SECTION II

ARTICLE 5 :

For any proceeding not specially provided for by the tariff, the fees and taxes are those fixed for analogous proceedings.

ARTICLE 6 :

In actions to account, the class of action is determined by the amount claimed as balance of account.

ARTICLE 7 :

In any action for eviction under the law governing lessors and lessees, in which there is no claim for rent or damages, the class of action is determined by the annual rental.

ARTICLE 8 :

In actions by way of capias ad respondendum for sums of less than $100, the fees and taxes are the same as in fourth class actions.

ARTICLE 9 :

In hypothecary actions or actions for seigniorial dues, or for registration of a workman's privilege, the amount claimed determines the class of action.
