BONNYCASTLE'S SHORTHORNS, COTSWOLDS AND BERKSHIRES.

The Shorthorn herd and flocks of Messrs. F. Bonycastle & Sons, Campbellford, were looked over by one of the FARMER'S ADVOCATE staff on a recent trip east and found in a healthy and vigorous condition. In Shorthorns the firm now have some 25 head, largely represented by the noted Anchovy family, with the stock boar, Redman, by Tofthill 11th, and descended from that worthy strain, the Canadian Duchess of Gloster, at the head. Redman has been favorably mentioned in former issues of the FARMER'S ADVOCATE, and from the advance he has made and the position to which he has attained, he is fully in a position to congratulate his owners upon their choice of a sire. He appears to suit the Anchovy family immensely; he possesses sufficient size and beefing qualifications, while they have excellence of quality and finish and are superior milkers. The cross is a highly desirable one. Among the matrons (twelve in number) we saw some really good and useful cows, the origin of which was bred by Mr. J. Mumford, Park Pale Farm, Brill House, England, and for their owners they have proven themselves highly satisfactory; Anchovy 5294, by Eighth Airdrie 1828 and out of imported Anchovy 2101, being still in the herd, and has rendered a good account of herself. Many of her females were shown us, and we state unhesitatingly that we have never felt better handlers in the same flesh. They possess a fineness in their skins that is seldom equalled. The recent demand has reduced the younger stock to a few choice calves—one a choice heifer out of Sunflower, the other a heifer out of Anchovy, both by Redman. The firm are very enthusiastic over the prospects for the Shorthorns, and during our visit (which was not short) we read a highly complimentary and flattering letter addressed to the firm by one of Canada's leading breeders, which is evidence to us of the esteem in which they and their herd are held.

The Cotswolds are also in good shape, 25 breeding ewes being carried over, all safely in lamb. An even bunch of seven strong ewe lambs were shown us, as well as a well-covered, strong stock ram, which was purchased from Mr. Garbutt, Claremont, Ont.

In Berkshires the firm now have seventeen head—the stock boar, four brood sows, and a choice bunch of youngsters. The stock boar, Harkwell, by King Lee and out of Best on Earth 4019, is an eighteen-months-old, well-developed animal, having a perfect markings, and is proving himself a very satisfactory sire. The matrons comprise such sows as Dolly 5263, by Bonny 3209 and out of Queen of Spades, a smooth, good sow, over a year old, and now carrying her third litter. Topsey, 5264, by Joe 3976 and out of Bonnie Lass 2681, should make a good matron. Her mother, by Royal Warrior 1204 and out of Dolly Varden 2277, although but five years old, is carrying her seventh litter, and as she has been very successful in rearing her former progeny she is regarded as one of the most valuable animals on the farm, producing her stock even in type and rearing them well. Eleven youngsters are all that remain from three litters, and they are a creditable lot, five of which are boars, being well marked and even in type. An unusually well-formed young sow, the out of Dolly Varden, was also shown us that much is expected of and judging from her size and quality we think her owners are not unreasonable in their expectations. Taking the entire establishment into consideration, and in the hands of careful and experienced men, we are sure they are bound to attract their share of attention as breeders.
