

Michael Angelo was once asked to criticize some of Raphael's frescoing. He said nothing, but he took a crayon and drew a figure, the best he could, and then replied, "I criticize by example." May we rise to the same high level. "Let us have grace to serve God acceptably."

I appeal to the Christian people of Canada to think this matter over as in the presence of Him who has founded the home and from whom all true law emanates. Let us not forget that,

"The light that shines the farthest
Shines the brightest nearest home."

This is a very grave question, and contains more far-reaching issues than many realize. I will close with a quotation from the Canadian Courier:

"When the Canadian missionary goes to India, he is allowed to take with him his wife and children. The Canadian being a British subject has that right and privilege. When the Hindu comes to Canada he is not allowed to bring his wife and children. He is a British subject, and he may be a Christian, but these matters count for naught with the Canadian Government.

"The finest and best of the Hindus are the Sikhs. They are neither Moslems or Buddhists. They are brave and loyal subjects of the King-Emperor. Yet none of the 4,000 Sikhs in British Columbia and Alberta is allowed to bring over his family.

"If they went to Great Britain they could take their families with them. If they went to the United States they could take their wives and children with them. Canada, Christian Canada, refuses to give them this privilege. What do the men and women of Canada think of this situation? Shall this plea be made in vain?"
