need to do to float the proposed international loan is to find a market for 12,000,000,000 gold marks worth of first mortgage bonds—the so-called Series A certificates—already in the hands of the Reparation Commission and secured by a lien upon the customs revenues and 35 per cent of Germany's export taxes. The financial genius who can place a twelve to fourteen-billion-mark loan for Germany secured by customs revenues also can unload these bonds, which would become of little value if the customs were diverted to the service of the proposed loan.

German financiers, as is well known, take the stand that until reparation payments are lightened to a point where prospective furnishers of cash or credit see some prospect of the German State meeting its obligations, nobody in America, England or the neutral countries will be foolish enough to advance real money to the German Government, either as a loan or by the purchase of reparation bonds. The market in Germany, where it is thought the tax-free clause will induce war profiteers to invest liberally in reparation bonds, will be cramped for some time by the issue of the German forced loan, which, it is calculated, will absorb a large part of the liquid German capital and force big investors to sell securities to raise the necessary funds for the loan.

Berlin, March 16.—(By Associated Press.)—The floating debt of Germany on Feb. 28 was announced today as $27,220,000,000 marks.

The total debt of Germany on Feb. 10 amounted to $20,127,311,000 marks, which represented an increase of about $5,000,000,000 marks since Feb. 1.

The Potsdam court yesterday recognized political incompatibility as a ground for divorce. The case in which Herr von Tschirschny, a high military official, who declared his wife had developed radical tendencies since the revolution. Tschirschny claimed that his wife had been gradually turning to the Left, and he found it undesirable to live with a woman of such political complexion.
